Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. She Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills for Kidney Ills

Miss C. M. Cridland Suffered from Kidney Trouble and Got no Relief Till She Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

LANGTON, Ont., Jan. 22—(Special)—Miss C. M. Cridland, well known resident here, states that she has been troubled with her kidneys for some time. Your Dodd's Kidney Pills did me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken. I think they are a wonderful medicine.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely a kidney remedy. They tone up and strengthen weak kidneys and put them in condition to do their full work of straining the impurities of the blood. Strong healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary if the blood is to be pure and the body healthy.

Pure blood coursing through the body carries to the different organs the nourishment they need. Keeps them sound and enables them to throw off disease of different kinds.

SMITH FORTUNE Goes to Brother

ROCKLAND, Me., Jan. 22.—The will of George Warren Smith, said to have been the richest man in New England, was filed here for probate. The document of an estate estimated at between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000, contained less than 50 words.

Aside from two bequests of $1000 to a sister, Mrs. Cordelia Murray, the entire estate is bequeathed to a brother, Benjamin F. Smith. The will was drawn four years ago. The four Smith brothers of whom only one survives, acquired their fortune in gold mining in Colorado, and real estate and stock yards operations in Omaha, Neb.

Girl Tries to Enlist in the U. S. Army

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 22.—Recruiting Sergeant R. M. Lee was waited upon today by two well-dressed applicants for enlistment.

"We noticed your posters, and after talking it over decided to try for service in the Hawaiian Islands," said one of the applicants, as she stepped up for measurements as to height and was rejected. Tears of disappointment trickled down the cheeks of the rejected applicant.

"Well, I'll be hanged," sputtered the sergeant recruiting officer, "what's the big idea?" "Oh, mister, I do want to get into the service, even if I am a girl," was the tearful confession of the applicant. "I love my country and I want to go with Tom. Can you fix it up for us?"

The girl's companion who gave this name as Thomas Frazier, said the girl's name was Mary Weldon. They recently left their homes in Buffalo and started out on a hike here. "We're pals and we're going to stick together," he said, as they left the Federal building and disappeared. The police have been unable to find them.

Fine Features of Big New Picture

Thrilling Scenes Abound in Action of "To Have and To Hold"

Pirates being thrown headlong from towering decks; sword fights with flying canons boom; a thrilling race over the deck of a rakish corsair—such are the thrilling features of George Fitzmaurice's new Paramount picture, "To Have and To Hold," which is being shown at the Grand Theatre.

The pirate incidents were taken in the ocean off Balboa, Calif., aboard the old South Sea trading schooner, "William G. Irwin," specially rebuilt for the picture. A hundred tough looking pirates with swords, pistols, bandannas and all the other earmarks of their calling, form a vivid background against which the principals play out their strong roles.

Mr. Fitzmaurice devoted much time to the closing scenes in the luxurious banquet room of the court of King James I of England. This sequence, with its wealth of gorgeous seventeenth century costumes, particularly those worn by Miss Compson and Mr. Kossloff, is said to provide a strongly contrasting note to the color of the scenes. In this banquet scene appear "in person," such notables as William Shakespeare, Ben Johnson and the Duke of Buckingham.

Quida Bergere adapted "To Have and To Hold" from the famous role which was a best seller some years ago. The picture will be presented at the Prince Edward Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. It should prove a strong drawing card.

continent make a distinction when admitting them as pupils or when sending them out as graduates? The fact is, that in all of these cases they take their stand on an even footing with those who have come from the other schools of the provinces; in other words they are required to overcome almost insurmountable barriers for which they get no adequate recognition either in our own province or outside of it.

I think, sir, that the time has fully come when there should not only be an investigation into the cause of failures at Prince of Wales, but also a thorough investigation into the entire school system of our province.

ANOTHER ONE WHO IS DEEPLY INTERESTED.

What Is Wrong?

Sir.—Like many others I have read with interest the many letters in the Public Forum on "What Is Wrong with Prince Edward Island." While many good points were brought out by those taking part, they only touched the surface of the subject which is one of vital importance to every resident.

Prince Edward Island has a good geographical position, placed as it is between the European-Canadian trade. Our island is blessed with many excellent harbors, and good soil, and a healthy, invigorating climate. It is truly one of nature's beauty spots of which we all may be justly proud. In view of the many natural advantages and being blessed with a sturdy population second to none, physically, mentally or morally, and with a birth rate about double the death rate, our population should increase rapidly, but instead we find the rural population decreasing over one percent each year.

This exodus of the farming population has reached a most alarming stage in the fact that a few large sections of the country where over seven percent of the farm homes were deserted during the past year and it is recognized that if this continues an effect without a cause, we are fast approaching a stage where the rural population will be so small that it will be impossible to protect our own interests, while unorganized farmers are under a great disadvantage. Take for instance the Canadian tariff; the manufacturers have sufficient pull through their organizations to obtain considerable protection, which compels the farmers to pay heavy royalties to some wealthy manufacturer. Again, when he tries to sell his produce, he is up against an organized trade, which with a high salaried and often inefficient transportation system, with the returns for his produce until it looks like the small profit of nothing. As only one instance, the many ways in which the farmer's interests are ignored in our own local legislation, take the Veterinary Act, which allows the organized vets put over on the farmers to the great disadvantage of the latter.

