

Gabby Street Evens Count With Mack

Athletics Are Shut Out By The Cardinals 2-0

Gabby Street's Red Birds Make Sensational Comeback In Second Game Of World Series.

By Alvin Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—Led by a fleet young rookie outfielder, John "Pepper" Martin, who almost single handedly shattered the spell of big George Earnshaw's pitching mastery, the St. Louis Cardinals rode to triumph over the world champion Athletics today on the crest of a sensational shutout performance by "Wild Bill" Hallahan.

Hallahan, for the second straight year, blanked the champions of the baseball universe, holding them to three singles and winning by 2-0 in a sensational duel with Earnshaw, who tamed all but the ubiquitous and rabbit-footed Martin. The triumph squared the World Series at one victory apiece, as the warring forces wound up their opening skirmishes in the west and headed for Philadelphia to resume on Monday a battle that has suddenly become a toss up again.

HITTING SENSATION

Martin, a hitting sensation from the outset, ran his total up to five hits in two days, scored both Cardinal runs as a result of fast base running and gave Hallahan the margin of victory that the gallant southpaw protected in a dramatic, exciting finish that saw the Athletics stopped in the ninth inning with the bases full. Although his change of pace baffled them and silenced for the most part the big bats of Cochrane, Simmons and Fox throughout the game, Hallahan's wildness put him frequently in hot water. His final jam was in the ninth and "Wild Bill" needed all his courage to pull safely through a situation that threatened to bust up the ball game. He had turned back his foes in the fifth inning with the bases full and one out as Earnshaw hit into a double play.

Fox walked at the start of the ninth. Dykes also received a pass. Hallahan's seventh free ticket of the game, after Miller fled to Haffey. Dibs Williams, young and over-anxious to come through in the pinch, struck out as he lunged for a bad ball and then Connie Mack sent Jim Moore up to hit for Earnshaw. There was a wild yell as Moore also swung and missed the third strike. The Cardinals and the crowd thought the game was over. Catcher Jimmy Wilson had picked the ball up from the dirt and thrown to third base in a spirit of triumph, but the A's were kept alert by their sideline captain, Eddie Collins, and Moore raced to first safely to fill the bags.

PULLED BONER

Wilson had overlooked the formality of throwing his man out at first, since he had picked the pitch up from the dirt. For the next few moments all was chaos, but Captain Collins saved the situation momentarily for the champions and the umpires sent the Cardinals back to their positions. Max Bishop came to bat with opportunity beckoning him, but his pop foul toward the left field boxed off the right field line. Bottomley charged over, made a spectacular catch for the final out and half tumbled over the fence into the arms of spectators. Even the scorers were groggy under the effect of these lightning-like events. An error that was at first charged against Hallahan, for his low strike, though it was also a third strike, later was recalled and the misplay charged against Wilson.

WORLD OF STUFF

A wildly yelling home town crowd of 35,947 cash customers nearly 4,000 shy of a capacity turnout, remained to the final thrilling moment of a game that served as a pulmotor to the flagging spirits of the Cardinals and put them back in the very thick of the fight. Hallahan led a world of stuff, despite his wildness, striking out eight of the world champions, making a total of 19 victims in two days—but he needed to be invincible in the pinches to gain the verdict over Earnshaw.

MARTIN TOO GOOD FOR EARN-SHAW

Big George, who beat the Cardinals twice last October and blanked them for 22 consecutive innings, allowed only six hits and struck out five. He had superb control but neither he nor his teammates could control the energetic young Mr. Martin, who went on a spree on the bases with an exhibition that made the great Mickey Cochrane look a trifle foolish. Martin scored what proved to be the decisive run in the second inning. With one out, he made a two base hit out of a drive to left field that Al Simmons juggled just long enough for the fleet youngster to slide safely into the middle bag. With Jimmy Wilson at bat, Martin made a clean steal of third, sliding into the bag face forward under Dykes, who was obliged to leap high for Cochrane's poor throw. The peppery youngster strolled home on Wilson's long fly to Mule Haas in centre.

THE LUCKY SEVENTH

Earnshaw held the rest of the Cardinals in check until the seventh inning, which Martin opened with a line single to left field. Still very much at large, Martin stole second easily. Cochrane's throw being so far away from the mark that Williams was unable to make a gesture at tagging the runner. Wilson's infield out put Martin on third and Pepper raced home on Cochrane's sacrifice bunt to Earnshaw. Big George was off balance when he fielded the ball, tossed too high to Cochrane and Martin slid safely under the pitcher. Martin was the only Cardinal to get as far as third base otherwise. Watkins doubled with one out in the first and Frisch did the same thing in the sixth, but the bats of Bottomley and Haffey were ineffective in these opportunities.

