CAR ACCIDENT—At Saturday evening at 6 p. m. two cars collided at the corner of Queen Street and Kent Street. One of these was going north on Queen Street, and the other east on Kent Street at the time of the accident. The former was struck on the right running board, which was damaged, while the other car had its front bumper broken off. No one was injured.

AT ST. JAMES CHURCH—At St. James Church yesterday the annual Thanksgiving services were well attended and two excellent discourses were given by the minister Rev. W. Bruce Muir. The large choir under the leadership of Mr. Methven was in excellent voice and sang with much effectiveness the special hymns of thanksgiving. Stainer's beautiful anthem, "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land," was sung at the morning service, Miss Ina Muir taking the solo part. In the evening the anthem chosen was "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," Mauder, Mr. Lyster McInnis singing the solo.

FOXES FOR NORWAY—On Wednesday morning about 150 pairs of live silver foxes left the Island, destined to various places in the United States and Quebec, where they will be used for breeders. There are now being assembled at Summerside about 100 pairs of live silver foxes for shipment on Tuesday next by the steamer Expedition, which is sailing from Halifax, N. S., direct to Norway. In addition to these Messrs. Stammers and Erdal who have extensive fox ranches in the Bergen district, are shipping to Norway a number of selected pairs purchased in this locality to replenish their breeding stock. Also by the same steamer Messrs. Nordang and Erdal, who have made their headquarters at Summerside for the past six weeks, will accompany their purchases to about 100 pairs of live mink. All these animals are very fine specimens of Island bred stock and will be of great acquisition to the Norwegian fur ranching industry, which is now making big strides.

ZION CHURCH SERVICES—The usual services were held yesterday. There were good attendances at both units of worship. The minister chose very attractive themes for his discourses, which were delivered with clearness and vigour. "There shall be an handful of corn," Psalm 72:16, was the morning text. John 7:46, "Never man so spoke," supplied the topic for the evening service. A reception for the students who attended church, with the young people of Zion will be given this evening in the social hall at 8:30. The Christian Endeavor Society will furnish the lunch. The Thankoffering for the Presbyterian Church in Canada was received today. In the morning, the choir rendered the anthem "The Splendors of Thy Glory, Lord," by Woodward. The mixed quartette being sung by Miss Flo Campbell, Mrs. Walter Brown, Messrs J. McLeod and L. Nicholson. In the evening, the anthem "Praise Ye The Father" by Gudmund was sung.

Y. M. C. A. EVENING SERVICES OPENED LAST NIGHT—Dr. Zella Clark, one of P. E. Island's Missionaries, was the speaker of the evening and nearly 350 young people attended this first meeting of the season and listened with great interest to the story told by Dr. Clark. After a brief introduction, in which Miss Clark told her audience that she was a native of P. E. I. and had gone to some 23 years ago. The speaker took her audience on a journey to India, telling them of the route they would travel, of crossing the Atlantic and through the Mediterranean Sea to Port Said and through the Suez Canal and on up through the Red Sea, (which is the hottest part of our journey) to Calcutta or Bombay, and landing at Calcutta or Bombay, where by railroad inland to whatever point you are bound for. One of the first things that impress strangers there are the great temples. In one of these alone 200 goats are sacrificed to Indian Gods daily and thousands crawl on the floor through the blood of these sacrifices. There are many great Gods in India which are daily worshipped by millions. The Hindu Religion is one of fear and all the people from childhood up worship these Gods and the various idols in the temples. It seems that what they learn in childhood remains with them into adult life and death and thus it is that our missionaries have such a hard time to reach the adults with our Christian religion and have come now to center on the children. Dr. Clark read several excerpts from the Hindu Koran, showing many of these religious beliefs of sacrifices and almost murders were passed on to the people as a method of sacrifice. The caste system is still one of India's worst problems and there is about 300 castes or professions. These castes constitute a great barrier for education for the out-cast millions of whom cannot get hardly any education and how the Brahmin get into the schools and Colleges and train for the higher and other highly paid positions. The Marriage and Funeral services are a great drain on the people and are really the main cause of poverty. At the close of her address Dr. Clark sang a Hymn in Hindi. Chairman J. A. Clark, President of the Y. M. C. A., was in the chair and thanked the speaker for her wonderful talk. Mr. W. E. Bentley welcomed the students back to the Sunday Evening Services and hoped for the continued co-operation from the students. Mr. Edwin White led the meeting in prayer and Rev. M. Scott Fulton dismissed the meeting with the Benediction.

Late Mrs. D. Macdonald

Only two days ago The Guardian recorded the death of Mr. Donald Macdonald of Wheatley River at the age of eighty-eight. Today it is with a sense of surprise that we learn of the death of his only child who occurred early Saturday morning. Previous to the death of her husband Mrs. Macdonald was seriously ill, but latterly she had recovered and hopes were gained that notwithstanding her advanced age she would regain a fair measure of health. The death of her husband an illness of only two hours was a great shock for her and she succumbed after several days of weakness and weariness. Mrs. Macdonald was a daughter of the late Captain Alexander Macdonald of Belfast. She was a graduate of Prince of Wales College and in her younger years she was a lady of great ordinary intelligence, a devoted wife and mother, and beloved by all who knew her. The exception of the last few years which with her husband were spent with their son, Major D. A. Macdonald, at his home in Charlottetown, they spent their fifty-eight years of married life in their comfortable farm home at Wheatley River. Here they reared their family and built up one of the finest properties in the community. They shared their joys and sorrows and they were not without their children. During their early married life four children died of diphtheria within a month of each other. Their eldest son Malcolm was killed in Massachusetts when seventeen years of age. During the Great War a beloved daughter, Agnes, who had just graduated as a trained nurse and had volunteered for service in the War, was fatally drowned while canoeing on the lake in Rhode Island. Thus the three passed in sunshine and shadow until they reached the end of their earthly journey, almost together.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT TRINITY

