The Treatment Usually

Accorded Boy's Clothing

is well represented in the picture above. Boys clothing must be built to stand just such wear and tear and strain. There are a few real good kinds—and lots of the other sort. Most any kind of boys clothing looks well until it's put to the test. After that you know whether it's a "Progress" Brand or only an imitation. It's foolish to take chances—because it costs money.

Yesterday afternoon the final game of league football series was played at the C. A. A. Grounds, between the Abegweit and the Victorias. The field was in a semi-liquid condition which rendered futile the star-plating feature; which firmer ground would have permitted. Toward the end of the game the surface of the field was in places inches deep with thin mud, and the players took a good deal of it away with them. The game resulted in a draw, although the playing was in favor of the Abegweits. The Abegweits are the winners of the trophy and the Provincial champions for this year.

A correspondent writes as follows to the Sydney, C. B. Record: I notice in the Morning News of this morning a writer setting forth an excuse for the tax on Prince Edward Island vessels, retailing produce here and cannot see how any man can justify himself in maintaining that tax to be just to the buyers, and especially the workmen on low wages and a large family. Compare prices as quoted by the paper. Sydney Potatoes..... 25c. Potatoes..... 60c. Turnips..... 15c. Turnips..... 30c. Cabbage..... 1 1/2c. Cabbage..... 3c. Oats..... 45c. Oats..... 80c. and other produce in proportion. If the people of Sydney put up with such an imposition as this, I say it is good enough for them.

On Friday evening Nov. 8th, Mrs. Paul Curtis, Victoria, gave a party in honor of Miss Aggie Clifton, who in a short time leaves for Bishop, California. Every pupil of the principal's department, of which Miss Clifton was also a pupil, was present. The young folks after thoroughly enjoying themselves all the evening assembled in the parlor and presented Miss Clifton with a flattering address. At the conclusion of the address Miss Clifton was presented with a beautiful handkerchief box and glove case. Miss Clifton was taken by surprise. In thanking her friends for kindness, she said that she had looked forward with sorrow to the time to say good-bye and that now by the very kind address and accompanying gift she realized that she was not the only one who was sad. The party broke up by singing "God be With You Till We Meet Again."

It is simply useless for correspondents to send The Guardian items of news unaccompanied by the names of the senders. In many cases neglect or forgetfulness is the reason the communications are unsigned. Nothing can be done however with these offerings except to consign them to the waste basket.

A Louisburg, N. S., despatch says: A very sad tragedy occurred during Thursday's heavy gale, when John DeFrees and his two sons, John and Simon were drowned in his small schooner, Kate, off St. Esprit, C. B. The father's body and one of the sons were washed ashore. The schooner was bound for Georgetown.

Owing to the enormous amount of time and expense necessary in book keeping and making out small accounts as well as mailing and collecting same, The Guardian has decided that in future all ordinary amounts under one dollar will be accepted on a cash in advance basis and ten per cent discount given, except to those who have a regular advertising account who will still have the privilege of monthly credit.

There passed peacefully away, at the home of her mother, Southport, on Oct. 31st Annie E. Burke, daughter of the late James Burke, in the 31st year of her age. The deceased was a young lady of exemplary character and amiable qualities and held the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends, who will be pained to hear of her death at so early an age. She leaves to mourn a widowed mother two sisters Emma and Ethel at home, six brothers, Arthur, Alton, Pope, Wilfrid, Ernest at home and Cecil in Innisfail, Alberta. The funeral took place on Sabbath Nov. 4th, the Rev. Mr. Chewan officiating. A large concourse of people followed in procession the remains to the Methodist cemetery at Clifton.—Com.
