

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1911. A WORD OF WARNING.

Are Canadians following the example of the people of the United States and becoming, asks the Toronto World, financially reckless and extravagant? There are a good many signs that the town-dwellers at all events are not nearly so thrifty as they were a few years ago.

who were satisfied a few years ago with short trips by land or water to local points of interest.

The matter is attracting the attention of the country's bankers. President D. R. Wilkie of the Imperial Bank is the latest authority to utter a word of warning. He says: "The success and wealth which have followed upon the expenditure of immense sums of borrowed money, of money made in honest toil, and in real estate, has introduced a period of extravagance by way of personal expenditure that is unparalleled in the history of the country, and may yet occasion disaster to many. It is true, however, that business failures are few. Luxuries of every description, motor cars and foreign travel, are now indulged in by thousands too valuable to throw over."

It is possible that some of the luxuries of which Mr. Wilkie speaks may be purchased with the money formerly spent on others. Dress-makers, for example, complain that since the motor car came in their customers buy much less elaborate costumes. There is a steady falling off in the use of liquor in Canada, the consumption per head being far below that in Great Britain and most other English-speaking countries. It is just possible that the Dominion saves the six or seven millions a year going into motor cars out of the former drink bill. Foreign travel is something we hope will increase year by year. It broadens the outlook and the sympathies as nothing else can. The fad of building huge houses is not likely to last. The scarcity of domestic servants makes the house more a slave to her "palatial residence." The era of simplicity in the home will return when the home is no longer regarded as an outward and visible sign of the wealth and social position of the family occupying it.

There is no immediate danger of a financial collapse in this country, but it would be well to heed the warning voices of men like Mr. Wilkie. The good, old-fashioned virtue of thrift is are now indulged in by thousands too valuable to throw over.

ANCIENT OF ARTS, BREAD-MAKING—MOST

The housekeepers of America to-day make seventy per cent of all the bread, yet the remaining thirty per cent, made by the bakers involves a capitalization of over two hundred and seventy millions of dollars. Any hint, then, that we can discover of the present-day status of the art of bread making is of importance and of interest. The first known making of bread refers back to the prehistoric lake-dwellings of Europe, where here have been discovered the grains of barley, oats, rye and wheat, together with the charred remains of ovens of baked bread and the rude stone rain-crushers and meal-stones. It is true that these pellets of wheat and barley are but humble representatives of the highly-bred grains that now glorify the farmer's field, and it is true, too, that the loaves were for the most part of crushed grains, not true meal, and obviously made by being laid on the hot stones and covered over by glowing ashes. Just, in act, as the muleteers of Syria to-day make their unleavened cakes; but it was bread.

Since in Eastern countries a mixture of meal and water will begin to ferment in the course of a day, the value of leavened bread must inevitably have been discovered prior to civilization. We all remember the story of the fight of the Israelites out of Egypt, how "the people took their dough before it was leavened, their kneading-troughs being bound up in their clothes upon their shoulders." (Exodus xii. : 34); leavened bread—i.e., bread as we know it—must at that time have been universal. Early, too, must have been the specialization of the art of baking; first, doubtless, in the largest households, witness the interesting story of that most unfortunate chief baker in Genesis xl., and afterward, as the reader may readily find, into a definitely segregated trade, as in Hosea vii.—Harper's Magazine.