SCENE SHIFTS TO PHILLY

The Athletics left for home immediately after today's game. The Cardinals depart tomorrow noon, reaching Philadelphia Sunday. Unless one team or the other captures three in a row at Shibe Park, the series will be continued in St. Louis next Friday.

CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF FINAL TO-DAY

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 2. (By the Canadian Press)—Emerging victorious today in hard fought contests with worthy opponents, Miss Maureen Orcutt, the defending titleholder, and Miss Marjorie Kirkham, will meet in the final for the Canadian ladies' open golf championship and the Duchesse of Connaught Cup.

An impressive display of skillful golf over the rolling and hazardous Rosedale course gave Miss Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., a one-up decision over Miss Virginia Van Wieu of Chicago. The match was only decided after the two United States stars had battled over the full 18 holes.

Staging a splendid finish, Miss Margery Kirkham of Montreal, Canadian close champion eliminated her courageous opponent, Mrs. W. G. Fraser of Ottawa. The all-Canadian match also went to the 18th green before it was decided. The margin in favor of the Montreal girl was two up.

The contest between the Canadians was keenly played with now one and then the other in the lead. Both were at the top of their form and play was of a high calibre.

The three-times United States open champion started in fine fashion to score a birdie three on the first. Miss Kirkham came right back however, to score a birdie four on the second and even the count. The next three they holed and then Miss Kirkham, playing a par game, annexed two in a row to take a two-hole advantage at the seventh. Both were in trouble on the eighth but the Canadian close champion managed to emerge a stroke to the good, although she required six. The former United States' star laid a stytle in the ninth and won with a par four to Miss Kirkham's five. The latter was two up at the turn!

Making a strong comeback, Mrs. Fraser took three holes in a row and then halved two to lead her opponent by one hole on the 14th. From then on, however, she was forced to bow to the superior play of Miss Kirkham, who annexed the 15th with a birdie four and the 16th with a par three. The 17th was halved and Miss Kirkham took the 18th, thereby winning two up.

The defending champion and Miss Van Wieu staged a see-saw battle. First one and then the other took the lead with the issue always in doubt. Both were driving splendidly and clever approaches and dead putting made every hole a contest for supremacy.

Abegweits vs. Mohawks

By virtue of their walk-over tilts with Westville, the St. Stephen Mohawks are now New Brunswick-Nova Scotia baseball champions and incidentally have won the right to meet our own Abegweits in the final playdowns for the Maritime title. The writer has received no official info with regard to the play-off figures, etc., but is naturally inclined to date that the opening games will be played in Charlottetown, commencing Monday. However, this may be only a hunch, but nevertheless, the fans are hoping that the "little World Series" will open on the local diamond.

Football

Victoria Park is now the centre of interest in local sport. Each day some four football squads go through strenuous practices on one or other of the fields, West Kent and Queen Square from 3 o'clock till 4, and P. W. C. and the Abegweits later in the afternoon. The latter teams in a number of joint work-outs are shaping up well. Yesterday the Red and Black clan held one of the most successful practices of the year thus far. "Huck" O'Neill, at his old position of full back, was called into action numerous times, both to tackle and to relieve dangerous situations with a punt. "Huck" showed mid-season judgment and form.

"Brick" Gormley is still the speedy quarter as of yore, and still gives tackles or would-be tacklers uncomfortable moments. He got in a number of long runs yesterday and showed his usual precision in passing.

"Duke" Dixon, one of last year's famous "heelers," on the front line, was full of pep and enthusiasm, and was as difficult to stop as ever. His heels appear to have lost none of their cunning.

Ebbie Larter is again conspicuous for his deadly tackling and clever handling and kicking of the ball. Ebbie was ever ready to step into any breach in the many emergencies which occurred yesterday. George Ayers, the speedy centre man, of last year's team, and who will be remembered for his scoring, and hard following of the ball, appeared on the gridiron yesterday for the first time this season. He appears fast as ever, and was at all times a scoring threat.

