FISH HATCHERIES.—Mr. J. A. Rodd, superintendent of fish culture for the department of marine and fisheries, of Ottawa, was a visitor in St. John, Monday. Mr. Rodd when interviewed said that he was on an inspection tour of the fish hatcheries in the maritime provinces and will be in Charlottetown in the near future. That would be the greatest year in the history of production in fish hatcheries in Canada was a statement made by the superintendent of fish culture. Those species of fish spawn which in commercial venacular might be termed staple, would show a greater production this season than ever before in the history of the department. In the matter of new species, experiments were being made on a limited scale and the indications were that these would prove successful. If this desire on the part of the department is realized, no doubt the next season will see activities along those particular lines greatly increased. Mr. Rodd is perhaps one of the greatest authorities on fish culture in all its branches in the North American continent today. He informed a representative of The St. John Telegraph that after the inspection of the fish hatcheries in this province he found them to be in a most satisfactory and flourishing condition. Mr. Rodd left Monday to continue his inspection tour in other parts of the maritime provinces. He is accompanied by Mrs. Rodd.

JULY 8 DATE OF PEACE CONFERENCE

Decision Reached at Meeting of Workmen's and Soldiers' Council
(By Wm. G. Shepherd, United Press Staff Correspondent.)
PETROGRAD. The Workmen's and Soldiers' Council today, named July 8th as the date for the Russian-Soviet peace conference. The formal call for the international meeting summons its purpose "to organize a world union to consider means to end war and eliminate imperialism."
News that the American government had refused passports to socialists to a Stockholm conference caused great disappointment here. President Woodrow Wilson and the Workmen's Council declared he was "dis-illusioned" by the refusal.
Labor troubles are increasing here. Today a general strike was ordered in all Petrograd factories because of the refusal of employers to accord a six hour day and equal wages to men and women. Demands of miners for a 200 per cent. increase in wages were also made public today. The miners received a ninety per cent. increase, granted by the Department of Commerce in March.

Situation Reviewed

LONDON.—A correspondent of the Times, who has been some weeks in Russia studying the situation, telegraphs an estimate of conditions which, however, he says, he gives with great reserve. Some of his statements follow:
"I have an impression that all the revolutionary forces are somehow languishing. Even the extremist followers of Lenin show little energy. This perhaps may be explained by the absolute decadence of Czarism which was so rotten that it simply fell by itself, without the possibility of resistance."
"It is remarkable how order has been preserved in Petrograd, although the police have been removed and replaced by the militia. In some cases expropriation occurred, but there was no strong anarchistic movements, as there was last year because Czarism is not there to foster anarchy as a means of provocation and partly because the war is operating as a strong check on the mind of the people."
"Since Czarism neither taught nor encouraged the people to work, the administration and organization of the new Government cannot be very efficient."
"The condition is not any organization of strong political individualism but rather the organization of parties. There is noticeable lack of unity. One minister speaks against other ministers and in various departments, even military departments, new men, who are thorough pacifists, are appointed."
"I have been from the first convinced that the strategic situation of the Allies demands the strengthening of France. If Joffre and Petain have asked for American soldiers, they have rightly gauged the situation. An American army in France is necessary for the energetic prosecution of the war, on the Western, Italian and Saloniki fronts and a firm determination not to accept a premature peace will influence the Russian army and people and induce them to follow."

Replies to Note

PETROGRAD.—It has been learned that the publication here of the rejoinder of the United States Government to Russia's note respecting the aims of the United States in the war is being deferred pending the receipt of similar replies from Great Britain, France and Italy.
A despatch from Petrograd May 3 said the Russian provisional Government had sent to the Russian representatives in the Entente Allied countries a note assuring the Allies that the change in the government of Russia could not afford a pretext for any slackening on the part of Russia in the common struggle for all the Entente Allies.

He is strongly in favor of conscription.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. MARGARET McPHEE.
There passed away at Earncliffe June 1st, 1917 an aged and respected resident, Mrs. Margaret MacPhee, widow of the late Mr. Martin MacPhee at the ripe age of eighty-three. She was a true Christian in word and deed. She was beloved by all who knew her. She was a member of Belfast Presbyterian Church for over fifty years, where she was laid to rest beside her husband and son. The funeral service was conducted at the home by her Pastor Dr. McEwen of Orwell Sunday 2 p. m. She leaves to mourn four sons, five daughters, eighteen grand children, six great grand children, one brother and one sister. Besides a large circle of friends and relations. The pall bearers were as follows: Messrs John O. Railway, Andrew McInnis, Robert McKinnon, Edward Morrissey, Truman Jenking and Daniel McIsaac.

