A large body of Girl Guides with their leaders occupied a section of the auditorium, and the congregation was representative of all the Protestant churches.

SUMMERSIDE SERVICES

Remembrance Day ceremony at the monument was celebrated quietly in Summerside with church services and a simple ceremony at the monument in which the members of the Summerside Canadian Legion, the first and second troops of Boy Scouts first Wolf Cub Pack and the school children and their teachers took part.

The school children in charge of Mr. C. B. Jelly, principal, and the teachers, assembled at the High School and marched from there to the square arriving at the same time as the parade from the armory. Standing in a circle round the monument the children sang "O Canada" and "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

In spite of the bitter cold a number of citizens joined in the simple ceremony of remembrance to those who died in the Great War that the citizens of Canada might still enjoy the wonderful heritage left them by their forefathers.

PLACING OF WREATHS

The wreaths were placed as follows: Legion wreath by the President Comrade R. E. Ellis, I.O.D.E. wreath by the Vice President Mrs. L. A. Moore; Town wreath by the Town Clerk, Mr. Neil Durant; wreath from school children, Thomas White; wreath from Scouts and Cubs, Patrol Leader Graham Crosby.

A meeting of the Legion was held in the armory after the ceremony when an appeal was made for funds for the Dominion convention of the Legion which is to be held at Ottawa shortly after Parliament opens. Over sixty dollars was subscribed on the spot. Several members spoke on the growing indifference of the general public to the need of a vast majority of returned men and many felt that they had as big a battle to fight as in 1916.

CHURCH SERVICES

Remembrance Day services were held in St. Mary's, St. Paul's and Trinity United Churches.

In St. Mary's Church a solemn celebration of Holy Communion was observed the celebrant being Ven. Archdeacon White, D. D. This service was preceded by special prayers and supplications for our fallen heroes. The hymns were taken from those specially dedicated to the saints days and festivals of martyrs. At the close Rudyard Kipling's Recessional, "Lest We Forget," was sung.

In St. Paul's Church a solemn High Mass of Requiem was observed for those of St. Paul's Parish who had paid the supreme sacrifice. The celebrant was Rev. Bennett McDonald. The men's choir sang the responses to the Mass.

The congregations of the Presbyterian United Church, Church of Christ and Baptist Churches held a united service in Trinity United Church. Rev. Carlyle Waterworth was the speaker. Prayers were offered by Rev. L. B. Campbell and Rev. J. B. Wilson.

Special services of remembrance were held yesterday in the Presbyterian and United Churches for those of the congregation who had died in the Great War.

BELFAST SERVICES

At the Presbyterian Church, Belfast, Remembrance Day service was held on Saturday morning, eloquent addresses being delivered by Rev. T. R. Skinner and Rev. D. L. Griffiths. Rev. Mr. Griffiths led in prayer, and the hymns "O Bless our Fatherland" and "Recessional" were sung. Following this inspiring service, members of the Legion paraded to the monument, where the two minutes silence, preceded and followed by a bugle call, was observed. A large concourse of citizens was present. Major T. E.

MacNutt, Charlottetown, addressed the gathering, after which the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" was sung, and "Last Post" and "Reveille" sounded by Bugler Whiston Smith. Wreaths of poppies were placed at the monument by many present. Following is the text of the address delivered by Major MacNutt:

Reverend Clergy, Comrades, Ladies and Gentlemen, Boys and Girls, in so historic and sacred a place one not only feels the honour but also the responsibility of being called on to respond to the two minutes silence in memory of the million men of the Empire who laid down their lives during the Great War. Of this number over 60,000 Canadians paid the supreme sacrifice and this little Province, yes this district, gave their full quota.

Today at this hour all over the world wherever the Union Jack flies similar services are being held in their memory and let us never forget that, as the sun never sets on the Union Jack, neither does it set on the cemeteries containing our Empire war dead.

