They were sitting in the smoking room of the hotel, and the conversation was about endurance as shown by men of the past and present. During a lull in the conversation a young commercial traveller said: "Any man, if he has the will-power can endure pain or fatigue. I know I can." There was silence for a moment, and an older man replied: "I'll wager a dinner you can't hold your foot—long on—in a bucket of water as long as I can." The water was taken, and two buckets of hot water were brought in, as well as a kettle of boiling water to raise the temperature to the point of contentment. Soon the young man's endurance. In went a foot of each leg began to pale, but the other held for more boiling water. "What on earth is your leg made of, sir?" said the former, suddenly taking his foot from the bucket. "Cork, sir—cork!" was the cool answer, and the other felt that he was indeed lost. OF INTEREST TO WOMEN. Emerald green is often combined with white. Heavy as well as light laces are fashionable. Very low draperies characterize the newest skirts. Skirts are narrow and often with lashed effects. Every indication points to a strong revival of taffeta. The use of antique fringes is a new feature of fringe fashions. After black and white the popular color in millinery is royal purple. White satin and white taffeta skirts are worn with lace waists. Fur trimmings of all kinds are expected to be good for winter millinery. Supple silk heavier hats for fall are brown. They have very little trimming. White and black agettes and white and black ostrich are still very fashionable. There is absolutely no evidence of the long suit coat in the leading Parisian houses. Large flat-brim hats, with the brim folded or cut in wing effect, is a new feature. Silk suits are still in the front ranks. The changeable silk is now the thing. Complexion veils of white or tinted maline, with or without chemise dots, are worn.

DOCTOR ADVISED HOSPITAL

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio. "Three years ago I was married and went to housekeeping. I was not feeling well and could hardly drag myself along. I had such tired feelings, my back hurt, my sides ached, I had bladder trouble awfully bad, and I could not eat or sleep. I had headaches too, and became almost a nervous wreck. My doctor told me to go to a hospital. I did not like that idea very well, so when I saw your advertisement in a paper, I wrote to you for advice. I have done as you told me. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and now I have my health. If sick and ailing women would only know enough to take your medicine, they would get relief."—Mrs. BENJ. H. STANSBURY, Route 6, Box 18, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and should give everyone confidence. Puff and scallop trimmings on many of the dresses suggest the early Victorian styles. Silk and mousseline de soie gowns are trimmed with very tiny silk and satin buttons. Colored felt hats have around the crowns bands of ostrich plumes in contrasting colors. Combinations of black and white lace and of black and champagne are very much seen. Flounces of lace are placed on the newest afternoon gowns. They are placed quite flat. In jewelry, emeralds are much worn being perhaps the most popular of all colored stones.

The Food Value of a Quarter

HOW many "calories" did you absorb this morning? Depends on what you had for breakfast.

Calories are the energy producing units in food—and the more of them it contains, the more energy it gives you. Look at these youngsters and the figures beneath them. They show how many "calories" you get for a quarter in different foods. Note the relative positions of eggs, sirloin and oats. There you have it! A quarter's worth of rolled oats has 31 times the energy producing power of a quarter's worth of eggs—12 times that of a quarter's worth of sirloin. 1c worth of rolled oats produces more energy than 31c worth of eggs or 12c worth of sirloin. Have porridge for breakfast tomorrow! But get the right rolled oats. Tillson's Oats are the best and tastiest you can buy. Absolutely clean,—no black specks or hulls. Have a delicious flavor, result of the pan-dried process. Be sure to have a package of Tillson's Pan-dried Oats always on hand. And take a dish for breakfast every morning.
