There has been an absence of crowding at the St. John train shed, more cars appear to have been available than formerly, notwithstanding the Moncton fire, and the delays have been less frequent than formerly. The Prince Edward Islanders are especially pleased with the service between St. John and Shediac.

The death of John Harper, contractor of this city, which has not been expected for some days occurred early yesterday morning at the Prince Edward Island Hospital, and removed a man who was known and honored among a large circle of acquaintances. The deceased was 28 years old, and has lived a busy life in the community. He has been identified with many of the principal enterprises of the city and his death removes a figure that was familiar to most citizens. The fact that death would probably be a matter of only a few days did not deter him from courageously facing an operation which was undertaken in the hope of cure. But this latter hope was destined not to be fulfilled, and The Guardian in company with his many friends but voices the regret which is generally felt over his death. He leaves to mourn a widow, and the following sons and daughters:—George, at home, John in Boston; Arthur on the Prince Edward Island Railway, William, Roland and Charles at home, Mrs. Abraham Henry, Charlottetown; Mrs. Walter P. Hazard, M. P. Hogan, B. O'Callaghan and Henry Lowe.

It gave me new energy, force, vim. It brought me strength—made me well." Greatest tonic and re-builder ever known is Ferreroze. Sold everywhere in 50c boxes.