We are often told of the wonderful prosperity of Denmark which has been brought about through co-operation of the farmers. The important thing which was not told so often is that the Danish farmers organized politically as well as commercially, and were thus in a position to protect their interests obtaining suitable laws which helped to make their wonderful success an established fact. It would be well for our island farmers to study the methods of the Danish farmers and imitate their example. American farmers are organizing rapidly and already wield a wonderful and beneficial influence on the affairs of that mighty republic. The Ontario farmers have all taken a tip from the Danish agriculturists and have united politically as well as economically, and as only one instance, they have obtained the removal of the embargo upon shipments of Canadian cattle to England, which should be a great boon to our live stock industry.

Many of our farming population have left, and it is up to those who remain soon to decide whether they join the ranks of the better agricultural conditions. The former remedy seems the easier way, but when we think of what our fathers accomplished in turning the forest into fertile farms, and overcoming adverse conditions, surely we are unworthy of the heritage they left us if we cannot grapple with our present conditions. I hope that united, earnest efforts may bring success, making our million acre farm the paradise island it should be.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease. It causes local aches and pains, inflamed joints and still muscles; but cannot be permanently relieved by local or external applications. It must have constitutional treatment.

Take the great blood-purifying and tonic medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acid condition of the blood on which rheumatism depends, and gives permanent relief. It combines the most effective agents in the treatment of this disease.

Another One Who Is Deeply Interested.

What Is Wrong?

Sir.—The latest in church cooperation is the "Bill" by a legal committee, of which Mr. N. W. Rowell, a prominent Methodist, is chairman, which proposes by Act of Parliament, to drive the Presbyterian church into the One Big Union.

This bill has been approved by the Methodist Conference. It may come before next General Assembly, and may seek the sanction of Parliament a year hence.

As a wise Legislature will create a great religious corporation to dominate in politics, to win "the battle" in the religious political realm as has been so frankly avowed by Dr. Chown, the head of the Methodist church.

Further, no just Legislature will do a thing so unrighteous as to disband the Presbyterian church, on the demand of one third of its membership, and hand over to a new organization, of a different basis, its property and persons, its very name and right to exist. But Presbyterians should see and know what some are planning for them.

The "Bill" as long, but its four main provisions are simple and plain.

1. It creates and incorporates the O. B. U. with all the powers which incorporation gives.

2. It hands over to that corporation the Presbyterian church, with all its property and persons, its colleges and churches, its Endowment Funds of all kinds, no matter how bequeathed, its great Women's Societies, East and West, without charge, and work should be done by the O. B. U. Corporation, subject to its control.

3. It provides that within six months any congregation may vote itself out of that Corporation.

4. It provides for a commission of nine, three from either side and three chosen by their own party, to divide up the property of the church, all its property and persons, its colleges and churches, its Endowment Funds of all kinds, no matter how bequeathed, its great Women's Societies, East and West, without charge, and work should be done by the O. B. U. Corporation, subject to its control.

5. It provides that within six months any congregation may vote itself out of that Corporation.

to be disposed of or dismissed at its will.

But what of "Liberty" to vote themselves out? This liberty is not for individuals but for corporations, and its working would be in this wise.

The O. B. U. if a meeting were called, and that meeting should vote itself out, the Bill provides for a change of mind, and those in the congregation in favor of the one meeting should vote "in."

At the end of six months, any congregation which had survived this ordeal, and were now "out" of funds, if they could get together, they might appoint three commissioners. The O. B. U. would appoint three and the dele to those outside would be considered.

Five of these commissioners would be a majority and would decide. From their decision there would be no appeal. On the one side, there would be scattered congregations with no legal standing, no organization, no treasury, yet having to share the expense of the Commission. On the other side would be a great legal corporation having everything under its control, at its command a great church Treasury and officials ever ready to attend as Commissioners. What the dele would be left to fancy.

If at the end of six months there should be no congregations remaining out, there would be no division of the property. If half the Presbyterian people in Canada would gather and claim in some share of the churches and funds they and their fathers had helped to build up, it would be in vain. They would have no right to a stick or a stone or a dollar of property or funds.

But the end is not yet. If Presbyterians—like the returned exiles from Babylon—should gather and begin to build up once more the ruins of their Zion, a spiritual church and not a legal corporation, and should fondly call it "The Presbyterian church in Canada," as a branch of the world-wide Presbyterian family, they would find that this name now belongs to the O. B. U. which cannot use it, but will permit its use to others. But surely this could not be! Could it not? This Bill disbands the church would be under the absolute control of the O. B. U. very name. And as the O. B. U. would be dominated by the opposed to any Presbyterian church continuing in the field, they could prevent the name, U. would have a standard distinct of being the only country in the world where a Presbyterian church of that country was forbidden law.

The passing of this Bill would be one of the most important chapters in all Church History. I am, Sir, etc. E. SCOTT. Montreal, Jan. 15th, 1923.
