EFFECTIVE ADVERTISING. — Dr. Leo Frank's famous series of photographs portraying the P. E. Island fox industry, recently on exhibition in Bayer's Studio here, have found their way into practically every newspaper in the United States and Canada and have done more to advertise the fox industry probably than any other means taken to that end. Dr. Frank is receiving daily letters either by enquiry or of congratulations regarding these photographs. Yesterday he received one from Mr. J. Maxwell Murphy, son of Senator Murphy, congratulating him on "placing dear old Prince Edward Island on the map." Mr. Murphy is at present a resident of Chicago and is International Councillor for Canada in the Anti-War League of the World." He still keeps an eye on the interests of his native province and is patriotically pleased to see these interests advanced. In his letter to Dr. Frank he says in part: "Permit me to congratulate you on this astonishing piece of advertising. You are putting dear old Prince Edward Island all over the map." The style of advertising followed by Dr. Frank has certainly done much for the fox industry. He has spared neither pains nor money in his advertising campaign and deserves the thanks and the co-operation of all fox men for his great work.

FRIDAY

—THE HAY MARKET.—The hay market seems destined to suffer a setback in the near future. An enterprising business in that commodity has been carried on all winter at Kensington by Mr. H. R. Mouse who has been instrumental in lining the pockets of the farmers with top prices. But those who are overstacked with hay would act unwisely much longer to hold.Y

On March 2nd there passed from life to Eternity the soul of a true christian woman Mrs. Thomas E. Hogan of Fortune Cove in the seventy eight year of her age. The deceased for the past two years had been an invalid suffering from paralysis. She was Miss Caroline Simpson of Hope River and she and her husband who survives her passed their golden jubilee several years ago. She leaves to mourn three sons and three daughters. The sons are John R. at home, and Garfield and Sherridon of western Canada. The daughters are Mrs. Smith of Los Asgles, Mrs. McKinnon of Calgary, and Mrs. Arneas Whalen of Kildare, P. E. I. Her funeral took place on March 3rd to St Anthoneys Church, Bloomfield, where after the funeral mass her body was laid to rest. The services at the grave were conducted by Rev. F V. Gallant who visited her frequently during her long illness. The pall-bearers were John Rooney, Angus Mc Lennan, Maxim Wedge, Gilbert Gallant, Russell Maxfield, Andrew Gallant. —ST. PATRICK'S AT KENSINGTON.— The Feast of St. Patrick was celebrated at Kensington in a quiet but comprehensive manner. High Mass was celebrated in St. Mary's chapel by the pastor, Rev. Mr. D. J. Gillis, who preached a short and pointed sermon, demonstrating what the feast signifies. Music nicely appropriate was rendered by the choir which surely lent completeness to the celebration.

There was a fairly good attendance at the Heartz Memorial Hall last evening when an open meeting of the Brotherhood of the Methodist Church was held at which Miss McMahon, the Supervisor of Child Welfare in the public schools gave an interesting description of her work in the schools —its aims and objects, which was shown to be a peace time programme of Red Cross activity.

At the close a vote of thanks was moved by Dr. H. D. Johnston seconded by Mr. J. D. Seaman and unanimously tendered the speaker.

On motion of Mr. J. F. Whear seconded by Rev. G. W. F. Glendenning and supported by Judge Haszard a resolution was passed expressing approval of the work to be carried out by Miss McMahon and urging upon the government to give this work the fullest support.

Before the address a pleasing solo was rendered by Miss Bertha Carter.

The feast of Ireland's Patron Saint was duly honored yesterday in Charlottetown by the customary street parade of the members of the Benevolent Irish Society and the Ancient Order of Hibernians The weather in the morning proved fine and there was a good turnout,, the parade being headed by the League of the Cross band which discoursed the old time Irish airs in splendid style.

The procession proceeded to St. Dunstan's Cathedral where solemn High Mass was celebrated in the presence of a very large congregation. The celebrant for the occasion was Rev. Maurice Mc Donald, who was assisted by Rev. J. Rooney as sub-deacon.

The preacher for the occasion was His Lordship, Right Rev. Louis J. O'Leary, who took for his text the words:—"This is the Victory that Overcometh the World,—Our Faith"

His Lordship stated that on this occasion they were assembled to celebrate the Feast of Ireland's glorious saint. The first victory of the faith is the victory of St. Patrick himself, his conversion. Gazing at the mountains, the hills and the beauties of nature, he was imbued with the spirit of faith and learned to love God the more; armed with this faith he overcame the nation. Ireland's sons and daughters have kept that faith, through years of oppression; the faith that was handed down from fathers and mothers, unsullied and unchanged.

Before delivering his sermon His Lordship stated that St. Patrick's body was buried in Ireland but a small portion of one arm was taken to Rome. He went on to say that it was his good fortune while in Rome to secure a portion from the Vatican—a small bone from the arm which was exposed here today. It was the only relic of St. Patrick in Canada and there is only one other in existence that the speaker knew of, which was in Australia.

After mass, the parade reformed and marched through the principle streets, which were thronged with people.

The celebration concludod with a drama in the Prince Edward.

SHOWER AT NORTH TRYON. —One of the most delightful showers and social events of the season was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chisholm, North Tryon, on Friday evening, March 2nd, when upwards of eighty-five young people of North Tryon and adjacent communities assembled for the purpose of expressing in many beautiful and substantial ways their kindest regards, best wishes and good will to Miss Marjorie F. Chisholm, (eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chisholm), previous to her participation in a very important event in the very near future. During the general participation in a programme of interesting games and music which merrily wiled away the time into the "wee sma' hours", the Brida-elect and her pro-consort were escorted to seats before a heavily laded table of beautiful and costly gifts, and here the programme was delightfully interspersed by the presentation of the gifts of the young and popular young couple by a committee of young lady friends thereof, also by the mirth provoking rhymes which accompanied the gifts, as they were read by the honored recipients in turn. Following a bountiful and delightful repast provided by the ladies, and the singing of suitable old favorites which never die, the assembly departed feeling that social ties had been strengthened, and new links had been added to the "Golden chain of Friendship", which had brought pleasure and good will to all present, as well as to those whom were showered with beautiful tokens and expressions of best wishes for future happiness, as they begin life together as husband and wife at Brookdale Farm, Albany, at an early date.
