It pays to buy in this Province.

Simon McGregor, Dalhousie, N. B., is on a business trip to this Province.

There will be beautiful fancy work, aprons, pin cushions, shopping bags, bureau scarfs, etc., all hand worked at Zion Church Tea, Dec. 7th.

At the police court in this city yesterday A. E. Cannon, charged with not accounting for certain moneys belonging to Chandler & Bell, was remanded until the ninth.

The following were registered at the Victoria Hotel in this city yesterday: Geo. Montgomery, Montague; J. A. McDonald, Cardigan; A. E. Prowse, Murray Harbor; A. E. Arsenaull, Summerside.

Greg Fraser, pilot on the S.S. Minto, has received notice of his dismissal. He will be succeeded by Joseph Buote, who belongs to the north of Prince Edward Island. This change will hardly be approved by the majority of Pictou people. Mr. Fraser was not a partisan. He was an experienced and competent pilot. Since writing the foregoing we hear that Capt. Finlayson and Puster Macdonald, of the Minto, have also lost their positions and that First Mate McPherson resigned. So far as we can learn there have been few changes on the Earl Grey.—Pictou Advocate.

A regular monthly meeting of the School Board was held on Saturday at 4 p. m. There were present Judge Blanchard, Messrs Smith, R. M. Johnson, James, Nash, and Dr. Jenkins. The teachers report showed that enrollment for the past month to be 1081, Average Attendance 927.71, percentage 90.93. Cases of tardiness 287, truants 83, visits to parents 10, notices 85, corporal punishment 10 fell below in grading 52. Three teachers had no cases of tardiness. The highest percentage made was 98.22, while nine teachers had over 90 per cent. The resignation of two teachers was received, and that of one conditionally. A number of applications were received which were ordered to lie on the table, to be considered at an adjourned meeting of the Board to be held on Wednesday the 6th instant at 4 p. m.

In Cook's Studio on Queen St. can be seen photographs that symbolize the highest ideals the art has yet attained. It is a real treat for the eyes of art lovers, to see their large and splendid array of finely finished photographs—pictures that express even in the minutest detail, the care and skill that has made them possible. Mr. Cook is now showing a splendid array of new mountings in every shade, shape, size and design imaginable. A large variety of soft and heavy mounts are shown in such a profusion of pretty tints and shades that will lend a delightfully harmonizing touch to the tones of the photo. The new shade, called Negua, is particularly neat and pretty. Then the quality of the pictures is known to all and it can safely be said that for photographs that are real, striking likenesses of the subject there is not a studio in Eastern Canada that can make a better showing. Cook's Studio has had long experience and each year marks a progressive step that makes their work stand out in the van of artistic distinction. Everyone, from infants to great-grand-parents receive the same courteous attention from the staff at Cook's Studio. "The Studio Where Baby is Always Welcome" and, judging by the natural, happy expressions in the photos of the children that are displayed in the main office, a visit to Cook's Studio is a most happy and pleasant experience. A noticeable feature of Cook's pictures is that the pose is always free and graceful, the expression is natural and pleasant and the shading effect is given beyond all words of praise. An innovation that is becoming very popular are now in hand colored photographs, finished in natural tints, and the showing of these made by Cook's Studio is an art treat in itself. This firm has only recently started this work as they were too busy with other work to take up this new idea. The patrons will be fully convinced that the waiting was worth their while when they are now offered such splendid artistic workmanship as these hand colored photos show. Each holiday season there are more photos given as presents than the previous season and to those in doubt as to what to give their friends, the writer would suggest photos from Cook's, as a gift that will always be pleasing, appropriate, practical and valuable. Their show window, just around Hughes' corner, will give a small idea of the excellence of their work.

BIG BUSINESS MEN BROUGHT IT ABOUT

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—Startling as was the sudden confession of guilt as the plea of John McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and his brother, James B., the one of causing the Lewellyn works explosion and the other the Los Angeles Times disaster that cost twenty-one lives, more amazing to the people of Los Angeles was the information that big business men had brought about the surrender in a novel way. That the application of the golden rule and its principle of conciliation founded on religious convictions started the ball rolling towards the admission of guilt by the McNamaras was the theory, supported and confirmed by more than a dozen business men who participated in the movement, which today stands out foremost as the reason for the abrupt conclusion of the trial, which was begun nearly two months ago. But, despite this, a chain of unexplained incidents produced wide spread speculations. These include the arrest of Burt Franklin, a defense detective on a charge of bribing a prospective juror, the evidence maintained by the prosecution as to the origin of the $4,000 received at the time of the arrest, the mysterious disappearance yesterday, at the district attorney's office, of Lawrence Sullivan, a detective and the subsequent perturbation of the prosecution when it was discovered that Sullivan's visit had become known to outsiders. The idea that a group of business men had put their heads together and determined that to prolong the McNamara fight might mean interminable warfare with superstitious danger to the city's welfare, is one which won wide credence because prominent people were secretly acquainted with the fact that a concerted movement was on foot to bring about a compromise. The clemency to be shown the guilty men is to be the reward for their willingness to yield; for the people at large there was the hope that the welfare would cease and that an era of good feeling would ensue.

Many members of the district attorney's staff were of the opinion that the defense had been forced to lay down its arms as a result, not only of the evidence which was gathered by it, but of the effect which a conviction in the Franklin bribery case might have upon the chances of the McNamara fight. The Franklin incident forced the acceptance of the compromise by the defendants themselves, is still believed in many quarters. "We had a very strong case which ever way you look at it," said assistant district attorney G. Ray Horton. On the other hand those who participated in the movement to influence the defendants to yield through their counsel, hold that the McNamaras and their attorneys saw the handwriting on the wall and became convinced that a much better solution for all concerned than a trial could give, would be reached by a mutual agreement at this juncture. One of the factors which is said to have entered strongly into the minds of the physician condition of James B. McNamara, the younger brother. Carelessness in caring for his physical welfare is said to have weakened his health. The possibility of an appearance of heart trouble while the trial was in progress had been discussed by his counsel. Pronouncement of sentence now is in the hands of Judge Walter Bordwell. The district attorney can make recommendations and usually they are accepted, but the court is by no means bound to impose the sentence suggested, Judge Bordwell would not talk for publication today. It is said that he favors life imprisonment for James B., and a few years for John J. The indictments against John J. for complicity in the Times disaster are expected to be quashed on motion of the district attorney next Tuesday, as it is said John J., himself did not direct the blowing up of the Times, while he has pleaded guilty to the charge of having caused the Lewellyn Iron Works explosion, in which no lives were lost. The minimum sentence for this offence, according to statute is one year, and there is no maximum penalty fixed. Under the penalty code Orrie E. Macmanigal will be sentenced, as he is expected to plead guilty to a
