(Canadian Press)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Jackie Keating, playing his second big league game, scored a goal in the third period tonight to give the New York Americans a 3 to 2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens. The victory put the Americans into a tie with their rivals for second place in the Canadian division of the National Hockey League.

After letting two goals slip through their defense in the first 1-2 minutes of play, the Americans staged a brilliant come-back and won out on Keating's brilliant shot which followed a rush clear around the net by Red Dutton, veteran defense star. It was a fast, hard game and the Americans seem-

ABBIES ARE FEELING FIT

A director of the Forum was in conversation with Mr. J. P. Simmonds, Manager of the Abbies on their mainland trip, at Fredericton last evening. Mr. Simmonds says the boys are all feeling fit and he believes they will put up a great game tonight.

They have arranged for a "sleeper" at Fredericton and will go on board about 11 o'clock. After the game, a shunter will take them to Newcastle where their car will be attached to the Maritime Express connecting at 3.30 a.m. Thursday and will arrive home Thursday night at 6.30.

squad to visit the lone trappers dug out shack beside Rat River since last December 31.

Johnson severely wounded Constable A. W. King when the officer tried to question him with regard to disturbed Indian trappings.

When an eight man posse tried to capture him two weeks after he had shot down King, Johnson kept them at a distance with a withering revolver fire from small loopholes in the walls of his cabin. He emerged victorious on that occasion after a 15 hour battle in which the Mounties used dynamite to blow the roof of his snowed-in shack and shattered his front door with explosives.

Johnson scored what was considered a temporary victory then only because the police posse ran short of supplies. They returned to Aklavik for food and additional ammunition, but left a strong guard to make certain the demented trapper would not escape.

In some manner, during the darkness that is perpetual at this season in the Arctic, Johnson slipped past his guards and set out over the snow-covered hills. Even his guards were unable to say what direction he took. When the police returned they marched into the sturdy little barricade that was Johnson's home and found as only traces of the missing man a substantial food supply.

Travelling by dog team, the Eames party left Aklavik January 16 and it is considered likely Johnson made his escape while they were musing the old Yukon trail to his home. The country surrounding the Rat River Cabin was searched for several days before Eames directed his men back to Aklavik. He left four men to continue the search.

Crystals Lose To Amherst 1-0

Amherst Ramblers defeated Summerside Crystals tonight 1-0 in the fastest and best game of the season. Both teams played exceptional hockey with play evenly divided. Many fans were disappointed in losing this game as it leaves the Crystals in third place, two points behind Sussex in the Central League. Both goalies showed good form. Eady stopping 22 to MacDonald's 30. Eady made a fine stop when he left his net in the first period to rob Doethe White of a seemingly sure count. Play opened fast in the first period with both teams skating hard. The Crystals lines of Monty, Schurman and Chick Gallant made several fine but ineffective rushes into Amherst territory. The Amherst line of V. Fraser, Dalton and MacKay seemed most effective in this period. Doethe White, Amherst, missed a fine chance to score when he circled the Crystal defence and shot from close in, giving Eady a difficult stop. When Cormier took a penalty for tripping Jackie Schurman, Amherst had some anxious moments but pulled through due to MacDonald's fine work in the net.

The second period opened slower than the first but play soon while the Parliamentary discussions are in progress. The Government, it is learned, is considering special steps to prevent any such forestalling.

Starting probably with a general tariff of 10 per cent the general idea, behind the scheme, it is understood, will be the eventual creation of a three-decker tariff on a basis similar to that of Canada, with general, intermediate and empire preference schedules, the latter to be worked out with the other Empire Governments in all probability. Wheat will not come under the general tariff scheme, for the Government is introducing its wheat quota bill giving domestic farmers a guaranteed share of the British market, with fixed prices at the earliest possible moment. Meat is also likely to be excluded.

During the Parliamentary debate the cabinet ministers dissenting from the tariffs—chiefly Sir Herbert Samuel, home secretary; Sir Donald MacLean, president of the board of education; and Sir Archibald Sinclair, secretary for Scotland—propose to state their position quite clearly and to vote against the bill. The intention on their part however, is not to engage in anything resembling warfare. Their attitude, it is intimated, will be guided by the thought they are colleagues in the national government. They will continue to participate in the cabinet discussions.

United States Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes was notified today that Japan had approved the appointment of Joseph C. Grew as his successor.

It was learned that Great Britain had sent Tokyo a note, presumably concerning Chinese extraterritoriality. The contents of the note were not divulged. It was assumed similar communications had been sent to Washington and Paris.

with beam of 24½ feet and 15 feet 9 inch draught. Her war complement is 70 men.

The M-2 has been a very popular ship in the British navy, having a reputation as a "fine diving boat." An unusual feature of her equipment is a watertight hangar designed to carry a seaplane. She is a sister ship of the M-1, which was lost in a collision in November, 1925, with a loss of 68 lives.

According to the latest navy list, the M-2, whose home port is Portsmouth, is commanded by Lieutenant Commander J. D. De M. Leathes.

GRAVE FEARS
LONDON, Jan. 26.—(A.P.)—The British Admiralty feared a disaster tonight in the disappearance of the submarine M-2 in the English Channel off Portland.

Officials said that while there was no reason to abandon hope, it would be idle to suggest there were not grounds for the gravest misgivings.

It was learned that the submarine was exercising about five miles west of Portland when she dived in 18 fathoms. It was pointed out in Admiralty quarters that the ship's wireless might have failed, but even in that case she should have returned to port long ago.

Sir Bolton Eyres Monsell, First Lord of the Admiralty, hurried to the Admiralty building when word of the submarine's disappearance was conveyed to him at his home.

