Situated outside the City limits yet within easy commuting distance of the Island capital is SANDY'S RESTAURANT. Opened only a little more than a year the restaurant is doing a land office business and genial Sandy Saunders, D.F.C., is confidently looking forward to the future.

The first drive-in service station to be erected in the City with a well known business man at the helm is the Red Indian Service Station situated on the corner of Great George and Fitzroy Streets. He is Major Tom Davies of No. 3 CACRU returned to his home city at the latter part of last year after service overseas that saw him advance from the rank of second lieutenant to the one he now holds.

"Sandy", who came to the Province as an instructor in the R.A.F. during the war decided he would like to make his home here. Shot down over Holland and suffering severe injuries, Sandy, during his period of hospitalization, never gave up his objective of establishing himself "on the Island."

Tom Davies was the first lessee of this popular service station holding the position from 1930 to 1941. On his return from active service he took over control again the first of this year.

Accompanied to Canada by his wife and son, Sandy purchased the Dennis property on the St. Peter's Road and began the rather difficult task of operating a chicken farm and high class restaurant. How well he has succeeded can be testified by the hundreds of patrons who have made it a practice of dining at the beautifully situated road rest-centre.

Then again there is the hydraulic greasing hoist, wash stand, etc., that motorists are daily taking advantage of.
