Giants Send Series Into Sixth Game With 5-4 Win

Schumacher Hurls National Leaguers To Breath-taking Ten-inning Upset Victory

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(AP)—Swaying perilously close to the brink of world series disaster, New York Giants prolonged their baseball civil war with the Yankees today with a breath-taking 5-4 victory in the 10th inning of the fifth game.

HAL SCHUMACHER

The outcome reduced the margin of the Yankees to a single game, three games to two, and sent the warring clans back across the Harlem River for the sixth game at the Polo grounds tomorrow.

DECISIVE BLOW

The decisive blow was a looping drive to left-center that Terry hit off the veteran relief pitcher, Pat Malone, with the count three and two, after the Yankees had kicked vigorously against Empire Cy Pfrman's failure to call what they thought was a third strike on the Giants' pilot, Moore, who had started the 10th with a ground rule two-bagger that hopped into the left-field boxes, reached third on Dick Bartell's sacrifice bunt and scored easily as Joe Dimaggio threw wildly to the infield after catching Terry's wallop on the dead run.

A crowd of 50,024 fans saw the National Leaguers battle their way to victory behind the sensational "sinker" ball pitching of Hal Schumacher, who came back to whip the famous "Murderer's Row" of the Yankees after being knocked out of the box last Friday.

TEN STRIKEOUTS

Schumacher yielded 10 hits and walked six Yankees but he also struck out 10, within three of the world series record.

He scaled his greatest heights in the third inning when, with one run in, the bases full and none out, thanks to two bases on balls, a wild pitch, an error by Bartell and a bunt base hit, he stopped the "big three" of the Yankee batting order cold.

Dimaggio and Captain Lou Gehrig fanned and Bill Dickey hoisted to Mel Ott.

The Giants went on their biggest batting rampage of the series when they walloped big Red Ruffing for five hits and three runs in the first inning, but they failed to hold this advantage, bitterly as they fought to protect it.

RUFFING TAKEN OUT

Ruffing gave way to a pinch-hitter, Roy Johnson, after six innings at which he yielded seven hits and struck out seven. Thus Pat Malone was charged with his first world series defeat since 1929. He yielded a winning run in the 10th.

ing's first pitch down the third base line for a two-bagger. Bartell poked another double to right and Moore came home. Terry fanned and grounded harmlessly to Crossetti advancing Bartell to third. Jimmy Ripple's single scored Bartell, then Gus Mancuso and Burgess Whitehead drove basehits, bringing home Ripple with the third run. Jackson ended the rally with a hoist to Dimaggio.

The first of a series of defensive good breaks helped the Giants in the second inning. Gehrig led off with a sharp drive to right and raced all the way to third when Ott let the ball through his legs. Dickey dragged the ball along the first base line and Schumacher pounced on it, tossing to Terry, whose quick relay caught Gehrig sliding into the plate for a double play.

George Selkirk's towering homer into the right field bleachers thus failed to do the damage it would have done if Gehrig had not risked trying for the plate.

CONTROL LAPSES

Schumacher's control lapsed in each of the next two innings. He passed Lazzeri and Ruffing at the outset of the third frame, then advanced both with a wild pitch that skidded past Mancuso. Lazzeri scored when Bartell threw wild on Crossetti's hopper and the bases were filled when Rolfe beat out a bunt.

This brought up the big guns, with none out, but Dimaggio, Gehrig and Dickey were spiked completely as Schumacher achieved a complete reversal of form.

Schumacher promptly put himself into another trench by walking Selkirk and Jake Powell to start the fourth. But again Schumacher pulled himself together. He grabbed Lazzeri's attempted sacrifice bunt and threw to Jackson for a force play at third. Then Ruffing grounded into a double play.

In the sixth, Ott drove a single and Ripple walked. Both advanced on Mancuso's sacrifice bunt. Then Crossetti fumbled Whitehead's hopper and Ott crossed the plate.

Schumacher didn't appear even close to trouble when Selkirk singled in the Yankee half of the sixth with two out, but Jackson provided the jam this time by picking up Powell's slow roller and throwing the ball over Terry's head.

Malone popped a single at the start of the ninth. Crossetti and Rolfe both hit into force plays but Dimaggio walked and the winning run was on second base, with Gehrig up. The count reached three and two against the Yankee Captain, then he drove a grounder to Whitehead for the third out.

After the Giants put across the decisive run in their half of the 10th, Dickey broke his hitless streak with a scratch single that Terry juggled. Bob Seeds, was inserted as a pinch-runner after Selkirk fouled to Mancuso. Powell then filed to Moore and, with Lazzeri at bat, Seeds was thrown out trying to steal.

There will be practice for the Nomads this evening at 5 o'clock sharp at Victoria Park.

Yanks Praise Schumacher, Deride Ump

BY PAUL MICKELSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(A.P.)—Cries of "Robber" and shouts of unadvised praise for "Hairbreath Hal" Schumacher rocked the adjacent dressing rooms of the enraged Yankees and grim Giants as they exulted and moaned over today's world series thriller.

"Firmman ought to have his head examined or get glasses," roared big Pat Malone, who accused the National League Umpire of missing a third strike on Manager Bill Terry in that fatal 10th inning.

"Hairbreath Hal" walked into the Giant locker-room so wearily he looked like a man beaten instead of a world series hero. He was so tired he wasn't sure just how the game ended.

"What was that last play?" he asked Catcher Mancuso. "Didn't Lazzeri strike out?"

"No, but we got Seeds sliding into second," explained Catcher Gus. "Shake, Hal. In all my years of baseball, I never saw any man with a heart like you had out there today."