LINDLEY FERGUSON.

The funeral of the late Lindley Ferguson took place from the old homestead Meadow Lea Farm, on the River, on Wednesday 6th June at the Geddie Memorial Cemetery. Service was conducted by Rev. G. Irvine and was very impressive. "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" a special favorite of the deceased was sung very touchingly by Miss Laura McEwen. Many beautiful flowers came with the remains from North Bay. Wreaths Miss Irene McKenney, Division 99, Order of Railway Telegraphers, Telegraph Department T. and N. O. Railway, W. J. Loisel, N. J. Sullivan and Miss Katie Coyne, Crescent Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Oldham and Spray from friends at Hotel Cecil. The deceased left home in 1906 going to Sudbury, Ont., where he was employed with the C. P. Ry. for about three years when he accepted a position with the T. and N. O. Railway as Linesman. Advancing rapidly he was soon made Inspector of Telephones and Telegraphs which position he held at the time of the sad accident which resulted in death being instantly killed at Boston Creek, June 1st at 12.45 p. m. by coming in contact with a high tension wire of the Cobalt Power Co. He was 35 years old being born Dec. 16th 1883.

MRS. GEORGE CAHILL

A very sad gloom overshadowed the community of Bedouque on Monday June 4th when Mrs. Cahill passed peacefully away to her eternal resting place in forty fourth year of her age. She was Eliza Jane Connick, only daughter of Michael Connick formerly of Carleton. Deceased had been in usual health until a few days previous to her death, when she was stricken with a severe attack of plural pneumonia and this accompanied with child birth proved to be an antagonist, and despite of all that loving care and the best medical skill could do death claimed her for its own. Mrs. Cahill will be greatly missed by her husband, and the six little children, whose ages range from the youngest to the eldest, three days to nineteen years respectively, to whom she was a kind and loving wife and a model mother. She possessed in a reasonable degree the qualities that distinguish a truly Christian woman. Her cheerful disposition and kindly interest in the welfare of old and young made her beloved by friends and neighbors and gained for her the esteem of a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Never was she known to speak an unkind or uncharitable word; but was always ready to sacrifice herself to perform a good work or act of charity for another. For the greater part of her life she devoted her energies as organist in the parish of Seven Mile Bay and thus rendering the services more becoming of their dignity. Her life was exemplary and truly a preparation for death which found her ready, having been prepared for the last end by the reception of the Sacraments and the last rites of the Holy Church administered by her pastor Rev. J. McDonald. Her funeral took place on Wednesday the sixth to Seven Mile Bay Church and was followed by a concourse of friends and neighbors to the number of seventy-five carriages. The Requiem Mass was sung by the pastor after which her remains were laid to rest. The services at the grave were conducted by the pastor assisted by Rev. A. J. McIntyre. The peace and tranquility of mind and spirit with which she passed away bespoke for her a happy eternity.

CO-OPERATIVE WOOL SELLING.

(Department of Agriculture.)
During the next two weeks the Dept. of Agriculture will be conducting the third annual co-operative wool sale of the province. The grading stations have been established at Charlottetown and Summerside. The wool to be graded after June 18 and 22 to be graded after.
The reasons why the sheep-breeder of the province should patronize such co-operative movements are many a few of which are as follows:—
1. Co-operative—Working—together—in a united, organized way has done much toward the satisfactory marketing of other farm products.
2. The wool will be placed on the market in the most satisfactory condition. It will be graded according to quality and the requirements of the manufacturer.
3. The manufacturer can pay more for graded wool than when all grades are sold in bulk. This means less expense for the manufacturers and more profit for the producer.
4. The best market can be secured when the quality and quantity are guaranteed, which means the best price. This is secured by selling by tender to the highest bidder among the manufacturers of the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, United States and elsewhere.
5. Large quantities of produce attract buyers and raise the price, particularly when the quality is assured.
6. Organized selling eliminates considerable expense which has to be borne by the producer.
7. The grading of wool is of educational value. When a man has an opportunity to see his wool graded it assists him in forming his plan for shearing and general care can be pointed out and studied. The wool is a prime factor indicating the quality of the strain of sheep kept. Density, length, crimp and quality should be combined in every fleece. Density and length indicate weight. Crimp is an indicator of quality.
The effect of open fleece is very marked, not only in weight but in the care given at time of shearing, the amount of dirt collected in feeding, etc. The effect of crossing breeds is also well demonstrated.
8. By gaining greater profit from the sale of his wool, a man has means and an incentive to improve his flock so that his income not only from wool, but from other sources may be large as possible.
