Farewell To Rev. and Mrs. Murray

Rev. Allister Murray and Mrs. Murray are leaving this morning for Montreal from which city Mr. Murray sails by the S. S. Duchess of Bedford on a holiday visit to England and Scotland.

you have faithfully served three widely scattered congregations. You have given cheer and comfort to the suffering, strength and faith to those who were to pass from earthly scenes.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Murray: We are gathered here to bid you God-speed and a safe voyage to the land of "the hereafter."

We realized that spiritual blessings and influences can not be measured by man, they extend to eternity, God alone can record them, but in order that we might show our esteem and appreciation for all that you have accomplished, we ask you to accept this gift.

From wandering on a foreign strand...

May God grant that you and your partner in life may return blessed with renewed health and strength to further the Kingdom of God in our midst.

Like the words of the inspired poet, we all have the same burning desire to return to our native land, and visit the cherished place of our childhood.

She had tried on pair after pair and found some fault with them all. With a pair of conservative black calfskin oxfords she viewed her trim feet in the mirror and sighed with disappointment.

As a pastor you have placed Christ in the centre of all your Christian activity. An unflinching faith in God's mercies and goodness and His unexcelled plan of Salvation was the key-note of your preaching, practice and conversation.

"It's the heels," she said, "they're so flat and low." They make me look so sensible.
