Through the national registration conducted in 1940, men skilled in various types of essential labor have been recruited for the industry from all parts of the country.
As an instance of the way in which the call for service on the home front is being answered, a Labor Department official reported that scores of men urgently wanted for shipbuilding programs being undertaken for Canada and the United States were found in the Maritime Provinces, far from the area where they served their apprenticeship in skilled shipbuilding.

Thousands of other men and women have attended training courses organized by the Government to meet the needs of industry. Some of these trainees who have already been home districts are now working on war contracts.

CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE
'Arizona' attracts Large crowd at Capitol, Summerside
A flaming romance set amid the sun-drenched splendor of the Arizona desert, amid the stirring turbulence of a military era, Columbia's "Arizona" opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre with Jean Arthur starting the most triumphant career of her sensational career. Never before has the screen captured in all its brave, wild magnificence a story so breath-taking as this romantic drama of Arizona's birth. Never before, not even with his "Cimarron"—has Wesley Ruggles produced and directed a motion picture so great in conception, so memorable in scope.
The splendid spectacular efforts made by Columbia and Wesley Ruggles, by the cast and crew of "Arizona," is apparent in every foot of the screen. Claude Binyon, "Arizona" is rich with the romance and the color inherent in Clarence Budington Kelland's magazine serial.
That Miss Arthur's choice for the role of the Indian princess, is the only possible one is attested to by the brilliance of her performance. As Phoebe Titus, indomitable fighter and pioneer, lone white woman among a thousand Indian-casteled men, Miss Arthur exceeds in emotional and dramatic effect anything she has ever done on the screen. As the drawing Peter Muncie, Miss Arthur's Indian lover, she is equally to be praised; young Holden proves again his right to the stardom he won in "Golden Boy" and in "Our Town." The fighting, laughing, lover, he shares with Phoebe Titus her troubles and her battles—when she lets him!

Warren William, as the suave renegade who is Phoebe's major menace, and Porter Hall, as the snivelling sloop-keeper who is his chief lieutenant, provide performances of equal moment. Others in this splendid cast of thousands include Paul Harvey, George Chae, Lester, Byron Foulger, Regis Toomey, Paul Lopez, Colin Tapley and Kermit Maynard, character actors familiar to Hollywood for the inveterate excellence of their performances.

These soils are easily worked and usually have considerable readily available plant food left over from the fertilization for the previous crop.
Land should not be manured for barley, as excess nitrogen causes fertilizer burn and reduces yields. Too much nitrogen fertilizer is just as bad as over manuring. Phosphorus increases the proportion of grain to straw and hastens maturation. Potash helps to strengthen the straw. When land is in reasonably good heart, 250-350 pounds 2-12-6 fertilizer per acre may prove profitable. If the soil already has ample nitrogen, a 0-12-6 fertilizer is more desirable.

Charlottetown No. 80, a two-rowed and C. 21, a six-rowed variety, are recommended as good yielding, medium late harvest, Charlottetown No. 80 has given a somewhat larger yield than C. 21 in the variety tests at the Dominion Experimental Station, Fredericton. These two barleys are rough awned. Seed of Charlottetown No. 80 and C. 21 can be easily procured in the Maritime Provinces. Blyns, which has been the most productive barley in the barley tests in recent years, has smooth awns. Macdonald College, Que., is the present source of seed.

In order to obtain a good yield, it is necessary to sow good clean seed in rows as advisable to treat the seed with Ceresan. Directions for treating are given on the package. Seeding at the rate of two bushels per acre is recommended.

When double-hung windows are in use, sash cords should be checked frequently. They should be inspected, too, when a house is being considered for purchase. A broken window cord can result in broken glass or crushed fingers if the only result is lousiness putty and a changing sash cord is not simple. The stop bead—the strip of molding that keeps the sash in place—must be removed if there are metal weatherstrips, these should be taken out so that the weight may be reached through the little door that is located inconspicuously in the sash stile.

A flimsy or ill-fitting pulley wheel will wear through a cord in a short time.