IS THE CHURCH A HUMBUG

Is there not something ungenerous in the characterization of the Church of to-day by the correspondent of the Montreal Witness, who epitomizes the church's appeal to men in the words: "Come and join us and help us to keep things going and we will make few demands upon you—except 'financial ones.' He specifies that it makes no moral demands any more than dogmatic ones. Last week he quarrelled with the Church for making demands upon men that stultified their reason. Now he says that though it holds those stultifying beliefs, not specified, it abnegates them as long as men will pay money to support it. Is this fair to a body which is wholly devoted to bringing about 'the Kingdom of God.' Were we not truer to the deeper facts when we said in the note on his former letter to which our correspondent refers: 'What is preached is the need of a vital connection with God through Christ, and a fulfillment of the Christ ideal in the life', and is this not startlingly different from the sordid motives he imputes, and the slavery or tradition he alleges. It is a little singular that, after having given place to a continuous stream of denunciation and anathema against the schools of theology in all the churches for rationalistic departures from what has been believed through all the Christian ages, we should now have the same churches pilloried for their bondage to dogma. How easy it is to denounce and how easy it is to sneer! Here we have bodies of men seeking the truth and devoted to the 'Kingdom of Heaven,' some men clinging to the creeds of the fathers, some questioning the foundations of those beliefs, but all of them enthusiastic believers in man's need of God, and in Jesus Christ as the way to God, all of them regarding the Church as the bringer in of the Kingdom, and serving it to that end, while our correspondent excuses himself for not falling in and helping in the greatest service and purpose open to man by contradictory disparagements of those who are doing it.

A CORONATION ODE.

God bless and save our noble King, Let all the nation gladly sing; Long may our noble monarch reign, And honors for the empire gain.

God bless and save our noble Queen, Long may she in her place be seen; And heir apparent to the throne Be Prince whom God will bless and own.

May our King reign in righteousness, And wield his sceptre with success; His will be as the light of day, When shines the sun in month of May.

May God protect him from above The people homage yield and love; And all the nation gladly sing God bless and save our noble King. REV. D. MACLEAN, 225 Sidney St., Charlottetown, P. E. I.

THE PUBLIC BENEFITED

Charlottetown People Greatly Interested in the Generous Offer of the Mackinnon Drug Co.

The people have already demonstrated that they would rather trust a man who is naturally honest, than one who was honest only because he had to be.

The MacKinnon Drug Co. have a firmly established reputation for square dealing and sterling honesty. When they told the people that Rexall Remedies are the purest and most dependable remedies that it is possible for modern science to produce, and that they would tell the public exactly what each one of these 300 remedies contained, and that they sold Rexall Remedies on their own personal guarantee that they would give entire satisfaction or the medicine would not cost the user a single cent, they were met with a response that has made this announcement the store of the MacKinnon Drug Co. has been crowded by people buying Rexall Remedies; all of which proves that the confidence of the people and that honesty is the best policy.

There is no "cure-all" among the Rexall Remedies,—there are 300 different and separate medicines; one for each human ill, and each unquestionably the best of its kind. Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are particularly recommended for the positive cure of stomach irritation, indigestion and dyspepsia. They are rich in Bismuth, Subnitrate Pepsin and Carminatives, and are prepared by a special process which perfects and enhances the great curative value of these well-known medicinal agents. This remedy sells for 25c. a package. Everyone suffering from a stomach disorder should try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, inasmuch as they cost nothing if they do not satisfy.

The MacKinnon Drug Co. are certainly fortunate in securing control of the sale of these remedies and we urge everyone in need of medicine to investigate and take advantage of their frank and generous offer.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to the hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color. One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

See About that Memorial Stone

You should see about that grave to-day. You should have it suitably marked and well cared for; not alone for the credit and satisfaction it will bring home to you, not alone for your respect and love for the dead; but because this is the season for decorating and for visiting the graves in God's Acre, and if your departed's last resting place is not suitably marked, it will be noticed and adversely criticised.

Let us help you. Our memorial stones are excellent; the work superior; our terms reasonable. Call or write.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

Not One Woman In Twenty Has a Stong Back.

The kidneys are to blame nine times out of ten.

When the blood isn't properly filtered the poisons that ought to be carried off by the kidneys are sent back through the system, and it's hardly to be wondered that backaches and lame backs come to make life miserable.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by expelling all the poisonous matter from the kidneys, and then heal the delicate membranes and make their action regular and natural.

Mrs. A. H. Hutton, Jn., McCreary, Man., writes: "Two years ago last spring I had a very severe pain in the small of my back. When I would rise it seemed as if my back would break. My kidneys were very badly out of order, and I would have to get up three or four times during the night. I took one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they effected a cure."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. If ordering direct specify "Doan's."
