Crop Report

WINNIPEG, Man., July 28.—During the past week weather has been generally warm throughout the province, with scattered showers and some hail. Crops have reached a critical period and immediate rains would halt deterioration which is present. But despite varied conditions, a good average yield is expected, according to the weekly crop report of the department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways. The more northerly sections of the grain producing areas would appear to have the best prospects at the present time.
