The Realm of Rubber

We have to be careful in the selection of rubber goods and you should be as careful as we.

Between the highest grade and the wholly bad there is not very much difference in external appearance, but the difference is soon found out if you happen to get hold of an unworthy kind. We carry different grades of which the cheapest are good and the best are the finest to be had. Each kind is sold for just what it is and just the right price.

CONSERVATION.

If a history of Prince Edward Island for the present decade were written one of the outstanding features in it would be the development of the fox business. A few years hence the important fact in connection with this industry will not, we believe, be the number of men who grew wealthy as a result of it but the impetus it will have given to conservation in other directions.

The fox industry is conservation on a gigantic scale. It has taken from the wild, where it was threatened with extinction in the course of a few years, one of the most valuable of our fur-bearing animals, made it available as a commercial asset, placed it under conditions in which its natural value will not only be preserved but greatly enhanced. Until this industry began the fox was hunted out of practically the whole of North America, its natural habitat, to make room for the processes of civilization. In a few more years as the cultivation of the land is extended the fox, in the nature of things, must go the way of the buffalo and other valuable animals. To Prince Edward Island belongs the honor of saving the fox and insuring its continued existence under even more favorable conditions than nature had given it.

This bit of history, written within the past five years, has attracted almost world-wide interest and has directed attention towards conservation along other lines. The oyster industry, as yet in its infancy, promises to become, in the very near future, of equal importance to that of fox breeding. A generation ago Prince Edward Island owned the richest oyster beds in the world, in proportion to their area. These beds became depleted, not by the encroachments of civilization but by greed and want of foresight. They were exploited for the present dollar without a thought for the future and with the inevitable result. Today they are practically valueless except as a foundation upon which to begin rebuilding and re-creating. A few years hence, with the conservation ideas that are now in operation, they will bear the same relation to their original value that the well fed fox in our ranches bears to his half-starved and hunted brother in the rapidly narrowing wilds.

Conservation is now in the air and the field is practically unlimited. We have been and are still wasting our resources to an appalling degree. We have destroyed our forests, have extracted the fertility from our soil, have wasted as refuse unlimited products and by-products the proper use of which would have meant almost unlimited wealth.

The saw-dust, treated at our sawmills as refuse and a nuisance, the fense rails rotting in our fields, the potatoes and vegetables rotting in our cellars and carted to the dump-heap as worthless, it has been discovered, can be converted cheaply and economically into wood alcohol, one of the greatest fuels in the industrial world. Conservation will take hold of these wastes and turn them into profitable uses.

We are but at the beginning of conservation and the next few years will, if scientific research and discovery mean anything see progress along this line that has hitherto been undreamed of.

MARITIME CLAIMS.

In the speech with which His Honor Governor Wood, of New Brunswick, opened the provincial legislature the other day reference was made to the united efforts put forth by the governments of the maritime provinces to prevent a further reduction in federal representation, and also to the claims of these provinces for compensation on account of the public lands granted to Manitoba.

As our readers already know several conferences have been held by the premiers of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island at which these claims were fully discussed and concerted action decided upon. It is pleasing to note that the New Brunswick speech from the throne is very optimistic on the subject and His Honor assures the House that he has reason to believe the matters in questions will be settled in the near future and that the settlement will be acceptable to the maritime provinces.

The fishery claims, in which Prince Edward Island is also very much interested, is touched upon. It has been under consideration for some time and the proposal has been made to the Federal Government that, if unable to recommend the payment of the claims, the question should be submitted to arbitration.

The settlement of these long vexed questions, with the details of which our readers are familiar, will be an unmixed blessing. They have been long in the air and have served in many strenuous campaigns as leading lights which, so far, invariably have turned out to be of the will o' the wisp variety and have vanished as soon as approached. It will be to the everlasting credit of the present maritime governments if they succeed in effecting a settlement even if it should prove to be less attractive than when in the will o' the wisp stage. It would even be a blessing to reach the conclusion that they have only been will o' the wisps from the first provided that should be the end of the matter.

Our political world should harbor no unsettled claims. They are sure to be exploited by the adventurer and the wire puller. Settlement may, it is true, be difficult to arrive at in complicated cases and these have been especially complicated and difficult. They have, however, been dangling in the political air long enough to be "catalogued" by the political scientists and it is pleasing to note that, whatever list they may appear in, whether real and tangible or only imaginary, the matter will be settled definitely in the very near future.

We understand that there is good reason to hope that, in these cases, the prospect of a favorable settlement is very bright. There is a growing fraternity among the provinces, the result largely of the movement westward from the maritime provinces, and the West, which is now the big end of Canada, is peopled largely with Easterners. The intercommunication resulting from this movement of population is rapidly breaking down the barriers that, too long, have separated provincial interests and created little provincial jealousies. Canada is daily growing nearer to the idea of oneness and of common interest and in the new Canadian life that is developing the spirit of fairness and justice will be more apparent. The recent conferences have been more than maritime. Quebec and Ontario and the western provinces have been consulted and in the newer and broader outlook resulting, the claims of the smaller provinces in the East are losing their far-away look and becoming Canadianized.

