

While the Kiddies Play

just slip away for a few minutes and prepare a Pure Gold Jelly...

Pure Gold Jellies are an ideal refreshment for the little ones' parties...

Pick your favorite flavor and try a package. Raspberry, strawberry, lemon, orange, red currant, pineapple, cherry and vanilla.

Pure Gold Desserts

JELLY POWDERS Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., Limited Toronto

Quebec the Lively City of Winter

The Ancient Capital Revels in Winter Sports With a Continuous Carnival

Quebec is the lively city of winter. Keen, frosts exhilarating and health giving...

Snow-shoeing, parades, tobogganing, skiing, curling, skating and hockey are the pastimes...

From all Maritime Provinces points the Canadian National Railway offer the finest of train service...

For further information apply to W. K. Rogers, City Ticket Agent, V. T. Huggan, District Passenger Agent...

CARD

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF CHARLOTTETOWN

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In soliciting your votes for re-election to the Commission of Sewers and Water Supply...

JOHN MCKENNA

CARD

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD 4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am in favor of the continuance of permanent street work...

H. M. CHANDLER

to the Electors of Ward 5

Ladies and Gentlemen:

A number of the electors of Ward Five and also a large number of the working men of Charlottetown...

Faithfully yours, KENNETH H. FERGUSON

After Ten Years

BY MARION RUBINCAM

MILLIE'S LETTER

Chapter 65

A few days after Christmas Millie received a long letter from Cora...

Cora was the sort who wrote infrequently, but when she did, she made the little two-cent stamp carry a full weight of correspondence.

"Your pictures are wonderful," she said, peering at Millie by her flattery. "I've got the one you sent me in the parlor on the mantel, so all my friends can see it. Do you don't take pictures like that?"

"Well, I hear you're going to get a job in the movies, the paper had a paragraph about it, which I'll send."

"Oh, listen to this!" and Millie dropped her letter to hunt for the newspaper clipping in the envelope. It read:

One of the distinguished ex-residents of Mississauga, Mr. Humphrey Buchanan, it is rumored is working in the cinema studios of New York, to which metropolitan he recently travelled. Mrs. Buchanan, with mother and sister, are now residents of New York. Our local theatre is making inquiries as to what films Buchanan is playing in. Shortly we may expect to see her on the screen if not in the flesh.

She, while Millie remembered the expensive photographs spread so lavishly around the motion picture studios, and the absolute lack of response. Then Patty giggled at the "embassy" wording of the paragraph and Mrs. Parke and Millie joined in.

"How funny our paper seems," Millie commented. "It was the one touch of sophistication she ever acquired during her life in New York. The editor of Mississauga's 'Little Journal' had been a printer's stubbornness and stupidity, often an asset, he had clung to an early idea that he was 'literary'."

That few papers in even as small a town as his, were as badly written as his was an idea that never entered his head. He continued to peddle with adjectives and long words, and, until now, had impressed Millie that this was fine writing. Now Millie happened to see the difference.

She went back to her letter, which she'd send, I expect you'll be rivaling Pickford next. I hear grand things about your apartment in New York, too. Oh, yes, some new people named Teurle have bought your house, they painted it green and it looks awful. And I hear your mother's sister is moving into one of those new homes on Pine Lane. They've got grand oak stairs cases and hardwood floors.

Jim has had a letter from Ramsey, he sent in a subscription to the paper, here, to keep in touch with things, he wrote, Jim, and they sent him all the back numbers. So he read that piece about your farewell party. He didn't know where it was, you know, he wrote to Jim finally and asked for your address. I didn't know you hadn't answered that letter of his."

"That" Millie observed, "she knew well enough he never sent. It was a surprise to myself to be inserted in the newspaper, seeking a position as a councillor for the City of Charlottetown. But the assistance of a large representative from Ward Five has compelled my acceptance of the honor of contesting this ward in the civic election on February 8th."

Being a large property owner in the city, other owners of property in this ward may rest assured that if elected their interests will all be safeguarded, as it is to my interest as well as theirs to support all measures that will tend to beautify and moderate our city in any way, thus making real estate more valuable by attracting new citizens.

As a large employer of labor I have the interests and well being of the laboring man well in mind, realizing that employees must receive an equitable wage for services performed, that living conditions must be healthy both in the work shop and the home and thus by employers treating employees as they should be treated our city will be built up with healthy contented citizens, all working together like a big family for a more progressive Charlottetown.

