The Way of Reading. A good novel is just as good reading as even the greatest philosopher can possibly wish for.

FRESNOY IS TAKEN.

British Also Within Four Miles of Lille. LONDON, Oct. 7.—Wide gains of great importance have been made by the British armies advancing in the region northeast of St. Quentin.

Following the capture of Beurevoir, which was taken by English troops, and Montbrehan, which Australians captured with 600 prisoners, Haig's troops pushed forward and took possession of Aubencheul-aux-Bois, and established themselves on the high ground toward Lesdain.

The German front line is running almost in front of Lille, and British patrols are so close to the city that they could reach it in an hour's walk. Haubourdin and the nearest group of industrial towns which are so closely knitted to Lille are only two miles distant from our advanced line.

KING BORIS ON THRONE.

New Bulgarian Monarch Retains Pro-Ally Ministry. AMSTERDAM, Oct. 7.—The first decree signed by King Boris was one demobilizing the Bulgarian army, according to a despatch from Sofia.

King Ferdinand, in abdicating the Bulgarian throne, according to a despatch from Sofia, issued the following manifesto: "By reason of a succession of circumstances which have occurred in my kingdom, and which demand from each citizen such sacrifice, even to the surrendering of one's self for the well being of all, I desire to give as the first example the sacrifice of myself."

"I call upon all faithful subjects and true patriots to unite as one man about the throne of King Boris, to lift the country from its difficult situation and to elevate new Bulgaria to the height to which it is predestined."

The abdication of King Ferdinand was announced by Premier Malinoff at a crowded session of the Bulgarian Parliament, and the news was received by the deputies with the greatest interest.

BIG BAG OF TURKS.

Allied Forces in Palestine Take Over 79,000 Prisoners. LONDON, Oct. 7.—Seventy-one thousand Turks have been taken prisoners by Gen. Allenby's forces since the commencement of the British operations in Palestine and Syria, according to an official statement issued by the War Office.

"There has been no change in the general situation. Northwest of Damascus our cavalry are clearing the country. They have taken more than 15,000 prisoners in this area."

"Since the commencement of operations on the night of Sept. 18 more than 71,000 prisoners and 350 guns have been captured, besides some 8,000 prisoners claimed by the Arab army of King Hussein."

"Included in these figures are the Turkish commanders of the Sixteenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-fourth, Fifty-third and composite divisions, the commander of the Maan garrison, All Verbi Pasha, and German and Austrian troops numbering over 206 officers and 3,000 other ranks."

Bolshevik Break With Turks. AMSTERDAM, Oct. 7.—A Russian note to Turkey published by Verbi Pasha concludes, according to a Berlin despatch: "The Russian Government is obliged to state that in consequence of the action of the Turkish Government, the treaty of Brest-Litovsk, which was to have established peaceful relations between Russia and Turkey is null and void."

It is understood that this applies only to the clauses in the treaty concerning the relations between Russia and Turkey.

THE ROMANOFF MYSTERY.

Various Versions of How Late Czar Was Killed. All the materials for the myth or legend of Nicholas II. are at hand. When the Czech-Slovaks captured Yekaterinburg they searched for the ex-Czar's body, but found no traces of it, so one of their officers reports to Ambassador Francis.

The version of Nicholas' death which the Czech-Slovaks sent to Ambassador Francis is very different from the Bolshevik version, which represented him as collapsing in the face of a firing squad. This new version represents that the Red Guards refused to kill the ex-Czar. After four years of trench warfare in this region, to-day our infantry is less than four miles distant from Lille's outer boulevards.

About Lille and its lesser neighbors there is an air of pathetic desolation and the British vanguard is looking longingly across the plain to a forest of chimneys, and which there is no life. They can clearly see that the streets of the factory towns which lie nearest to them are empty of all except a few Germans, who are fitfully stirring themselves behind deserted houses.

AIRPLANES AT THE FRONT.

The airplanes which are doing so much to help win the war are of many types. Each variety of aviation exploits at the front requires its own machine, and as many different tasks are performed by the Allied aces, the types of plane in use are numerous.

Here is a description of the five airplanes most commonly used by the Allied air forces: Small, fast, single-engine fighters, used for scouting purposes. They usually have a wing spread of from 20 to 25 feet, a speed of from 125 to 135 miles per hour; carrying capacity 450 pounds, and a climbing speed of 10,000 feet in from 8 to 12 minutes.