MEXICAN ROUGHS ASSAULT CRUISER DENVER OFFICERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Two officers of the cruiser Denver were assaulted yesterday at Acapulco, Mex., in a violent anti-American outbreak, according to state department advices to-day. Neither was injured. Surg. Camerer and Ensign Guthrie were the victims of the assault. Open threats against Americans are rife.

Capt. Thomas Washington of the cruiser Denver cabled that during the entire time the Denver was anchored at Acapulco, much anti-American feeling was apparent. He said Surg. Cemerer and Ensign Guthrie were on shore leave when they were assaulted by roughs, the culmination of the anti-American demonstration. Hoots and jeers and epithets first were hurled at the American officers, and then the Mexicans began throwing missiles. The Americans offered no provocation, it was stated, but hurried away to the Denver's launch.

"Conditions are bad and open threats against Americans are heard," the official bulletin of the state department stated. It was stated that the anti-American feeling is increasing in southern Mexico and along the American border.

Officials at the state department feel the gravest concern for the safety of Americans in Acapulco pending the arrival of the cruiser South Dakota due there Sunday.

SUGGESTION

Suggestion is of three kinds: subconscious, muscular, and external. The first must be noted here. When you put a shell to your ear you hear a murmur as of far-off voices. So is it with the mind. It is haunted by the sub-conscious memories of the past. Some of them are echoes from the silent lips of our ancestors, still repeating themselves ever more faintly in succeeding generations. In that subconscious state we catch the undertone of great events, which long since moved the world, just as the wavelet which laps the shore has in it a tremor from storms which ages ago swept the ocean.

What influence the minds of a congregation have on the extempore prayers of the minister as a question of interest. At such times his own will is often subordinate to the influence of the moment. The well-known instance in the life of "Rabbi" Duncan may be cited. Unknown to the preacher he had entered the church and seated himself below the pulpit. The prayer uttered by the minister was clearly not his own; the very form of the petition bore evidence of the strong individuality of the earnest worshipper seated below.

BMALL FIRE CAUSES SERIOUS COLLISION.

MONTREAL, Feb. 14—A comparatively insignificant fire at the foot of John street at 8.15 o'clock was the cause of a collision, in which one of Toronto's finest fire engines and a street car were badly damaged and four persons were injured. It tied up trains on two transcontinental railway systems for nearly three hours, inconveniencing 10,000 people at the Union Station. Westbound street car traffic on King Street was interrupted for two hours.

Fire engine No. 6, probably the heaviest of the Toronto department's fire-fighting appliances, weighing seven or eight tons, and the Toronto Street Railway Company's car No. 874 met in collision at King and Simcoe streets, while the engine was on the way to the fire. Two members of the fire department were injured when the engine, drawn by three spirited horses, was on its way down Simcoe street from the Adelaide Street Fire Station. Tanner was driving and Walker was on the back firing up. The driver does not remember what happened, for he was thrown violently to the pavement and rendered unconscious.

Makes Your Backache Vanish, Drives All Rheumatic Pains Away

New Discovery Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles Relieving Backache and and Bladder Disorders After Few Doses are Taken.

No matter how badly you suffer, how chronic your case may be, or what has failed to cure you, your pains will leave, your aches vanish and the torturous, killing backache or rheumatism will bother you no more.

This is what Croxone, the new scientific discovery, does for sufferers of such troubles. It cures these diseases because it reaches the cause and removes it. It soaks right into the walls and linings of the kidneys and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs like water does a sponge—neutralizes, and dissolves every particle or uric acid and makes the kidneys sift from the blood all the waste matter and poisons that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and leaves the kidneys in a clean, strong, healthy condition, so they can filter the blood and keep you well.

If you suffer with backache—have pains in the neck or sides—nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croxone is different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else on earth ever used for the purpose. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves your suffering the very first time you use it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

The Proposed

Upton Black Fox Company, Ltd.

Head Office Charlottetown, P. E. I.

A Black Fox Ranch is being established on the beautiful Upton Farm North River, where conditions are ideal for the maintenance of such a ranch.

Five pairs of the best Island Black Foxes have been secured and the company is capitalized at $70,000.00. One pair of the above foxes are breeders while the remaining four pair are from 1913 litters. $66,000.00 of the capital goes to purchase the stock and $4,000.00 is put to one side for the maintenance of the ranch for first year.

The best feature of the above proposition is the fact that no percentage of the increase is taken for keep of foxes, etc. The shareholders will be charged the actual cost of running expenses.

The capitalization is divided into 1400 shares at the par value of $50.00 per share.

Up to the present considerable stock has been subscribed by foreign investors who think this one of the best proposition yet placed before the investing public. Intending investors will please use the following application blank or apply in person or letter to H. G. Jenkins, Sec'y and Treas, Grafton Street, Charlottetown, P. E. Island.
