"UNCONQUERED" TOPS IN FILM ADVENTURE

DeMille Technicolor Epic Co-Stars Cooper, Goddard

One of the finest motion picture productions yet to come out of Hollywood makes its bow at the Prince Edward Theatre today. It is Cecil B. DeMille's Technicolor action-drama of pre-Revolutionary days, "Unconquered," co-starring Gary Cooper and Paulette Goddard and a mighty film epic it is, indeed.

The Paramount picture features Howard Da Silva, Boris Karloff, Cecil Kellaway, Ward Bond, Katherine DeMille and many others.

Cooper appears as a Virginia militiaman and patriot who falls in love with Miss Goddard, an English girl unjustly sentenced to fourteen years of slavery in America, to be bonded to the person who buys her at public auction. Da Silva portrays an unscrupulous fur trader—and traitor — who works with the Indians and whom Cooper is determined to expose.

Paulette "Unconquered" Too

The two men clash further over the purchase and love of Paulette. Cooper outbids Da Silva for her but the latter does not let the matter rest there. He tricks Palette into believing she is his property but neither by intimidation nor by cajolery can he win her over. Paulette is, in her own way, as much of a fighter as Cooper and she has ample opportunity to display her indomitable spirit when she and Cooper face trouble with the Indians together.

"Unconquered" is jam - - packed with thrills and high adventure. The historic siege of Fort Pitt — the brave little outpost that grew into the all-important steel city of Pittsburgh — is one of the high spots of motion picture excitement. The scene wherein Miss Goddard is tied to the stake by Indians and about to be tortured is a model of suspense and edge-of-the-seat entertainment. Cooper's rescue of her by a clever ruse and their subsequent pursuit by the enraged Indians is film fare at its very best.

Boris Karloff is more terrifying as Guyasuta, Chief of the Seneca Indians, than he ever was in any of his horror roles.

MELVILLE W. I.

The July meeting of Melville W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Campbell MacLeod, with nine members present. The president opened the meeting with singing of Ode and repeating of Women's Creed. Plans were then discussed with Trustees about the repair of the school, work is to begin immediately, and the Institute have voted one-hundred dollars towards expenses. A very interesting report of the convention held at Charlottetown in June, was given by Mrs. Fred Shaw. A lottery ticket article brought in the sum of $1.00. Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Hector Gillis. Meeting closed with the King. Lunch was then served by Mrs. Preston Gillis and Mrs. Noys. The hostess serving a very generous helping of delicious, home made, ice cream.

Bristol And Vicinity

Miss Mary Sinnott spent the week-end in the City, where she attended the retreat for teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Francis were week-end visitors to Morell, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Justin McCarthy.

Mr. and Mrs. Roddie O'Hanley were sunday visitors to St. Peter's visiting old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bambrick and son were Sunday visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Donovan.

Miss Josephine MacDonald, City, spent the week-end at her old home here, returning to the City Sunday evening.

Mr. Arthur Blaxland is having his house remodeled and new kitchen built on. Mr. John Keefe is the contractor.

A bull-dozer is expected here from the City this week, and will dig several cellars for new houses and also haul one barn to a new farm.

We are pleased to report that the condition of Mrs. Anthony Dunn, in the Charlottetown Hospital, is much improved and we hope to see her home shortly.

Some of the young folks did very well this season picking strawberries. One young fellow states he picked around one-hundred and fifty boxes per day at four cents per box. Good pay.

Strawberries sold here last week for as low as ten cents per box while one grower offered them to anyone who wanted to pick for themselves, as he could not get them all picked.

Mr. M. P. Donovan shipped eleven hogs a week ago to the packing plant in the City and one fine hog among the group brought him a cheque for ninety nine dollars and forty eight cents, which we believe is the largest price ever paid here for one single hog.

Mrs. Walter Munroe arrived from Melford, Mass., for regular vacation with her sisters, Mrs. Jas. F. MacDonald and Miss Margaret Findley. Mrs. Munroe left Bristol as Lottie Findley, forty years ago to reside in the U. S. where she married Mr. Munroe, and settled in Medford, Mass.

Mr. Ephram Malone, who along with his other farming, is a large scale chicken raiser, last week shipped several hundred lovely birds to the U. S. market. When we visited him last week we found around two thousand still around the chicken yards.

One evening last week we visited the old cemetery at Morell Rear to see the grave of a brother, put there forty eight years ago, We found the pastor, Father McKenna, busy with a power mower cutting the lawn. This fine kept grave yard is a credit to the pastor and a picture for anyone to look at.

Work on the outside of the new extension to the Catholic Church here is near completion and the inside work is already started. The new heating system that is to be installed will be started this week by Mr. W. A. O'Brien of the Hardware Staff of Holman's Ltd., who will install the heating unit It is considered the new system will be more satisfactory then the old Furnace style.

