SOME BOER METHODS.

A British commission has been making inquiry into various concessions made by the Boer Government in the Transvaal, and has unearthed a number of peculiar transactions. At Pretoria and other points many state papers and documents of Kruger's government and the Netherlands Railway fell into British hands. From the official correspondence thus seized the commission was enabled to summon the witnesses who knew about the transactions to be inquired into and to address probing questions to them. The result has been to throw pretty full light upon Boer methods of creating public sentiment in their behalf in other lands, as well as upon other matters.

Among other things, it has been disclosed that a number of active Boer sympathisers and newspaper exponents in Europe, the United States and even in England were in the pay of the Boer oligarchy as their agents or attorneys. Among the latter was Mr. Webster Davis of the United States, who claimed that he had given up a good position at Washington out of pure sympathy for the Boers in their struggle for freedom. The simple fact is now proved that the Pretoria government were made to believe that Davis could be of use to them in fostering Boer sentiment in the United States, and he was paid a large sum to undertake this work.

Mr. Webster Davis on his part claimed to be able to do great things for his Boer clients, but all the paid agents whom Kruger was able to retain failed to arouse sufficient interest or sympathy in any country to induce a single government to intervene on his behalf. We know now, and the Boers themselves will learn in due time that the few active sympathisers they found abroad were mainly such as were liberally paid with Boer money, and their sympathy appears to have suddenly subsided when no more money was forthcoming.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

The election of President McKinley and his running mate was very generally anticipated throughout Canada, and the result will be accepted on this side of the line with pretty general satisfaction, not unmixed with a sense of relief. It was to be feared had Bryan been elected that the friendly relations between the different branches of the Anglo-Saxon family might have been seriously disturbed, as industrial conditions within the Republic would undoubtedly have been.

And still there was a possibility that in this case the unexpected might happen and a Democratic victory be recorded. In the five states of California, Delaware, Indiana, Kentucky and Oregon, with 42 electoral votes collectively, Mr. McKinley's majority in 1896 was so very narrow that it seemed quite possible they might this year be transferred to the Democratic column. Then there were probably a million new voters to be reckoned with, and the new and great question of expansion, or "imperialism" had come in since the last Presendential contest.

All these doubts are now set at rest. The Republican party has apparently held pretty much all of its old ground, the new voters have divided not very unequally, and the nation has endorsed the expansion policy. Probably neither one of the two great party "bosses" is held in very high regard in Canada, but there has been a general impression that Croker is less reputable than Hanna, and there must be some satisfaction that the Tammany Chief and Tammany itself have received a severe rebuff.

It seems probable that one result of his second defeat must be the disappearance of Bryan as a party leader, and as McKinley has now been elected for a second term he will be practically ineligable as a candidate for the Presidency hereafter. So that new leaders will be called for and must be found for both parties before the election of 1904.

VICTORINE

Washing Compound.

We have secured the agency for the Island of the above named Washing Compound which has been pronounced by the ladies of Canada to be the greatest labor saver of modern times and a real treasure on wash day.

It washes clothes and is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate fabric.

The properties possessed by this compound are those of loosening and separating the dirt without injury to the fabric, instead of eating up the dirt and rotting the cloth as is the case with many articles now on the market which claim to wash everything. By the use of this Compound no rubbing is required, thus saving the wear and tear on clothes, to say nothing of the labor. Simply boil and rinse. For flannels it has no equal and Ladies will find it particularly good for washing Lace Curtains as there is positively no rubbing required. 1 cake will wash 2 large boilers of clothes and the cost is a mere trifle. 2 cakes 5c. 25c per doz at all grocers.
