Young-Adams Co. Scores Another Success

Prince Edward Patrons Well Pleased With Last Night's Show.

The Young Adams Company of the adventures to portray and come as a delightful change of she did it with exceptional skill. Entertainment this week and they Joe J. Flinn as Robert Thornton, are presenting a series of plays making an admirable juvenile lead that should be widely patronized. Last evening's presentation of "Mildred" was intensely interesting. In light comedy Edgar Jason and the four acts opening in Judge Howell's Garden and closing in the Judge's Library were just full of the most thrilling situations. The cast was exceptionally well placed with the talented and graceful Marjorie Adams, portraying most successfully, Mildred, the heroine of the play, around whom the story centered. Miss Adams, who never acted better was given hearty support and she was seen to her advantage while Marjorie's charming and vivacious at all times, simply won all hearts. Miss Hazel Dorne had the difficult part

KING'S COUNTY CONTEST LIVELY AT BAY FORTUNE

A Largely Attended Meeting Good Humouredly Heckles Mr. Hughes.

The political meeting at Bay Fortune Tuesday night was largely attended and was one of the liveliest held in King's County during the campaign. Mr. W. A. Towne presided and maintained excellent order throughout. Interruptions, particularly towards the end of the meeting, were frequent, but were made good naturedly and accepted in good part by the speakers.

Mr. Jas. McIsaac, the first speaker, received a warm ovation from the audience. He made an eloquent appeal for a policy of moderate protection for Canadian industries as being essential in its basic principles as the national policy of Sir John A. McDonald. As a supporter of Premier Meighen and his government, Mr. McIsaac vehemently upheld the fiscal policy under which Canada has prospered in the past and under which Canadian industries have grown and expanded. During the forty-two years of protection no fewer than 600 branch factories from the United States have been erected in Canada by manufacturers of the United States in order to allow their goods to have the advantage

British Premier May Resign Office

If No Agreement is Reached it is Reported That the Prime Minister Will Make 'A Grave and Important Announcement to the House of Commons.'

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The belief was expressed in high quarters here to-night that it might be Monday before any important development occurred in the Irish situation. All parties to the negotiations were busy today in informal discussions, but there will be no specific move before Thursday's meeting between the Prime Minister and the members of the Ulster Cabinet in London. There is a hope that Parliament may be prorogued Thursday, and as Friday is Armistice Day further official conversations concerning Ireland are likely to be adjourned until Monday.

In addition to having informal talks today with Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Curzon, Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, was busy consulting with influential Parliamentary leaders, seeking their support for the Ulster viewpoint in the Irish controversy.

Mr. Lloyd George presided over a Cabinet Council tonight at which it is understood the terms of the King's speech proroguing Parliament were discussed. The speech is expected mainly to deal with Irish affairs.

Premier May Resign
Unofficial reports were current today that in the event that Thursday's conference between the Prime Minister and the Ulsterites shows the impossibility of an agreement being reached with Ulster, the Prime Minister will make a grave and important announcement to the House of Commons. This is commonly interpreted as a threat that the Prime Minister will resign if Ulster persists in an unreasonable attitude.

The Press of Ireland, however, seems almost equally divided in optimistic and pessimistic views. In official quarters there is no sign of an improvement in the situation, and the Ulster Cabinet is expected to give unanimously reasons for refusing to assent to any concession.

There will be no resumption of the conference with the Sinn Féin delegates until the difficulty with Ulster has been overcome.

The week-end will be occupied with private conversations, and some easing in the situation is expected from the Marquis of Londonderry, Minister of Education in North Ireland, who is considered to be more in touch with powerful British opinion than any of his colleagues.

Some Hope Yet for MacKenzie King

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—The Star today publishes the following:

"MacKenzie King admitted while in the city that he was the man in the case. He even blushingly confessed he had wired Madame Gall Curci to thank her for the tribute which she had paid him, and as he jocularly added, to express his high respect for the good judgment and discrimination which she had displayed."

Premier Meighen Addressed 6,000 People in Quebec

Organized Gang Interrupted but the Premier Coolly Stuck to His Guns and Was at Last Given Good Hearing.

QUEBEC, Nov. 9.—Premier Meighen's Quebec meeting last night proved a stormy one. In the audience of approximately six thousand people who assembled to hear the Premier's address there was apparent an element which at the first apparently opposed him. This element did not hesitate to make itself heard in questions more or less to the point, levelled the Premier. At one point when the interruptions were coming fast Mr. Meighen addressed a quiet section of his hearers, "I know the audience cannot help but be struck by the intelligence of these interruptions," he said, with sarcasm. The Premier finally succeeded in getting a fair hearing and the later part of his speech was received in silence.

Mr. Meighen was followed by Hon. L. G. Belley, and the inter-uptions which had been intermittent when the Premier was speaking, became so constant that the new Postmaster General had great difficulty in making himself heard. In fact a large section of the audience failed to catch what he was saying and he made his remarks very brief.

The meeting was held in the large armory building which was fairly well filled.

Premier Meighen prefaced his speech with a few words in French. He said he was glad to be in Quebec to tell the people where the graph despatch from Rome today, which connects the insurrection with Albanian situation. A Montenegrin battalion, says the message, has seized the highly important strategic height of Mount Lovien. Vast forest fires, alleged to have been started by the Serbs are raging in the vicinity of Podgorizza.

COMPASSLESS ON UNCHARTED SEA

Mr. Meighen has asked me on the platform whether I am ready, if returned to power to put my platform of 1919 in effect. Having in mind the mariner who is to take his ship out into the unknown seas, I regard the platform as a chart by which I should be guided. I am not an autocrat; I am not going to take the whole business of Government into my own hands; but will surround myself by the ablest men I can find, and in collective wisdom find the compass needed to point the way the ship of state should take." Mr. King's speech at Aurora, Ont.
