The Morris Recital Was a Revelation

It was truly a revelation to both the connoisseur and pupil. It was gratifying first to know that we have in P. E. Island such a remarkable pianist as Mr. F. E. Morris. It was a revelation to see the way the superb Gerhard-Heintzman Piano responded to his every desire.

Mr. Morris seemed perfectly at home at the Gerhard; in fact it seemed to bring out the best that was in him; and the audience sat speechless, motionless, oblivious to everything but the realization that some genius held them spell-bound in an almost super-human exhibition of musical ability.

Mr. Morris expressed himself as being delighted with the Gerhard-Heintzman, and incidentally mentioned that he knew Mr. Gerhard-Heintzman intimately, and he had absolute confidence in the fact that if he was compelled to choose between increasing the price or using inferior material. He would advance the price, but use inferior materials--NEVER; this is why every Gerhard Piano is built so uniformly satisfactory.

Why The Guardian Selected a Gerhard Heintzman

The Guardian Publishing Company scoured Canada for the best Library Style Player Piano, built in Canada, which they could offer as one of their Grand Prizes in their circulation contest.

Although their investigations led in different directions they converged and gravitated to the Gerhard Heintzman; and although it is one of the highest priced Canadian built Pianos, it is universally pronounced the supreme accomplishment in the Piano world.

Consequently the Guardian did the most natural thing in the world--they selected a Gerhard Heintzman All-Metal Player Piano and paid the price.

GOOD PAINTING JOB.--The residence of Mr. George A. Poole, Lower Montague, presents a splendid appearance since being newly painted at the hands of Mr. W. H. O'Brien of Georgetown and his efficient staff of helpers. The house has been painted in shades of brown and all who have seen it pronounced it an A-1 job. Both owner and painter are to be congratulated upon this excellent piece of work.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Bell and two children, Masters Frankie and Cecil, have just returned to Montague, from an extended visit to Sturgeon and vicinity. Judging from appearances they had a most enjoyable trip. With a continuation of the present high prices of farm products, Mr. Bell predicts a period of great prosperity in store for the farmers of Southern Kings, the crops presenting a splendid appearance, a little heat only being required to make the hay crop a bumper one. Mr. Bell commented on the almost absolute bareness of the country, scarcely a tree to be seen. He thinks the government should adopt the policy of some sections of the United States; that when a tree is cut down another must be planted in its place. It is his opinion that unless something is done to prevent the rapid depletion of the forests, the words of the poet will soon be no longer applicable, "This is the forest primaeval, the murmuring pines and the hemlock!"

SCHOOL EXAMINATION. The semi-annual examination of the St. Mary's Road East School took place on Tuesday, June 29th. There was a large attendance of parents and visitors present. After the opening chorus and an address of welcome, the pupils were examined in the different subjects by Rev. Father Gallant, Mr. C. McGugan and Mrs. Nicholas Landriagan. In knowledge of the work and in conduct the pupils gave evidence of very careful training and great credit is due to Miss Catherine McGee, who has shown her ability as a teacher during this, her first year. An excellent program was also rendered, which was greatly enjoyed by all. Opening chorus--The Maple Leaf, by the pupils. 2. Recitation--When the Wind Blows, by Katie Murphy. 3. Recitation--The All Wood Shrub, by Engeline Daly. 4. What are the things good for--by Kathleen McCarthy and Lauretta Hughes. 5. Song--"Killarney"--by Laura and May Murphy. 6. Recitations by Thos. McGee and Willie Murphy. 7. Recitation by Nellie M. McGee. 8. Recitation by Anna M. Hughes. 9. Recitation by Corbelle McGee. 10. Song dance by the girls. 11. Recitation by Marie McGee, John McGee and Lottie Welch. 12. Chorus, "Bury Me in the Valley" by the school. After the program the prizes were distributed and then all present were treated to home-made candy. A short address was given by Father Gallant, in which he complimented the teacher on the well prepared program and on the progress of the pupils, and also the parents for their interest in the school, as evidenced by the large attendance at the examination. Remarks were made by Mr. Christopher McGugan and others, after which the singing of the National Anthem brought the examination to a close.

LIKE A GRIP AT THE THROAT.--For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left an unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a woman's curative. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.