Reconnaissance and photography spotting, map-making and general reconnoitering. The wing spread is usually from 40 to 60 feet; speed from 80 to 100 miles per hour, carrying capacity from 800 to 900 pounds. They are two or three seaters and have a climbing speed of 10,000 feet in 12 to 25 minutes.

Bombing: Similar to the reconnaissance machine, but larger. They vary from 45 to 90 feet in wing spread and carry from two to twelve persons in addition to their bombs and fuel. Their speed is from 75 to 100 miles per hour; their radius of operations from 500 to 1,000 miles and their climbing speed 7,000 feet and minutes.

Battleplane: A two or three-passenger plane driven by one or two engines and equipped with machine guns and sometimes cannon. It makes from 75 to 85 miles per hour.

For naval work, flying boats and hydro-airplanes of various sizes are used. In an account of the weight of the hulls, or pontoons, these compare favorably with the reconnaissance machine, travelling 90 to 100 miles per hour. They are used for coast patrol work and naval observation purposes, and can carry 2,000 pounds.

Wealth of the Underworld. It is only within very recent years that man has begun to draw largely upon the mineral resources of the earth. In the last fifteen years he has taken out more iron than in all the previous history of mankind.

In the last thirteen years he has mined more copper than was produced in all previous ages. In the last eleven years he has drawn more petroleum from the earth's bowels than in all the years since the world began.

Where other minerals are concerned, the record is somewhat similar. But the misfortune lies in the fact that we are exhausting these resources with such rapidity that a few centuries from now there may be comparatively few left of them.

In the last twenty years we have dug as much coal out of our own territory as all previous history yielded; but every ton taken out diminishes the available stock, which can never be replaced.

MR MCKINNON'S ATTRIBUTE TO THE LATE SGT. CORNFOT

On Sept. 14th inst. the family of the late Gunner John Cornfoot received a cable from Major D. A. McKinnon, officer commanding 36th Battery C. F. A., France: "Deepest sympathy entire battery, Jack mortally wounded while in action on his gun Sept. 1. Writing."

The Egmont Bay and Mount Carmel Exhibition came off, as advertised, on the 9th instant and can be termed a marked success. The weather being so fine for harvesting possibly kept some at home who might otherwise have been in attendance.

The farmers in that locality are to be congratulated on the quality of their exhibits, many of which would compare most favourably with their respective classes shown at the Queen's County Exhibition.

Rev. Father Boudreault and the President and Secretary who managed the affair and arranged its being held under somewhat difficult circumstances deserve much credit, and, as many were heard to remark, the Parish is most fortunate in having such an energetic and qualified Reverend Gentleman to not only lead them in matters spiritual, but direct them in their daily avocations.

Among others, there was present the Dominion representative, Capt. Read, who declared the Exhibition opened in a short but very interesting speech. Addresses were also given by Hon. Premier Arsenault, A. E. McLean, M.P.P., and Adrian Arsenault, Attorney, all of which were laudatory and encouraging.

Capt. Read touched first on war situation stating that peace was in the air and liable to come in the near future—President Wilson could not logically accept Prince Maximilian's offer. Whilst the latter was willing to negotiate terms of peace on the basis of the President's peace formulae, the President by granting an armistice would violate the very principles involved in these formulae which declared that the small nations, with respect to rights and privileges shall be placed on the same basis as the large nations.

The Captain then dwelt on the great importance of agriculture as a factor in human industry. He pointed out that the world's population was pressing very close to the limit of subsistence, and the great problem of the immediate future is more food, to sustain increased population. The old adage that he who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before is a world's benefactor, was never so true as it is today.

The Captain strongly commended the School Fair movement. Some persons consider these fairs an innovation and an interference with the old curriculum, but the time has come when the children of agricultural communities should be brought up in an atmosphere tending to educate them along the line of food production. School fairs were a great means to that end. These fairs should be held just before the Provincial or County Exhibition, so that the winners at the school fairs could compete at the larger shows.

Premier Arsenault congratulates the farmers on the success of the Fair and emphasized the need of under-drainage. The effects of the recent excessive rains on the low lands in that locality made his appeal all the stronger.

all dear old Jack kept his good humor and was a solid rock of comfort in any situation. How I would have loved to bring him back home after the war, and it often occurred to me, what recollections we would bring together. It ever there was a help in this world, Jack was one, I must close now with the hope that I have been able to give you some idea of my appreciation of a friend I have known, loved and respected for years. Yours very faithfully, DAN MCKINNON.
