FUR SCARF HOLDS COLLAR ON COAT

New York—One designer, keeping his coat prices within range, shows his most important tweed coats with a collar held in place by a narrow fur scarf—mink, Persian lamb or squirrel—minus eyes and tails. This ties in a small bow either at the front or side, and is both economical and fetching. Coats with massed fullness in the back and a contour belt, often deeply yoked and designed with raglan sleeves, are seen as one of the popular tweed coat trends. Coats of sleek broadcloth with fitted bodices and skirt backs of precise box pleats, neatly belted, also catch the attention.

"THE NEW PACK IS AT YOUR GROCER'S"

"FRESH FROM THE GARDEN"

"CANADA'S MOST POPULAR HEALTH DRINK"

"AN EXCELLENT DIETARY SOURCE OF VITAMINS A AND C"

4 OUT OF 5 PREFER Libby's "Gentle Press" TOMATO JUICE

Recently 390 grocers made a consumer preference test in 390 grocery stores across Canada. In 81 stores Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice and the next most popular brand were offered at the same price. In four out of five instances, the shopper selected Libby's.

The reason for this outstanding preference is easy to understand. Libby's Tomato Juice is processed by Libby's patented "Gentle Press" method which extracts only the purest, sweetest juice from fancy, field-ripened tomatoes—tomatoes which are thin-skinned and heavy with juice, the result of 37 years of seed selection by Libby experts. It takes more tomatoes to fill a tin the "Gentle Press" Libby way, and you can taste the delectable difference.

Libby's has that smell-of-the-garden freshness because the juice is packed the same day the tomatoes are picked, and nothing is added except a little salt. If you've ever walked into a garden and enjoyed the sun-ripened goodness of the reddest, juiciest tomato on the vine, you know the unsurpassed flavour of Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice.

Your grocer has just received the 1949 pack of Libby's, fresh from the garden. Order your supply, and serve it regularly. Libby's is Canada's favourite health drink—economical, and as good as it is good for you.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK
If you don't agree that Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato products and Soup are the best you've ever tasted.

In 309 stores where distress merchandise—tomato juice reduced in price to clear—was displayed in competition with Libby's, 3 out of 5 shoppers preferred Libby's.
