FEEDING LAYING PULLETS.

Especially good results were obtained from alfalfa leaves in an experiment conducted at the Brandon Experimental Farm to determine the value of different supplements when fed in conjunction with the regular ration. Alfalfa leaves fed in an open rack kept before the pullets continuously, mangels split and fed fresh each day, and canner's meat cooked and mixed with the mash, were the supplements used. During the 62 days of the experiment the hens given alfalfa leaves laid an average of 26.9 eggs, as compared with an average of 22.9 laid by those given meat and 20.1 by those given mangels. The alfalfa leaves gave, therefore, the greatest profit over cost of feed, and in this test were shown to be worth 10.8 cents per pound as a winter feed for laying pullets.

GOOD PROSPECTS

"What's tickling Hickey so?"

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont.

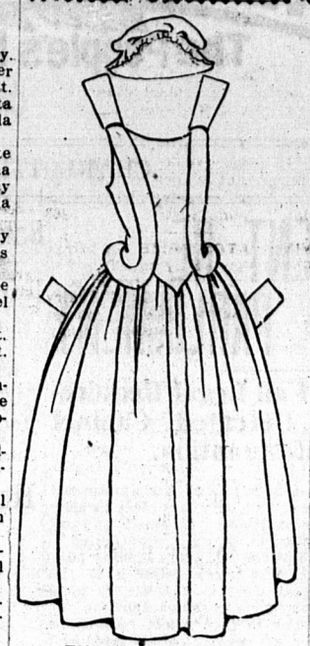
The French are artists at combining colors that are not ordinarily combined.

The little light blue dance frock of taffeta above furnishes an excellent example. Its petal points are bound in a deeper color. Instead of choosing a deeper blue, which would be pretty but conservative, the French have chosen cerise, which is dashing.

The little tot may wear such a frock as this to dancing school through the Fall months.

Little Two Eyes

COLOR CUT-OUTS



THE SISTERS' ENVY

This is one day's chapter of the famous story of "One Eye, Two Eyes and Three Eyes." If you cut out and color these dolls every day you will soon have a whole set of dolls with which to act out this fairy tale.

• • •

Then the sisters became very envious. "So she is better off than we are," they complained and, unable to control their jealousy they brought a large knife and killed the goat.

When Little Two Eyes saw this she was full of grief. She seated herself on a hillock and wept and wept. All at once the little, old woman stood before her again.

"Little Two Eyes, why do you cry?" she asked.

"Because my goat has been killed," wept little Two Eyes, "and now I must suffer hunger and thirst again."

(This dress of Little Three Eyes should be pink with a hat to match.)