"Thought I'd never cross that plate," chimed in Joe Moore, who dashed in with the winning run on Terry's long fly in the 10th. "Seemed as if someone was moving home plate back as I ran for it."

Boss Bill Terry, happily massaging his swelling knee, said: "Told you we weren't licked yet. We'll come back with Fitzsimmons tomorrow."

Frankie Frisch, Manager of the St. Louis Gas House Gang, sidled up to Terry.

"Where do all these cripples come from?" demanded Frisch. "Pearson and now Schumacher. 'I'll have to dig myself up some.'"

McLarnin Singles Return With Brilliant 10-round Victory Over Canzoneri

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(CP)—Jimmy McLarnin, the Vancouver dynamite, turned in one of his best performances in recent years tonight to score a slashing victory over Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight champion, in their return 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden.

McLarnin weighed 145 and Canzoneri 157.

McLarnin who was decisively defeated by Canzoneri when they met last May, more than got even tonight. He administered what probably was the worst defeat in the little American-Italian's dozen years of distinguished ring campaigning.

A ringside score card gave McLarnin seven rounds; two were credited to Canzoneri and one was called even.

The crowd of 11,423 paying customers, who contributed $54,189.54 to see Canzoneri fade out of the fist picture, gave the former Lightweight King a rousing hand as the weary but game Canzoneri, his face covered with blood, left the ring.

The impressive victory for the Canadian Celt put him in line for a shot at the Welterweight crown he has already won twice. Both Madison Square Garden and the 20th Century Sporting club of Mike Jacobs are anxious to match Barney Ross of Chicago, present Welter Champ, with tonight's winner.

Using a flashing left that Canzoneri simply could not dodge, McLarnin, showing traces of all his old-time greatness, rolled up point after point as the rounds went by while a slow but thoroughly game Canzoneri spent most of the time counter punching in a vain attempt to connect for a knockout punch.

Canzoneri was only a shell of the great little battler who has successively ruled the featherweight, junior lightweight and lightweight divisions. He was slow afoot, his timing was bad and he showed virtually none of the dash and zip that for the past 10 years helped keep him on or near the top of the fistful ladder.

The fight may be the last for Tony, but a jubilant McLarnin who says he fought his best battle in two years, has no idea of hanging up the gloves.

Down The Alleys

Twelve teams out of sixty got away to a good start in the five pin tournament. With enthusiasm running high and no favorites picked for the final roll-off. It looks like it is going to be a banner year at the Hall Alleys, as far as the bowlers, there being a large turnout of spectators to witness the opening Tournament of the season.

Amherst St. Pats Wallop Falcons 16-2

AMHERST, N.S., Oct. 5—(CP)—Amherst St. Pats, Maritime Junior baseball champions for the last two years, appeared headed tonight for the title again after defeating Saint John Falcons 16-2 in the first game of a series for the 1936 championship.

Playing behind the four-hit pitching of "Willie Boy" Ellis, St. Pats ran wild on the base-lines, scoring almost at will on several Saint John lapses.

Sixteen errors by visiting fielders was the main factor in Amherst's big score, for King, the Saint John hurler, pitched well enough, allowing only eight hits during an equal number of innings.

Before the sixth inning, Amherst had scored four unearned runs, but it was then the Falcons cracked and St. Pats scored five runs on two hits and a half-dozen errors. The defending champions went on to score two more in the seventh and five more in the eighth.

Good Boxing Card At Souris Wednesday Night

George Leslie, former heavyweight champion of this province, launched his comeback campaign at Souris the night of October 7th against Will McInnis fellow Souris battler.

A lively scrap is in the offing for fight fans as reports emanating from the eastern centre are to the effect that both fighters are rapidly rounding into shape and if condition means anything the boys should give a good display. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds.

In the semi-finals Cheverie of Souris swaps punches with Toung McCormack of Souris Line Road. The Line Road youngster, although lacking the weight of his rival boasts plenty speed and skill. Other preliminaries bring together Joe Holland, Souris and Flash MacDonald, Charlottetown, Frank Cheverie and Charles McDonald both of Souris.

3th Battery To Play Series In Moncton

The 3th Battery Softball team, recently declared Prince Edward Island Champions, decided at a meeting of team members and executive last evening at the armouries to accept the offer of Moncton Britons and play the semi-final series in the "Hub" city. The gate receipts will go to the local team to compensate them in a measure for the trip.

The semi-final for the Maritime title will be the best of a two out of three series. The Battery team will leave here Wednesday and play a doubleheader.

Bruins Have Option On Bill Beveridge

BOSTON, Oct. 5—(CP)—Manager Ari Ross announced tonight that Boston Bruins had obtained an option on Goale Bill Beveridge, property of Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League.

The Bruins already have Tiny Thompson, one of the league's outstanding netmen.

MAY MEET AMBERS

Negotiations already are in progress to match the Trickman with Lou Ambers, the new Lightweight Champion, the plan being for the winner to meet Ross later in the winter.

Almost from the outset it was evident that last May's tables were to be turned. Off to a good start in the opening round, Canzoneri soon fell a victim to McLarnin's corking left and from the second to the ninth inclusive, with the exception of the fourth which was even, dropped every round.

At different times throughout the battle, for a few seconds at a time, Tony threatened to cause damage with his right. But McLarnin's left kept him almost so entirely on the defensive he had few opportunities to set himself for his Sunday punches.

The only knockdown came in the second. McLarnin fired a long left flush to the jaw and Canzoneri dropped for a count of three.
