Peculiar To Itself

In what it is and what it does—containing the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic substances and effecting the most radical and permanent cures of all humors and all eruptions, relieving weak, tired, languid feelings, and building up the whole system—is true only of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was completely run down, troubled with headaches and dizziness and pains in my back. I could not sleep and had no appetite, and medicine did not do me any good until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla which gave great relief and in a short time entirely cured me." MRS. L. WINTERTON, Orangeville, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

THE CAPITAL OF THE WEST

Latest From Summerside and Prince County.

DAN SUTHERLAND left yesterday for Winnipeg.

D. K. CURRIE and Miss Annie McNutt returned last evening from Montreal.

W. S. MCKIE took six fine looking horses over in the Northumberland yesterday.

E. M. and Mrs. Myrick, Tignish arrived by the Northumberland last night on return from Boston.

REV. WILLIAM TOWNSHEND and Miss Townshend, Bass River, N. B, were passengers by the Northumberland last evening.

HARRY MORRISON, who for some time has had charge of the Summerside Electric Light Station, left yesterday for Winnipeg.

D. F. Maxwell C. E. will be in Market Hall on Tuesday evening next to confer with the people of Summerside regarding waterworks and sewerage.

REV. P. S. MacKillop will give an address in the Baptist Church this evening at eight o'clock on The Ten Lost Tribes of Israel Found. He will also preach in the above church Sunday evening next.

CHESLEY SCHUUMAN of Toronto, son of Major Schurman of this town was a passenger by the Northumberland last evening and proceeded to Charlottetown where he will for about three weeks relieve Mr. Wallace, Mgr of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Rates for the Home Comers excursion next July have been arranged by the I. C. R. as follows:—Tickets on the Standard Certificate plan will be issued at all points in Quebec from the 7th to the 12th of July at one first class fare good for return up to July 25th; at all booking stations on the I. C. R. in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia tickets at one first class fare will be issued on July 11, 14, 18 and 21st, good for seven days from date of issue. It is expected the C. P. R., Boston and Maine and the Maine Central, will issue tickets on a similar arrangement to the I. C. R. certificate plan; but in regard to these later railways nothing definite will be known until a proposed conference of the general passenger agents of the lines will be held in the course of a week or so, probably in Summerside or St. John.

AFTER DEATH.

Poem Which Marks the Highest Achievement of Sir Edwin Arnold.

He who died at Azan sends
This to comfort faithful friends—
Faithful friends! it lies, I know,
Pale and white and cold as snow;
And ye say, "Abdullah's dead!"
Weeping at my feet and head.
I can see your falling tears,
I can hear your cries and prayers,
Yet I smile and whisper this.
"I am not that thing you kiss;
Cease your tears and let it lie;
It was mine, it is not I."

Sweet friends! what the women lave
For its last bed in the grave
Is a tent which I am quitting,
Is a garment no more fitting,
Is a cage from which at last
Like a hawk my soul hath passed.
Love the inmate, not the room;
The wearer, not the garb; the plume
Of the falcon, not the bars
Which kept him from the splendid stars.

Loving friends! be wise, and dry
Straightway every weeping eye.
What ye lift upon the bier
Is not worth a wistful tear.
'Tis an empty seashell, one
Out of which the pearl is gone.

The shell is broken, it lies there;
The pearl, the all, the soul, is here.
'Tis an earthen jar whose lid
Allah sealed, the while it hid
That treasure of his treasury.
A mind which loved him; let it lie!
Let the shard be earth's once more,
Since the gold shines in his store!
Allah Mu'hid, Allah most good!
Now thy grace is understood.

Now the long, long darkness ends,
Yet ye wail, my foolish friends,
while the man whom ye call "dead,"
In unbroken bliss instead
Lives, and loves you; lost, 'tis true
By any light that shines for you;
But in light ye cannot see
Of unfulfilled felicity,
And enlarging Paradise,
Lives the life that never dies.

Farewell, friends! Yet not farewell;
Where I am ye, too, shall dwell.
I am gone before your face
A heart-beat's time, a grey ant's pace
When ye come where I have stepped,
Ye will marvel why ye wept;
Ye will know, by true love taught,
That here is all, and there is naught.

Weep awhile, if ye are fain—
Sunshine still must follow rain!
Only not at death, for death—
Now I see—is that first breath
Which our souls draw when we enter
Life, that is of all life centre.

Know ye Allah's law is love,
Viewed from Allah's throne above;
Be ye firm of trust, and come
Faithful onward to your home!
'La Allah illa Allah! Yea,
Mu'hid! Restorer! Sovereign!" Say!

He who died at Azan gave
This to those that made his grave.

Kitchener's Thoroughness

Lord Kitchener is determined that the Indian army, while under his command, shall be in a condition to meet any emergency. When the details were submitted to him for the last manoeuvres at Attock, he approved of them generally, but strongly objected to one suggestion. It had been proposed that the troops to take part in the operations should be told off as usual, so that they might be in readiness to move when necessary. "Why give them notice?" was Lord Kitchener's inquiry; "and why warn staff officers? It is surely all-important that the army of India should be ready to move anywhere at a few hours' notice. Let there be no published program and no issued orders; let the conditions of actual warfare be imitated as closely as possible." Nothing, therefore, was allowed to be known, beyond the fact that the manoeuvres were to take place in the country round Peshawur, the ground upon which there would be certain to be a mobilization of forces in the event of any trouble arising on the frontier.

Comforting the Curate.

A very nervous young curate who as a rule always shaved himself once found himself compelled to patronize a barber, having while from home forgotten his shaving tackle.

"I hope you can shave me without cutting me. I am—er—I mean I have a very nervous—er—that is, sensitive skin," stammered the curate.

"Cut you, sir," repeated the juvenile looking operator reassuringly, flourishing his gleaming razor round the shrinking throat of the curate. "If I so much as nick you once I'll—I'll—I'll cut your 'ead off, sir, and my own arterwards. I can't say fairer'n that."—Liverpool Globe.

Playing Down to Him.

Young couple (who expect the visit of a very miserly relative, from whom they have expectations) are clearing the room of every sign of luxury. Wife (earnestly)—We must do all we can to make uncle feel at home. Husband (caustically)—Then we had better let the fire out.—Punch.

DON'T TRUST TO LUCK

Even if there is such a thing as luck you cannot afford to trust to it in case of sickness. You know by the experience of others that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and tissue and revitalizes the nerves and by using it regularly you can be certain that your system is being built up and that weakness and disease are being overcome.

Glenaladale Farm for Sale

THIS FIRST CLASS FARM, late the residence of John Archibald McDonald, Esquire, deceased is situated at the head of Tracadie Bay quite near to Tracadie Railway station. It contains 529⅜ acres, of which about 200 acres are under cultivation. The soil is of excellent quality and eminently suitable for grazing purposes. It is distant from Charlottetown by road about 13 miles and fronts on the St. Peter's and Mill Cove Roads and Tracadie Bay. On the premises are a large brick residence, stables and barn &c., under one roof, connected with the residence by a large covered passage way, giving ample accommodation for everything connected with extensive farming operations. A good carriage road extends from the ground to the loft of the barn. A large silo and manurie shed adjoin the barn. Those buildings are all comparatively new and of the best construction, pure water from a never failing spring is brought to the residence and stables by underground pipes, laid by an engineer from Montreal. The wooded part of the farm lying east of the Sandhills Road will be sold if desired in Lots to suit purchasers.
