Funeral Of D. F. McNeill Yesterday

The funeral of the late D.F. McNeill, M.L.A. was held yesterday morning with solemn Requiem High Mass celebrated at St. Mary's Convent chapel Summerside at 10 o'clock by the pastor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. G.J. MacLellan assisted by Rev. Howard Wright as deacon and Rev. John Kelly as sub-deacon.

Mr. Francis Cameron was master of ceremonies Msgr. MacLellan also officiated at the grave.

The active pall bearers were as follows: J. E. Dalton, Stanley Desjardis, E. MacQuarrie, Roy Silliphant, George Harris and Leonard Goodwin.

The order of the funeral procession was as follows: Town Police, R.C.M.P., Knights of Columbus, Fire Department, Mayor and Council and Town Officials, members of the Writings and Sewage Commission, Senators and Members of Parliament, members of the Provincial Legislature, undertaker, clergy, pall bearers, flower car, hearse, family, friends, clergy.

The largest crowd seen at a funeral in Summerside in many years was in attendance and a large number were not able to gain admittance to the chapel and stood outside throughout the ceremony.

PERFECT MARRIAGE FOR DIVING COUPLE—NEW ORLEANS, La. Sept. 18.—(CP)—A code signal that "I love you" sounds a bit out of character in deep-sea salvage diving. But when an attractive brunette is one member of the diving pair, well, that's a barn-burner of another color.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Bailey are one of the few "two-in" teams in the diving business and their livelihood depends upon cooperation. The 24-year-old wife of the veteran diver assists her husband in all operations.

We had a perfectly happy married life," said Mrs. Bailey. "We have to," added Bailey. "When I am down in the deep on the other end of that air hose, my life is in her hands. I have to choose in the matter."

The Baileys have a code system all their own for underwater operations. One tug on the lines means "up" two fms—"down", three fms—"two" fms—"and four fms—"I love you."

FRESH AIR FOR HEALTH—Advantages of exercise in the fresh air are the subject of an announcement from the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. It quickens the flow of blood, stimulates deep breathing, and cultivates a healthy appetite. It is pointed out that the Department urges parents to get their children out into the fresh air whenever possible, to help build them up. Then, too, says the announcement, all who can avoid doing so should rather than take public conveyances to school or work. Crowded conditions of trams, buses and trains, favour spread of disease germs.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—(CP)—Prince Sakel Saravarn, Siam delegate to the international labor conference here said today that he plans to go to Ottawa shortly to study the organization of the R.C.M.P. "Your R.C.M.P.," he explained, "is world famous and we are anxious to set up a similar organization in Siam. I have been asked to investigate and make a report."

LONDON.—(CP)—More than 50 men and women queued for half an hour through a heavy shower waiting for a North Harrow pub to open.

TONIC OF SLEEP—Child and Maternal Hygiene authorities in the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, have issued a reminder to parents of the value and urgency of adequate sleep for children. Infants need long, uninterrupted sleep, to help build up brain and nervous system, and to compensate for tremendous expenditure of energy when awake they sleep. Lots of sleep is necessary, too, for children starting school, and for those who are nervous, thin or underweight. It is recommended that parents avoid undue excitement and institute routines in their homes.
