PUBLIC NOTICE!

Bridge Across the Hillsborough

Owing to objections to the proposed location, delay has been caused in the work on the new Bridge

TENDERS

Will be asked some-time for constructing this bridge. We do not propose making tender, our line of BRIDGE WORK is confined to Teeth. Modern Dental Science has devised means by which decayed teeth or roots may be utilized and new sound teeth placed on them; it isn't necessary to wear cumbersome plates that too often are unserviceable or ill fitting. Dental Science overcomes this by BRIDGES, by which the gap between two or more teeth or roots is bridged over by Artificial Teeth, making them just as good in every way as your own natural teeth would be.

We would like to show you specimens of our Bridge Work, and illustrate to you the many advantages of it. We manufacture it ourselves and you don't have to loose any time in having it put in, and by making it ourselves, we are in a position to fully guarantee it in every way.

All work done in a painless pleasant way, and we are the acknowledged finest fitted Dental Establishment east of Boston, and equal to the best anywhere.

Call and see us. It is a pleasure to us to illustrate our Work and Methods.

Gigantic Strength of His Grip Upon His Men.

I suppose I have never been in the presence of a leader of men who has exercised such a complete and general sway over the hearts of his countrymen as does Field Marshal Lord Roberts—the "Bobs" and "Little Bobs" of his devoted warriors, have had no chance yet to analyze the source or secret of his power. I have thus far seen in him and heard of him only the demonstrations of his command over men—especially over their affections; and as for its source, he has thus far emphasized nothing but the most extraordinary kindness, gentleness, and sympathy.

He is very quiet in manner, very free and democratic with all who do not try to be too free with him, very broad in seeking and accepting information from all who can give it to him, no matter how humble or unpolished they may be.

He is enriched with such a striking face that his small stature does not count against him. He has a noble and what is called aristocratic face, such as might have belonged to a Marshal of France in the days when France possessed men and virtue. Though I have described him as gentle, he is strong in will and quick of judgment. At his very starting out on this expedition, which has driven the bird of victory from the Boer to the British standard, he was delayed by a wholly unexpected attack on his transport train of 240 buck-wagons and thousands of oxen, with this was practically all of the very little food he was able to carry after his rapidly moving army of 35,000 men, yet on the instant that he realized a necessity for despatching a large force, and the consequent weakening of his army, to save the train he ordered it abandoned.

A little later, when his army had made unparalleled marches on a biscuit per day per man, and when his horses were even less well supplied with forage, he ordered the burning of an immense supply of biscuits, compressed hay and oats at Paardeberg. It seemed incomprehensible—almost criminal—but he had no wagons to fetch the food along, and he said he did not propose to let it go to the Boers, who were even in greater need of supplies than his men. In these actions we see the gigantic strength of his grip upon his men, for though they are torn by hunger and spent with fatigue, not a Tommy in the ranks uttered a single word of complaint.

Methuen would have been damned by his troops and a Kitchener would have moved among a stifled chorus of complaint but whatever Lord Roberts does it is right and satisfactory to every British soldier. In fact his men consider whatever he does to be inspired. They are proud to endure whatever hardships he imposes on them, and where another general would be voted a brute for marching his men twenty miles in a day, Roberts can march them twice as far with a certainty that of every two Tommies in the ranks one will say, "Ain't he a man?" and the other will reply, "E is a man." Excepting George B. McClellan, we never had an American General with anything like this degree of popularity, and "Little Mac" did not manage to gold-plate his magnetism with success.—[Julian Ralph in Collier's Weekly.]

No matter which way you turn, you won't be able to turn a dollar that will bring you as much satisfaction and comfort as the one invested in Union Blend Tea.

Kipling's Autograph.

During Mr. Kipling's trip to South Africa he saw, as readers of The Herald are aware, considerable of the ambulance and hospital life, and, for the comfort of wounded Tommy Atkins, he signed his name upon a number of those curious silvery leaves called South African palm. Passing through a hospital ward, he noticed a convalescent soldier exhibiting the autographed leaf to a comrade. Mr. Kipling listened. "What, you got one, too?" exclaimed the other. "Why, he must 'a' stripped a bloomin' wood be this time."

Imitations

of Dodd's Kidney Pills are legion. The box is imitated, the outside coating and shape of the pills are imitated and the name—Dodd's Kidney Pills is imitated. Imitations are dangerous. The original is safe. Dodd's Kidney Pills have a reputation. Imitators have none or they wouldn't imitate. So they trade on the reputation of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Do not be deceived. There is only one DODD'S. Dodd's is the original. Dodd's is the name to be careful about—
