Inquiring Into Butter Prices

OTTAWA, April 11.—Prof. R. J. McFall, the Cost of Living Commissioner, leaves to-night for Toronto. There he will enquire into the causes for the rise in the prices of butter and margarine during the past few weeks, which has been the subject of protests received from Toronto. There has been considerable newspaper controversy here as well as in Toronto on the subject of butter prices. Some persons have contended that 65 cents a pound is an excessive price at this season of the year. Others have attributed the high prices of butter to a shortage in the quantity of the commodity in storage in Canada and the great demand for butter from foreign countries, some of which were formerly large exporters of butter.

Church Union Under Consideration

LONDON, April 11.—Dr. F. D. Meyer has been interviewed by the London Daily News with regard to his forthcoming visit to America as the representative of the National Free Church Council at the assembly of the American Free Churches. "It is impossible to state definitely what is contemplated by the conference at New York on May 6, 7, and 8," he declared. "But apparently a great movement is in progress which may link us up definitely with the American churches. Dr. Meyer thought that possibly other important issues were at stake in view of the dangers confronting the churches in America, especially in the Middle West, but these he did not wish to discuss. As at present arranged, Dr. Meyer will start for New York April 26.

Canada's War Expenditure

OTTAWA, April 11.—A resolution, upon which a bill be based providing for an appropriation of $350,000,000 to complete demobilization and to provide for post discharge pay, and "to promote Canadian trade and industry and transportation facilities therefore," passed the House of Commons today with little discussion.

The resolution was introduced by Sir Thomas White, who presented a detailed statement of Canada's war expenditure during the past four and a half years. Until March 31, 1919, the cost of the war had been $1,277,273,000. The cost last year was $347,000,000, and when the bills are all in will probably total $400,000,000.

The war expenditure by years since the outbreak of hostilities has been as follows:

|         |                |
|---------|----------------|
| 1914-15 | $60,750,000.  |
| 1915-16 | $166,000,000. |
| 1916-17 | $306,000,000. |
| 1917-18 | $343,000,000. |
| 1918-19 | $347,000,000. |

It was impossible to estimate the charge made by the Imperial government for maintenance of Canadian troops at the front. The original arrangement provided for a payment by the Dominion of six shillings per man per day. This covered all supplies and ammunitions. Later, it was found the huge use of ammunition required an increase to nine shillings and four pence per man. An arbitration on the subject was now in progress.

Sir Thomas estimated the war expense for this year at $296,696,614. Of this $91,000,000 will be spent overseas. The largest expense outside the militia, will be for the transportation of soldiers' dependents. This will cost the country three million dollars.

Sir Thomas reviewed the work which had been done by the Dominion in granting credits to foreign nations so as to develop Canadian trade. Loans had been made to Greece, Roumania and Belgium, and a credit had been offered to France. Owing to the exchange situation these countries were unable to buy directly in Canada, and the only method was by a system of credits. If Canada was not prepared to take this attitude, the business would all go to the United States. During the past year credits to the value of no less than $170,000,000. Outside of munitions the largest part of this was for farm products.

The opposition objected to this policy, particularly as to credits to Roumania, Belgium and Greece. S. W. Jacobs, of Jacques, Cartier, complained that these countries were on the verge of bankruptcy and that Canada had no security. He was supported in this view by Mr. I. Pedlow, of South Renfrew, and Mr. D. D. MacKenzie, opposition leader. Mr. MacKenzie described it as "a grave situation." He wanted security, cash in the bank. It was a system of commerce not to be lauded. Mr. MacKenzie was also suspicious of the system of allotting orders. He was afraid they were steered into certain factories, friends of the government.

Sir Thomas, after assuring Mr. MacKenzie that he had no worries as to Belgium's ability to pay and as to the absolute necessity of adopting this plan if Canada was going to sell any of her products either from the farm or from the factory, the finance minister declared emphatically that there was no partiality in allotting orders. He had not had a solitary complaint. If there was any favoritism he wished the opposition leader would let him know, as he did not propose to stand for that kind of business.

British Navy's War Additions

LONDON, April 10.—More than two million tons of shipping were added to the British navy during the war at a cost of between £25,000,000 and £30,000,000 according to a statement today by Sir E. H. W. Tennyson, Director of Naval Construction at the Admiralty.

Mutiny Among American Soldiers

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The war department issued tonight an official statement confirming associated press advices from Archangel that what amounted to a mutiny among the American troops there on March 30. A company of infantry, the message stated, refused to entrain for the front until personally urged to do so by Colonel George E. Stewart, commanding the American contingent. Open threats were made of general mutiny, unless a definite statement from Washington insuring early withdrawal was forthcoming.

The department has cabled for more information. From the message received today officials were unable to ascertain whether a condition of mutiny had in fact developed in the past ten days. Pending fuller advice, no comment was forth coming as to the course to be pursued.

The official reports makes the incident even more serious than the original press accounts. Intimation that a general feeling of unrest prevailed the entire force have come previously from General Ironsides, the British commander-in-chief. Both British and French troops have been involved, according to rumor, in similar incidents.

The despatch today did not show to what extent Bolshevik propagandists could be held responsible for the behaviour of the troops, nor has any information reached the department tending to show the extent to which the rebellious attitude may have spread through the whole American contingent.

"Your voice," said the captious musical director, "leaves much to be desired." "That's why I get so many encores," she replied.

President Wilson Returning Home

(Special to The Guardian.)

House to conclude and sign it. It is represented that his political supporters say his return is imperative owing to the political situation in the United States.