..*LOADING PITPROPS — The Swedish steamer "Edda", Capt. Christenson, docked at Georgetown yesterday morning and will load with about 1500 cords of pulpwood for the United Kingdom. The steamer is 825 registered tons. Loading will commence this morning and will be continued for about three and one-half days. She sailed from Garston, England.

..*ENJOYABLE EVENING — An enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Anderson, Bristol, on Monday night, July 26th, when friends and neighbours gathered in honour of Mr. and Mrs. David Dove of Princeton, N.J., and Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Douglas of Dorchester, Mass. A pleasant sing-song was enjoyed by all, after which refreshments were served.

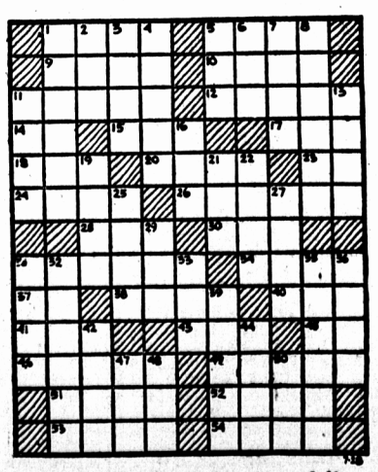
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

H N W F W N K W A W, Q A Z D Y G W M N D G Z, F D Y P W D U R K W J D O D M W Y G O S H N W. F W N K W J G U W W — H O R E G E F.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: O THAT SUCH AN IMPOSING APPEARANCE SHOULD HAVE NO BRAIN!—PHAEDRUS.

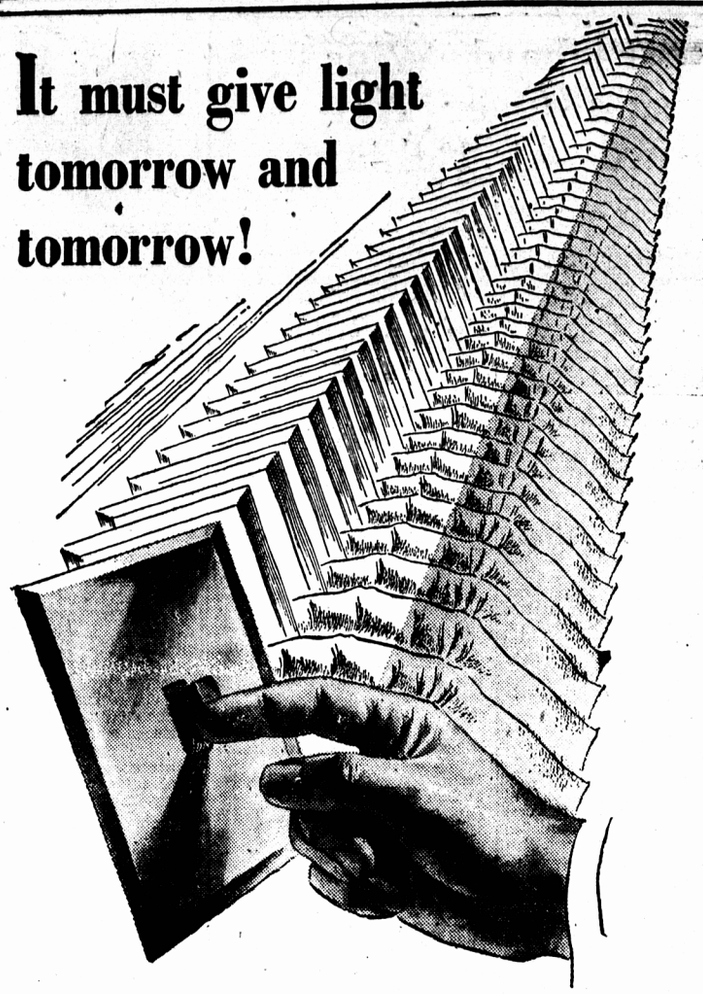
It must give light tomorrow and tomorrow!



TODAY many sections of the country are seriously affected by shortages of electrical power.

But this situation is being remedied. Vast new power projects are now being developed — through the investment of life insurance funds.

You see, part of every dollar that you put into life insurance is invested in government, public utility and industrial bonds. And millions of these life insurance dollars are helping to pay for new electrical power plants throughout the Dominion.

When they are completed, there will be power enough for all our homes, farms and industries in future years.

Thus your life insurance serves a double purpose. It provides financial protection for your family. And it helps raise the living standards of the nation!

A message from the life insurance companies in Canada and their agents.

It is good citizenship to own LIFE INSURANCE
