Grace and Beauty For The Figure

Women who wish to keep youth-ful-looking and supple as well as slender consider daily exercises as important as correct care of skin and hair. Stage and screen actresses not only go in for active sports (tennis is a favorite), but they conscientiously and regularly practice various cut-and-dried routines to keep their muscles hard and their bodies flexible. Some go to profes-sional exercise teachers several times a week. Others exercise by themselves, doing twists, turns and kicks that ward off stiffness and lack of grace.

Reduce That Waist Line

Remember that bending and stretching exercises are excellent for the waistline. When you get out of bed in the morning, hold your knees stiff, bend forward and touch the floor with your finger-tips. Then stretch arms above your head as far as they will go, making believe that the upper part of your body is being pulled upward out of the hip sockets. Swing your arms to the right. Keeping elbows close to your ears, and bend to the left as far as you can; then to the right; then backward.

DOG SAVES LIFE

AYLMER, Que., Sept. 25.—(C.P.)—David Friend today credited his pointer dog with saving his life. The little animal jumped on his face as he slept, not know-ing his rooming house was afire. Friend found the place full of smoke and jumped choking from a window with the dog in his arms. The house was destroyed.

STYLE FOR GOLFERS

LONDON—The recent inclination of British golfers to pass up plu-sieurs entirely in favor of flannel trousers has brought forth a pop-ular innovation in jackets to match. The new "wind-breaker" also is of soft flannel, in a variety of shades large enough to match almost any trousers.

Communionism Is Only Cure

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—Alfred E. Smith told 45,000 pilgrims to the Seventh National Eucharistic Con-gress last night that "the way to unity society is by Communionism, not communism."

The former governor of New York drew long applause from the huge crowd as he defended the cap-italist system. He spoke from a platform in the middle of Cleve-land's Lake Front Stadium.
