Direct To The Consumer

So many last year approved of our system of supply direct from producer to consumer, that we have concluded to continue this sale again this summer, (commencing today July 9th). The reason so many have availed themselves of this opportunity is, the vegetables are strictly fresh, taken directly from our garden. Also the price is reasonable, we give full value for what you pay for, and as we save the delivery expense we pass this saving along to the consumer.
