The news and editorial departments, open at 9 a. m. on Saturday.

Queen Square Gardens look beautiful just now. Not many cities possess such a charming attraction. The flower beds have been planned with skill and rare good taste and deserve particular attention from lovers of nature. Charlottetown people should be proud of this adornment of their City—the chief credit for which must be ascribed to the unassuming but capable superintendent of the Gardens, James Tait, Sr.

E. A. and Mrs. Bagnall, of Corpus Christi, Texas, are visiting Charlottetown. They have been in the Province for some weeks, part of which has been spent at the Bagnall family home at Bedouque. They will return to Texas at the end of the month and will occupy the intervening time in visiting relatives. It is thirty seven years since Mr. Bagnall last saw his native province and the changes in the people are many.

The ladies of Sturgeon Baptist Church are to be congratulated on the social held by them recently. The night being fine and the attendance good, the tasteful manner in which the ladies displayed their nice things, the men not being able to withstand the temptation, spent their money unsparringly till the neat sum upwards of fifty dollars was realized. They take the opportunity of thanking all those who took part in preparing such an elaborate feast, and hope next year won't pass without the annual ice cream social again.