SUBMARINE LOCATED
LONDON, Jan. 27. (Wednesday)—An object supposed to be the British submarine M-2 which failed to rise yesterday after exercises off Portland, was located on the bottom of the English Channel three miles west of Portland, the Admiralty announced early today. It lay on the sandy bottom in 17 fathoms of water. Salvage craft and divers were sent to the spot from Portsmouth.

REBELS SEIZE FOUR TOWNS
TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Jan. 26.—(A.P.)—Rebels have succeeded in seizing four towns in the Republic of Salvador and were attacking two others, dispatches from San Salvador said tonight. The towns reported to have fallen were Metapan, La Libertad, Sonsonate and Ahuachapam. Latest dispatches said the rebels were attacking San Miguel and Chalatenango.

The Salvadorean Minister here denied that the revolution had any connection with Communism. It was reported that a battle had been going on for two days in the vicinity of Sntana and that the result still remained uncertain. In the vicinity of San Salvador the Government forces were reported to have captured hundreds of prisoners, although sporadic fights still were going on.

WOLVERINES 6 MAROONS 4 KENTVILLE 1 BOSTON 3

(Canadian Press)
HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 26.—Flashing beautiful form, Halifax Wolverines piled up a 6 to 1 count on the Kentville Wildcats here tonight. The visitors relied too much on individual thrusts to be any effective threat to the locals, who played beautiful combination hockey. Gordon Kennedy and H. Marchant worked in Kentville's lone tally in the third period.

THE WORLD

before to secure universal agreement on the reduction of the naval, military and air forces of the world. The League (under whose auspices the conference is called) has always assumed indeed that this first conference is not to be regarded as an isolated event but as a vital stage in the continuous and progressive treatment of the problem.

And the conference meets amid world events more disturbing than they have been since the eve of the Great War. Everywhere nations are passing through a period of depression scarcely if ever before paralleled. Waves of intense nationalism sweep from country to country reflected in economic policies, in heavy expenditure on armaments. "At present," says Lord Robert Cecil, "the nations of Europe are spending some £520,000,000 a year on armaments." Growth of the Nazis in Germany, parades of Stahlhelms (steel helmets), arouse foreboding in France, resulting in French insistence on security first. Despite efforts of the League, the far east echoes the storms of Manchuria.

All states members of the League have, under the League covenant, assumed general obligations to reduce armaments. They are found in article 8 on the covenant which provides:

"The members of the League recognize that the maintenance of peace requires the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations. The council, taking account of the geographical situation and circumstances of each state, shall formulate plans for such reduction for the consideration and action of the several governments."

In Part V of the peace treaties, special armament limitations were imposed on Germany and her old allies of the war. The German army was limited to 100,000 effectives recruited on the basis of voluntary enlistment and long service. Conscription was abolished. Tanks and armoured cars were forbidden as well as guns and howitzers above a stated calibre. Trade in arms and war material was forbidden. Fortresses and fort-field works were abolished and prohibited in specified areas. Naval forces were limited. No warship was to exceed 7,000 tons. No submarine was allowed. Armed forces must not include any military or naval air forces nor any dirigibles.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will personally attend the world disarmament conference which opens at Geneva on Monday but he will not go there until perhaps the second week.

After the formal opening by the man, Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Secretary for Foreign Affairs in the former British Labor Government, the first business of the conference will be adoption of the League covenants, at which it is not

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 26.—After spotting the Montreal Maroons three goals in the first period, the Boston Bruins changed goalies and put on a great final drive tonight before bowing by a 4-3 margin.

Hookey Smith gave the Maroons a decided advantage in the opening session when he split the Boston defence three times before slashing over scoring assists to Baldy Northcott, Jimmy Ward and Babe Siebert. Ward registered the Maroon's fourth tally during the Bruin's furious rally in the third period.

The Bruins were helpless until late in the second when George Owen scored on a five-man rush, Cooney Welland and Marty Barry assisting. Eddie Shore ended another successful power play, on a pass from Dit Clapper and halfway through the third Barry forced the puck into the Montreal cage after Owen and Clapper had slapped the rubber from wall to wall before aiming it at the net.

Junior Hockey

The city of Charlottetown and other parts of the Maritime Provinces are following the example of the Central Provinces in the very important matter of promoting the development of juvenile hockey talent. With the desire to do for the whole province what prominent sporting enthusiasts are doing for Charlottetown, the directors of the Kensington Rink have decided to offer for competition among the schools of Prince Edward Island, (including those of Charlottetown), a trophy which will become the property of any team winning it three consecutive years.

Owing to the season being somewhat advanced, no general organization meeting will be held this year, but schools wishing to compete must forward their application, together with their playing roster, to the undersigned not later than Wednesday, February 3rd. The roster must contain a statement, signed by the principal, to the effect that all players named are attending the school.

An effort will be made to divide the teams entering into small age groups to reduce as much as possible the expenses of travelling. These groups may carry on their own organization work, and name their winners. The regular schedules for this season will probably have to be confined to home and home games.

A representative committee will be appointed in time to take charge of playdown games, which, with the exception of the final may be played where convenient. The final game for the possession of the trophy, however, must be played in Kensington Rink, N. MacDonald, Kensington.

DUDLEY, Mass., Jan. 26.—The West Dudley Paper Mills were damaged by fire yesterday at an estimated loss of $150,000. The entire stock and a huge electric turbine were destroyed.

considered necessary for Prime Minister MacDonald to be present. Great Britain will be represented from the outset, however.

It was also made known today that no date has been fixed for the projected conversations between Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Pierre Laval of France regarding reparations. It is understood negotiations between the British and French governments are still proceeding.