Some new blood has appeared on the Abegweits football horizon in Harry Richardson, Bill Fitzgerald, Bill McIntyre, and "Eli" LePage. Richardson is fast and heavy, and although new to the game, has been quick to grasp the fine points. Fitzgerald, former West Kent star, showed considerable class in the senior back field, while Bill McIntyre, formerly of Queen Square, did good work behind the scrum, and got the ball away with lots of snap. Arsenault, on the half line, appeared to be a player of promise, while LePage, as forward, made splendid gains in territory by wise use of weight and speed.

"Pat" Power, the heavy and speedy wing man, has been practising considerably and is in splendid condition. His tackling is, as ever, spectacular.

The Red and Blue aggregation of Prince of Wales as usual played fast and heady football, and co-operated well with the Red and Black.

Coaches W. J. McDonald and St. Clair Trainor are optimistic, and put the teams through strenuous work-outs.

Another Abegweit practice will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The Big Carnival

Monday week the Forum will be the home of a Community Carnival and Merchants' Exhibition. It is going to be just what the name implies a Community affair.

Many of the city's prominent business concerns are taking booths for the exhibit of the products which they handle, and the interior of the rink will resemble the main building at the Exhibition grounds when the show opens.

On the purely amusement side something unusual is being offered the public. Eight fine vaudeville acts have been booked direct from New York. It is seldom Charlottetown sees vaudeville of any kind and this feature alone is certain to have a great drawing power.

Besides the vaudeville there will be all the other amusements incidental to a fair of this kind.

The proceeds will go towards the maintenance of the Abegweit hockey team, and the public by this means have an opportunity of contributing to the success of the local team this coming winter.

Those who attend the Carnival-Exhibition are certain of getting the worth of whatever money they spend. Nothing is being left undone to make it a big time.

Frank Boucher First of the Hold-Outs

The first gun has been fired in the threatened hold-out war between the players and owners of the National Hockey League, Frank Boucher of Ottawa declining to sign with the New York Rangers at salary 25 per cent. less than he received last year. Others may make a similar decision if the magnate attempt to reduce their salaries.

Boucher is very much in the driver's seat in his argument with Colonel John S. Hammond, because the Rangers cannot afford to lose his valuable services. Since he was sold to this club for $15,000 by the Boston Bruins Boucher has been one of the best centre men in the league, and it was he who turned the tide against Montreal Maroons in the 1928 Stanley Cup series.

It has been known for some time that, from a financial point of view, all is not well at Madison Square Garden, the Chicago Stadium and the Detroit Olympia, and naturally, retrenchment has been favored. Unlike others, however, Rangers did pay their players large salaries, men like "Ching" Johnson, the Cook brothers and Boucher receiving princely pay. Detroit and Chicago

Mohawks Win N. B.-N. S. Title

Trimmed Westville Yesterday In Deciding Game 12 To 3—Will Now Play Abegweits For Maritime Championship.

(Canadian Press)

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Oct. 2.—With hits and errors replete on both sides, St. Stephen Mohawks won the senior amateur baseball championships of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick by defeating the Westville, N. S., team here this afternoon by a score of 12 to 3. The Mohawks took the first game by a score of 12 to 4 at Westville last Wednesday. The locals are now eligible to meet the Prince Edward Island champions for the Maritime title.

This afternoon, Westville was held scoreless until the seventh inning, when they pushed their three runs across the plate. The locals put the game on ice in the second inning, driving in four runs. They added two in the third, fourth, and sixth innings each and one in the sixth and eighth frames.

The Mohawks nicked Westville pitchers for eighteen hits, the Miners securing nine. Six errors were chalked up for St. Stephen and seven for the visitors. The "Miners" had three pitchers in the box, with "Howdy" Clark doing the full nine innings for the locals.

Maxwell started the pitching for the visitors, but he was taken out after four innings and replaced by Marshall. Marshall failed to stem the tide and Richardson was substituted for him. He also was hit hard.

Are Wondering

Ottawa fans are wondering what effect the retirement of the pro hockey team from that city will have on local amateur hockey. The gate receipts at amateur games are expected the coming season to show an increase, but some of the amateur hockey authorities are of the opinion that without professional hockey as an incentive, it will be hard to retain the present amateur standard.

Interest Not So Great

Interest in the world series, as revealed by newspaper accounts, is lower than in years, probably due in part to the fact that the teams have met before and largely to the fact that a lot of fans have not the money to spend.
