TRINITY UNITED CHURCH. - Services appropriate to the Christmas season will be held in Trinity United Church, Sunday next, Rev. T. E. McLennan will preach both the morning and evening. The morning theme will be "No Room in the Inn" and the subject of the evening discourse "The Flight into Egypt." Sunday School at the regular hour, under the direction of Miss Marie McDougall, deaconess. The music for the day will consist of Christmas Carols and Anthems. Mr. A. R. Kendall will preside at the organ. On Christmas Day at 10.30 a.m. there will be a service at which the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered.

PLEASANT GROVE CONCERT. - A very successful Christmas Concert was held in Pleasant Grove Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 17. The hall was filled by parents and children. In one corner stood a pretty Christmas tree, Mr. Leo Morrison, capable actor as usual, gave a delightful programme was given by the pupils, consisting of recitations, dialogues, dainty dance, Santa Claus appeared and gave presents to the pupils. A treat of oranges and apples was given by Women's Institute. The pupils gave to the teacher, Mrs. Jeanette Marshall and pupils on the success of their concert. The singing of National Anthem brought the evening's entertainments to a close.

CHRISTMAS MAIL UNUSUALLY HEAVY. - Postal authorities reported yesterday that the number of parcels delivered in the City this Christmas has broken all previous records. The increase in stamp sales is from 20 to 25 per cent and the increase in incoming parcels 100 per cent. Within the past eight days 263,800 letters have passed through the City post office, while last year in the same period 203,138 were handled. The fact that local people started on December 13 to post mail and that by December 23 the amount of mail handled was practically the same as in normal seasons, indicated that the public has been cooperating very well, states the postmaster, Mr. Harold Pickard. It is expected, therefore, that all mail arriving in the post office Christmas eve will be delivered on Christmas Day. Postal employees, however, work under a handicap as they are very cramped for floor space, Mr. Pickard said.

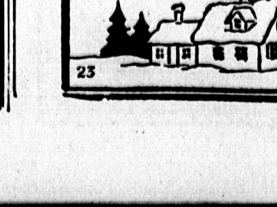

TRINITY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT A SUCCESS. - The two innovations of the evening were the awards presented to 28 children for memory work proficiency during the year and the presentation of a cheque for the Sunday School fund by the Girl Guides.

CHRISTMAS

HOLY COMMUNION Trinity United Church Saturday, Dec. 25th at 10.30 a. m. Service of Consecration and Dedication Greetings from Trinity The Pastor, Rev. T. E. McLennan, The Deaconess, Miss Marie McDougall, The Official Boards and officers of all organizations connected with Trinity United Congregation extend to its membership and all Christian people every good wish for a blessed and consecrated Christmas.

St. Paul's Church

FOURTH SUNDAY IN ADVENT Last Sunday morning, as the Advent Season draws to a close, culminating in the glorious Christmas festival, the Rector at St. Paul's, Charlottetown, concluded his Sunday morning series of sermons by pointing out to his hearers, certain undeniable similarities between the soul and the body. The essentials to both alike are food, exercise and rest. If any are missing or neglected, the body suffers and so also does the soul. But as if it is not nourished and exercised and rested, Christ, the Saviour, supplies our needs if we but ask for them. That is, the one, the only requisite, we must ask earnestly, humbly.

The Morning Service was brightened by the reappearance after an absence of some years, of Roy Choisters-The faithful few, who for the past months have been training and encouraging this group of boys should be amply rewarded by the splendid results attained, by the co-operation of the boys themselves and by the added pleasure which the sweetness of boy's voices brings to the Service. The fine decorations, Reginald Jenkins, Daniel Wood, J. C. Wood, Boswell Carver, 25c. Lawson Wood. $14.25

At the evening service, Squadron Leader Guinness, Protestant Minister at the R. F. Station, was the preacher, taking as his text, 1 Kings, 18 v. 21: "How long wilt thou be barren, O land, that sayest, I will not have a husband, because I have forsaken the Lord my God." The speaker portrayed the story, a picture of a Canadian "teen aged boy who had run away." At the Camp which had given him temporary shelter, he heard at the evening fireside chats, the Message of Jesus - not with his ears, but with his heart. That boy did not sit on the fence. He did not waver between two opinions. He went straight home and returned in a few days with brothers and sisters and cousins. Not for something to eat, but they were given them and plenty, but were still not satisfied - They wanted the story of Jesus - a personal picture of the Saviour, who had before Camp broke up, with yet other members of his family - the middle aged, the aged, as well as his younger cousins. He did not sit on the fence, between two opinions, but as soon as he heard the Message of The Master, he came down on the right side, so filled with joy, that he was compelled to bring it to his own family with whom previously he had felt he could not confide. Padre Guinness is an easy pleasant speaker, and his words carry conviction. Upon his invitation, nearly half the congregation remained for an after service of meditation wherein he explained how the believer could find Christ, and what he would experience when he opened the door of his heart, and asked Jesus to come in.

Upon his invitation, nearly half the congregation remained for an after service of meditation wherein he explained how the believer could find Christ, and what he would experience when he opened the door of his heart, and asked Jesus to come in.

At the evening service, Squadron Leader Guinness, Protestant Minister at the R. F. Station, was the preacher, taking as his text, 1 Kings, 18 v. 21: "How long wilt thou be barren, O land, that sayest, I will not have a husband, because I have forsaken the Lord my God." The speaker portrayed the story, a picture of a Canadian "teen aged boy who had run away." At the Camp which had given him temporary shelter, he heard at the evening fireside chats, the Message of Jesus - not with his ears, but with his heart. That boy did not sit on the fence. He did not waver between two opinions. He went straight home and returned in a few days with brothers and sisters and cousins. Not for something to eat, but they were given them and plenty, but were still not satisfied - They wanted the story of Jesus - a personal picture of the Saviour, who had before Camp broke up, with yet other members of his family - the middle aged, the aged, as well as his younger cousins. He did not sit on the fence, between two opinions, but as soon as he heard the Message of The Master, he came down on the right side, so filled with joy, that he was compelled to bring it to his own family with whom previously he had felt he could not confide. Padre Guinness is an easy pleasant speaker, and his words carry conviction.