When one looks at this splendid memorial one naturally thinks of the sacrifices made in this locality and also of those whose names are inscribed thereon. Some of these men I know personally and one at least we laid to rest in that beautiful cemetery surrounding the old Shorncliffe Church. These young men left home and dear ones at the call of duty in defence of the honour and safety of the Empire and to defend the rights of other nations, and the freedom of the world, and our thoughts of them today can best be expressed in these beautiful lines:—

"They shall grow not old As we that are left grow old; Age shall not weary them Nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun And in the morning We will remember them.

Today a whole Empire mourns and honours them, from the Cenotaph in London to the outposts of the Empire. Today wreaths are being placed on the tomb of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey on which the following is inscribed in honour of the Empire war dead:

The Unknown Warrior, The Lord knoweth them that are His. Unknown yet well known, dying and behold we live. Greater love hath no man than this. Beneath this stone rests the body Of a British warrior Unknown by name or rank Brought from France to lie among The most illustrious of the land And buried here on Armistice Day, 11 November, 1920, in the presence of His Majesty King George V, His Ministers of State, The Chief of his Forces And a vast concourse of the Nation.

Thus were commemorated the many Multitudes who during the Great War of 1914-1918 gave the most that Man can give, Life itself. For God For King and Country, For loved ones, Home and Empire, For the sacred cause of justice and The freedom of the World.

They buried him among the Kings because he Had done good towards God and toward His House.

In Christ shall all be made alive.

Today in this historic and sacred place we recall especially the names of those of this district who fell, in loving memory and honour and express the hope and prayer that God Almighty will give them, and all of every nation who fell, rest and peace in that Place not made with hands, Eternal in the Heavens. Comrades, what more could we say of our dead? What of today? What of those who have returned? We have received no monetary reward for our war service, but rather for the most part we are hewers of wood and carriers of water, yet we have a far greater reward in the knowledge that we have performed a great duty to our Country in a time of crisis.

Today in another great crisis we have also a duty to perform. We through our training can be steady and patient in times of strain and stress such as the present.

We can raise our voices and use our best efforts in helping to bring about better conditions within our Province, our Dominion, our Empire and the world at large. Let us urge purchase of Empire goods and the placing of Country's interest before party politics.

In this crisis we must help to teach the youth of the land the spirit of the trenches, comradeship, discipline and playing the game, also love of country, of home and family life.

These are some of the basic characteristics of our race, which combined with the bull-dog determination never to acknowledge defeat, enabled our fathers to defeat Napoleon over a century ago, and win and colonize over a quarter of the globe and made our Empire arms the spear-head and backbone of the allied forces in the late Great War.

This same spirit can and will carry through the economic blizzard of today.

Let us be careful to pass on this spirit to those who follow.

Let us be true to the constitution of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, which as His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales says is the biggest British institution that exists, and which is to be found everywhere the Union Jack flies. Briefly this is:—

Loyalty to King and Empire. The maintenance of the foundation principles of the British constitution. Ordered government. The unity and development of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Peace and good-will amongst all nations, but demand adequate defence forces for the defence of Canada and the discharge of our Empire obligations.

Keeping alive the memory of those who fell as we are today, and the care of their widows and dependents and the disabled.

I appeal to all returned men to join the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, which is a mighty federation of all who fought for our Empire. It is non-sectarian and non-political, and must ever strive to watch over the interests of and defend the rights of all returned men and their dependents, but we must never forget that in giving our services to the Empire we performed nothing more than our simple duty as free men and that today all our demands on the government for pensions and like matters must be just, sane and reasonable.

In closing my comrades and friends let me say, we must at all times and especially on such occasions as this, renew our determination to strive for the greater unity and development of our Empire, and pass it on to those who follow greater and stronger than we received it.

For this Empire and to this end, these your sons, whose names are inscribed hereon, gave their lives and are translated from the warfare of this world into the peace of God, and their names liveth forevermore.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

THE BAPTIST CHURCH THE SALVATION ARMY

At the morning service which was broadcast by station C. H. C. K., the Rev. A. C. Vincent, D. D., after referring to Remembrance Day and the memories that cluster round it, delivered an eloquent sermon on "The Christian Warfare".

Taking as his text Ephesians 6, 13, "wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand." Life was pictured as a constant, unremitting warfare. Earnest appeal was made that the challenge of the great apostle be accepted and his ideal of vigilant, ceaseless battle against sin should animate the whole great Church of God.

