CRIMINAL ACTION.—While on the way home from the race track on Wednesday evening one of the automobiles was brought to a sudden standstill on the Donaldston Road by an accident to the tires. Upon investigation being made it was found that some one had deliberately placed in the wheel tracks, pieces of wood in which were set spikes and old mowing machine blades. The tires of the first car that came in contact with this diabolical obstruction were "cut". Had a horse driven over these blades and spikes the animal could have been terribly injured. Such a criminal deed as this merits a heavy penalty. A few years in penitentiary to parties guilty of such a crime should be sufficient to teach the needed lesson.

LIVERY BUSINESS AUCTION.—Attention is called to the auction sale of the W. F. Robins' Livery business to take place on Friday the 17th inst. This is one of the most complete livery outfits in the province and whether it shall be bought out in its entirety as a livery business or in individual purchase the sale will be one of the most important and extensively held here for some time. Horses, carriages and sleighs, of all kinds, harness, and everything that goes to outfit first class driving rigs will be offered for sale. Read the advertisement in this paper. 4030.

THE A. B. WINCHESTER SOLD.—Mr. G. H. Holbrook on behalf of the Naval Department, has purchased from Mr. Lemuel Winchester of this city his steam yacht, the "A. B. Winchester," Lieutenant Leaget, and a crew arrived here from Sydney on Tuesday and took charge of the boat, which left at noon yesterday on route to Sydney via Pictou and Mulgrave. The A. B. Winchester will be used on the patrol service around Sydney and Halifax. Both the hull and the engines of this smart little craft were built by Mr. Winchester during his spare time and she is a splendid example of expert workmanship. It is understood that Mr. Winchester received a very satisfactory figure for her.

"NOTHING SERIOUS".—Judging by the cables coming from the Island boys who have recently been reported gassed, there is nothing to fear from their condition. Dr. Bagnall received a cable yesterday from his son, Gr. ## THE UBIQUITY OF THE BIBLE

The Bible is the Book to which the toilers of the world turn for comfort—for consolation—for wisdom. It is the only message given to mankind that has lightened life of its burdens and shown death of its terrors. Like the sun, its rays reach every nook and cranny of this globe. Unlike the sun it never sets.

Wherever men lead lives of danger; wherever women lead lives of sorrow—you are sure to find the Bible. In the dripping mines deep in the bowels of the earth; in the blood-reeking trenches of the battle-field, with their awful hell of bursting bombs and shredded flesh; in the felon's cell where solitude and silence pierce the brain to madness; in the wrack and fury of the death-ridden tempest; in the widow's lonely room here starving orphans cry for bread; in ALL the places of despair and desolation known to man—there will you find the Bible—the first refuge and the last resort of the human soul in agony unto its Maker!

Were you condemned to die tomorrow—what would you first send for—a book—the Bible! If you were to found a new state—a new nation—upon what would you frame your laws; upon what would you base your system of ethics and morality? Upon the Bible! If by some fearful hap and hazard of history a second Attila were to sweep through the world and destroy all the books—what one, only Book would the peoples in their anguish beseech him to spare and to preserve—the Bible! But were there universal conflagration—the world in flames—and all the works wrought by the hand of men, to perish—the Bible could not perish! On the morrow it would be rewritten from the heart's blood of countless millions—not a word not a syllable wanting—and civilization would be constructed anew!

With every throb of the human pulse—every second of mortal time—somewhere on this earth—human lips are uttering its inspired words—some human soul racked with anguish—some human body twisted with pain—finds its alleviation—its consolation—its only relief—in the Bible.

Yes the Bible is ubiquitous. Wherever life is—amidst the stir and smoke of this dim spot which men call earth—there you will find the Bible.