HALIFAX, June 5—(CP)—While their comrades still ranged Atlantic skies in quest of a missing Royal Canadian Air Force patrol, five men who gave their lives in the search were accorded a military funeral here today.
Dusk closed over Canada's eastern shore and the waters of the north Atlantic with the fate of four men aboard the lost craft still unknown. Their reconnaissance plane was last seen Monday morning taking off on a patrol flight from its base near Glace Bay, N.S.
What scent ghost remained for the safety of the men was based on the fact their plane carried a rubber dinghy and the possibility they might have been picked up by a vessel bound for other shores.
Plt. Lt. W. S. Dunlop, R.C.A.F. chaplain, conducted funeral services in the historic St. Paul's Anglican Church for the five who died Tuesday when their Judson bomber crashed on lonely Sable Island. The bodies will be forwarded to their homes for burial.

VICTORY LOAN

day's report so far has been in excess of the $3,000,000 necessary to ensure the total objective being reached, officials said.
The loan committee said that while individual subscribers were rallying in greater numbers daily, there was plenty of evidence that Canada's large industries are no less patriotic.
Thursday's largest subscription was reported from Ontario Paper Co. and its Quebec subsidiary, Quebec North Shore Paper Co. of Bate Comeau, Que., with an order for $3,000,000 worth of Victory Bonds. The order was reported as a subscription of $500,000 from Credit Foncier Franco-Canadien.
The subscription from Northern Investment Co. of Canada Ltd., previously reported at $100,000, was for $150,000.
Among cities reporting their total subscriptions today were Halifax, $1,246,250 or 8.5 per cent of its quota; Saint John, $733,100 or 30 per cent; Three Rivers, Que., $387,300 or 38 per cent; Moncton, $195,000 or 52.5 per cent; Sherbrooke, Que., $342,650 or 8.15 per cent; and Sydney, $172,850 or 8.5 per cent.
Officials said that headquarters through the country "be sieged" for the small town emblems that go to every subscriber. The lapel pin is a replica of the larger victory torch that has been shown across Canada in a bomber, and then across the Atlantic to Winston Churchill.

One of the most difficult districts to cover with canvassers has been Inverness County, N. S., along the northern side of Cape Breton Island. In this county, which has only three small towns and is almost entirely rural, the canvasser turned in 34 individual subscriptions in one day. His efforts were chiefly responsible for the district of Port Hood winning the second honor pennant awarded in Nova Scotia, although coal has not been mined there for two years and the fishing industry has declined, leaving agriculture the main economic support.

Mr. Francis Thibault was a recent visitor to Charlottetown.
Messrs. Keith Kennedy and Arthur Hall were recent visitors to Summerside.
His many friends will regret to hear that Mr. Willard Bryanton of Spring Valley is now a patient in the Prince County Hospital.

Messrs. John S. Burns and Joseph Arsenault were business visitors to Charlottetown on Wednesday. H.

Man Gives Up Over $4,000 Yearly To Become Trooper
MONTREAL, June 4—Homer S. Marion made a promise almost two years ago and as a result the active service unit of the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars has a new recruit.
When war broke out in 1939 Marion wanted to do his bit and enlist, but like so many other people, thought the need was not so great. Married and the father of two boys, one at the time just a year old, he promised his wife he would wait until he believed more were needed. To prepare himself he joined the Loyola College contingent of the C. O. T. C. and last year qualified as a lieutenant. But recent events have shown an urgent need for men in the Canadian Army, so believing his promise fulfilled, Marion resigned his commission and last night was a trooper in the 17th D. Y. R. C. H. And he is making a big sacrifice to do his bit. He is giving up a job with Limited, auto dealers, and was earning more in a week than he will now earn in three months, but Marion believes that is the price to pay to get into the service. He is now in the ranks and now, with regulations require an officer to resign as a private, chances are even better for promotion.

As one of the recruiting officers said, "He is doing a fine thing. He is playing a man's part and a man with his background and ambition is bound to progress."
Marion holds the degree of C.G.A. Member of the General Accounting, Member Credit Institute and is vice president of the Institute. He is a former council member of the Board of Trade and has written and lectured on credit work. In the last issue of Canadian Credit Review, "War Contracts and Expenditures," he has spoken before different organizations and only recently gave an address on War Certificates.