The music of the morning included "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go" (Mason) in Shanks' setting as well as a most impressively rendered solo by Mr. R. D. Quigley of O'Hara's triumphant "There is no death."

At the evening service Dr. Vincent continued his series on "Men whom Christ changed", speaking on this occasion of "N. m.'s only," Shelley's "Saviour again to Thy dear name," and Westenholme's "Sing we merrily" had intelligent interpretation by a large choir. Mrs. Full in her short organ recital from 6.45 to 7 o'clock used Lang's "Meditation" and Baptists' "Offertory No. 1."

ST. DUNSTONS BASILICA

Yesterday, the second Sunday of the month, was observed as "Holy Name Sunday" at St. Dunstan's Basilica. The eight o'clock Mass, which is offered exclusively for the members of the Holy Name Society was celebrated by His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan. The attendance of members was very large, the main Church was practically filled, and almost all present received Holy Communion. During the Mass hymns were rendered by the male choir and congregation under the direction of Mr. W. J. Brown. His Excellency preached an impressive sermon on the gospel of the day, stressing the importance of monthly communion, and even daily if possible.

In the evening at 7 o'clock the Blessed Sacrament was exposed and Holy Hour conducted by Rev. Louis Deagan, who also officiated for Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Death Of Sergt. Peter Bradley

News of the death of Sergeant Peter Bradley will be heard with regret in the City, and throughout the whole Province. The deceased was born at South Melville, Kelly's Cross Parish, in 1845, the son of the late James Bradley and Margaret McKenna, immigrants from Ireland. Sergeant Bradley spent his early life on the farm, and came to Charlottetown in 1874. He was appointed to the City Police force in 1875, and was in continuous connection with the force till 1922, a period of 47 years. In 1922, while on his way to the police office, he was thrown from a sleigh and broke a hip. Although he suffered considerably afterwards, he was able to do special police duty for several years. In 1925 he was retired on pension.

For many years Sergeant Bradley was very successful in detective work in which he was frequently engaged in various parts of the Province. Several years ago the following paragraph regarding Sergeant Bradley appeared in The Guardian:

"In his charge to the jury at the trial Thursday morning His Lordship the Chief Justice referred to 'that splendid old officer, Sergeant Bradley.' The Attorney General also referred in complimentary terms to Sgt. Bradley who has a splendid record of over forty years continuous service on the police force of this city. It is fitting that such faithful service should be thus recognized. The Guardian wishes Sgt. Bradley many more years of active service."

There are left to mourn five children, Mr. William Bradley and Miss Angle Bradley of this City, and three married daughters in Western Canada.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning at 8.45 from the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer to the R. C. Cemetery.

brotherhood and universal peace.

In his Sunday morning sermon Rev. C. N. Brown, M. A., pressed home further our duty in the cause of peace. His text was from Isaiah 2-4, "They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." War as a means of settling international disputes has been proved a failure. So far as our individual duty is concerned it is of no avail to take a negative attitude. We must do something positive in the interest of peace.

In the evening Rev. Dr. Ramsay took as his text Hebrews 12-22 to 24, "But we are come unto Mount Zion and unto the city of the living God." A great crowd of witnesses, a complete mobilization of all the forces of heaven in our present fight of right against wrong, a fight not by force but by love. Christ is on the throne by God's appointment and we are to recognize Him as King.

The music for the day was particularly attractive and included an anthem at each service, also solos by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Holder in the morning and by Mr. Mason B. MacKay in the evening. Next Sunday the 69th anniversary of the opening of Trinity Church for worship will be observed and special services are being arranged. Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson of North Bedouque will be the guest preacher for the day.

Friday last was the 45th anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther and thousands crowded the Hippodrome in New York last Sunday to do honor to the memory of this great reformer. The service was attended by the Consul-General in New York of the countries where Lutheranism is the predominant faith, namely, Sweden, Germany, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Latvia and Estonia.

There was a choir of 500 voices drawn from all the Lutheran churches of the city and the whole congregation joined in singing Martin Luther's hymn "A Mighty Fortress is our God."