Friends, old and new, of Trinity United Church gathered in large numbers yesterday to celebrate with fitting exercises of public worship the anniversary of the opening of the building which for sixty-four years has housed their Sunday services as a Methodist circuit and a United Church pastoral charge. Rev. W. M. Ryan, B. A., of St. John, N. B., who was the well beloved pastor of the congregation for five years, preached both morning and evening. At the morning service Rev. Dr. Ramsay assisted and introduced the preacher. Rev. Mr. Ryan expressed his pleasure at being present, and his great regard for Trinity United Church. His sermon was based on the story of the spies sent out by the Israelites to view the promised land, and the report they made. "Caleb stilled the people and said: Let us go up at once and possess it; for we are well able to take it," but the majority were frightened by the walled cities, and the giant stature of the inhabitants. And so the vision never became for that generation a reality. They turned back, and wandered in the wilderness for thirty-eight years. They entered not in because of their unbelief. The story may be regarded as a parable. The report was one they might have expected. Of course there were difficulties. All the prizes of life are at the top of the ladder, behind closed doors. All the great things of life come through struggle and endurance, sacrifice. Our civil liberties, our religious freedom, our achievements. They were won by our effort and sacrifice. And as individuals we must fight if we would reign. The same is true of the church of God. A great task confronts our church—that of making our own land Christian and of making Jesus Christ known to the world around. It is a goodly land, an adventure worthy of the best. Let us be strong and of a good courage; let us go up at once and possess it. Caleb and Joshua were going forward; but the other ten said no. Here we see the courage of faith and the cowardice of unbelief. They all saw the same things. The two believed God; the ten left God out of the reckoning. Do we stand with the heroes of the faith or the pessimists of unbelief? Let us be men of faith and vision. Let the whole life advance. We are well able to overcome. In the evening Rev. Mr. Ryan addressed another ringing call to optimism and faith to a congregation that occupied every seat in the large auditorium. Rev. H. Johnson took part in the opening exercises and again expressed the happiness of the people in hearing once more the most beloved of their former ministers. Rev. Mr. Ryan's text was "The people said that it thundered, but some said an angel spake to him." The principle of the text is that what we see and hear depends on what is within us. The world is what we see in it and do with it. We were spiritually minded enough to recognize the voice of God; to others the heavenly voice had no significance—it thundered. It is attention that makes the difference between seeing and looking, between hearing and listening; and that is what we look at and listen to that determines what we see and hear. We may choose to look up and not down. If we say to the world "make us noble" it makes us noble; if we say "make us mean" it makes us mean. "A man may dispose himself in opposition to his disposition." Every Christian man is under obligation to get the Christian viewpoint. He has no right to live only where he hears the thunder. It is his duty to look out with the eyes of the optimistic and believe in the ultimate triumph of truth. All the great heroes of history have been, like Jesus, men of wider vision. They saw the soul of goodness in things evil. Let us have faith in God, in ourselves, in the future. We cannot fail. The music at both services was especially fine. Many of the grand old

MARITIMES ARE BECOMING KNOWN FAR AND WIDE

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 17—Australia is a far cry from the Maritime Provinces but it would seem that the fame of their beauties and other attractions has recently been reaching the Canadian National Railway offices in Moncton, a request for information with regard to these Provinces. The request was in the form of a postal card from Vienna, Austria, asking for some of the booklets prepared by the Canadian National Railways describing the Maritimes, and was in response to an advertisement of the Railways outlining the beauties and attractions of these provinces.

THE LATE MR. HENRY C. HOOPER

His many friends were grieved to learn of the death at 6:30 p. m. Saturday at his residence on Fitzroy Street of Henry C. Hooper in the sixty-third year of his age. The late Mr. Hooper was born in Milton in 1865, the son of Thomas Hooper and Anne Younker. When he was nine years of age, his parents came to this city, where he learned the trade of carriage painter with Ofter and Younker; afterwards going into business on his own account, in which he continued until the year 1901, when he took a position in the I. C. R. paint shop, Charlottetown. Here he continued, until less than two years ago when, owing to ill health he was forced to leave his work for a time in order to undergo a serious operation. His recovery seemed so complete and he felt so well that, notwithstanding the wishes of his family, he went back to work again. Shortly after returning to his employment, his illness once more took a severe turn, and he was compelled to stop working, but was able to go about a little until shortly after the last exhibition, when he was confined to his bed, where he suffered considerably. At the railway Mr. Hooper, who was most highly thought of by his fellow employees, was always known as a conscientious and skillful workman. He was an ardent horseman from his boyhood days, and it is not too much to say that he loved horses, and they loved him. For over thirty years he has been a familiar figure at the race tracks, and until three years ago was an occupant of the sulky. His skill in training and balancing horses, and his ability in driving them was noted, and as a result he won many races and brought out many good horses. Among the many horses he raced, the following will be recalled: Cricket, Bronze Chief, Parker L. Tom, Wild Lily, Joe Murphy, Silver Tom, and the renowned campaigner Even.