Marion, who lives at 4546 Kensington avenue, was born in Laurium, Michigan, but was educated in Ontario and has since resided in Canada. He was captain of the boxing team at Renfrew Collegiate Institute and is proud of the fact that he helped to win the Olympic boxer.
A brother Hector, is a lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, and while an outside option engineer with the Canadian Railway Electric Company in Toronto, he has written technical articles and has lectured at Queen's on special subjects.
Marion doesn't fancy giving up his $4,000 a year for $130 a day and allowances, the comforts of home for the life of a trooper but as he puts it, "We've got to do it and it has to be done. If we all stay behind we'll never win it and we've just got to win it!"
That is the real spirit of giving up while perhaps slow to start, once it has gained momentum will be too hard for Hitler and the Nazis to stop. Homer S. Marion is only one lon's suggestion that the Provinces withdraw from the income tax field and accept federal compensation.

Mr. Ilsley said the action was taken to avoid a controversy which would be the largest and wealthiest province in wartime and to remove any possible objection by Ontario to the income tax proposals which were more important. He said that logically the government might be in the concession but it felt it should take a large view.
As the sitting opened Defence Minister Balston predicted complete success for the present recruiting campaign and announced that since he opened it with a radio speech he had been taken into the army. This was 24 per cent of the 32,000 objective and did not include some enlisted before the official opening of the campaign.
The Minister asked members to "put their backs into the campaign."
Meanwhile, hope that summer adjournment of the present Parliamentary session might be taken tomorrow collapsed when the Senate adjourned to Tuesday night. Government leader Dandurand said the main supply of money will not be sent to the Upper House from the Commons until the middle of next week.
The C.N.R. bill authorizes the financing of capital outlays up to $29,414,000 in the form of government-guaranteed securities compared with an authorization for $21,000,000 last year. Mr. Cardin said the increase was partly due to the need of new equipment for war traffic for which $13,270,206 would be required.
"As a result of examination of the requirements for munitions and war materials has been represented to the railway that the amount of freight they will be expected to move in 1942 is going to exceed that which was expected for the year 1941," said Mr. Cardin.
Conservative House leader Hanson questioned the necessity for spending $1,500,000 on signal equipment for the Pacific Junction-Truro line.
Mr. Cardin said improvements on the Pacific Junction-Truro line were to avoid a bottleneck in the transport of military materials and that the improvements might result when improvements at that port now under way make it possible to load more ships there.

Kildare man's Death was Accidental

A jury returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday afternoon after an inquest to enquire into the death of Benjamin Costain who died in the Prince County Hospital shortly before midnight on Wednesday from the results of being struck by a car. Mr. W. B. Howatt, coroner presided at the inquest. The jury were made of Mayor J. E. Campbell, foreman, B.F. McNeil, G. O. Dickie, R. E. Dewar, C. B. Morris, H. P. Jamieson, Harold Morrison. The inquest was held in P. L. Bowness funeral rooms.

The evidence disclosed that the deceased had been returning from his home on Tuesday morning, and had been struck by a car driven by John R. H. Thomson of Athens, Ontario. He received several injuries, some of which were fractures of the skull with hemorrhages sufficient to cause death. At the time of the accident he was walking on the sidewalk of the Prince County Hospital when he lingered until Wednesday night.

Carmen Costain, his son, gave evidence that his father told him Tuesday morning he was going to walk to Alberton. He next saw his father at 12 o'clock on the highway. He said his father's hearing was not very good and his eyesight was poor. He was in good health. Mr. John R. Thomson said he was a commercial traveller and had been coming to the Island for seven years and was familiar with the highway. He said he had never seen an accident before. He was travelling at about 35 to 40 an hour along the road leading from Alberton to Tignish Tuesday morning, and he was walking on the road on his left. One of them seemed to get in a panic and although he tried to avoid him, he got in front of the car as the car was trying to pass him. He saw the car to the side of the road but the man was struck by one of the head lamps. He got out of the car and found the man bleeding from the injuries. He spoke to him. He placed a cat from his car under his head. Mr. Leigh Weeks gave evidence that he met Costain on Tuesday morning at about 11 o'clock when he was walking on the road on his left.