Economy in the administration of city affairs will have my unqualified support.

To enumerate all the improvements I should like to see pushed forward would tire you to read, but I am assured if elected any improvement that the city finances can afford shall have my assent. As representative of Ward Five its interests will ever have first attention.

Business interests will not permit my seeing each elector and hereby soliciting your votes and if I have the honor of your support, I am yours faithfully, J. A. WEBSTER

J. STANLEY WELLOCK

Sage Tea Beautifies And Darkens Hair

DON'T STAY GRAY! IT DARKENS SO NATURALLY THAT NO BODY CAN TELL

You can turn gray, faded, hair, beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of Weyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound...

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Weyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

spread so lavishly around the motion picture studios, and the absolute lack of response. Then Patty giggled at the "embassy" wording of the paragraph and Mrs. Parke and Millie joined in.

"How funny our paper seems," Millie commented. "It was the one touch of sophistication she ever acquired during her life in New York. The editor of Mississauga's 'Little Journal' had been a printer's stubbornness and stupidity, often an asset, he had clung to an early idea that he was 'literary'."

That few papers in even as small a town as his, were as badly written as his was an idea that never entered his head. He continued to peddle with adjectives and long words, and, until now, had impressed Millie that this was fine writing. Now Millie happened to see the difference.

She went back to her letter, which she'd send, I expect you'll be rivaling Pickford next. I hear grand things about your apartment in New York, too. Oh, yes, some new people named Teurle have bought your house, they painted it green and it looks awful. And I hear your mother's sister is moving into one of those new homes on Pine Lane. They've got grand oak stairs cases and hardwood floors.

Jim has had a letter from Ramsey, he sent in a subscription to the paper, here, to keep in touch with things, he wrote, Jim, and they sent him all the back numbers. So he read that piece about your farewell party. He didn't know where it was, you know, he wrote to Jim finally and asked for your address. I didn't know you hadn't answered that letter of his."

"That" Millie observed, "she knew well enough he never sent. It was a surprise to myself to be inserted in the newspaper, seeking a position as a councillor for the City of Charlottetown. But the assistance of a large representative from Ward Five has compelled my acceptance of the honor of contesting this ward in the civic election on February 8th."

Being a large property owner in the city, other owners of property in this ward may rest assured that if elected their interests will all be safeguarded, as it is to my interest as well as theirs to support all measures that will tend to beautify and moderate our city in any way, thus making real estate more valuable by attracting new citizens.

As a large employer of labor I have the interests and well being of the laboring man well in mind, realizing that employees must receive an equitable wage for services performed, that living conditions must be healthy both in the work shop and the home and thus by employers treating employees as they should be treated our city will be built up with healthy contented citizens, all working together like a big family for a more progressive Charlottetown.

Economy in the administration of city affairs will have my unqualified support.

To enumerate all the improvements I should like to see pushed forward would tire you to read, but I am assured if elected any improvement that the city finances can afford shall have my assent. As representative of Ward Five its interests will ever have first attention.

Business interests will not permit my seeing each elector and hereby soliciting your votes and if I have the honor of your support, I am yours faithfully, J. A. WEBSTER myself loose from him and never let him know where I am." "Cora will spread that idea all over the town," Mrs. Parke observed with gentle bitterness. "She's nice, but you know how she does talk."

J. STANLEY WELLOCK

Not even Cora escaped! Patty smiled a little to herself. Once she would have felt badly at any sign of disloyalty to a friend as good as Cora. Now she merely smiled and said, "Was this breaking away from her family or was this disloyalty of a minor sort?"

She did not listen to the rest of Millie's letter. It consisted of a lot of gossip, including a paragraph of the rumored engagement of the Museum and the opera and the Museum and the parks."

"Oh you make me tired," Millie cut in rudely. "Who wants to walk around a museum all day looking at bones, or else silly pictures, and we can't afford operas and such. New York's all right when you're rich, but not when you're poor."

"I want to go home," she said. "I'm sorry, but I wish I was back," she announced. "People know me there, there was something to do now and then."

"But, Millie, think of the theatres and concerts, and the opera and the Museum and the parks!"

"Oh you make me tired," Millie cut in rudely. "Who wants to walk around a museum all day looking at bones, or else silly pictures, and we can't afford operas and such. New York's all right when you're rich, but not when you're poor."

"I want to go home," she said. "I'm sorry, but I wish I was back," she announced. "People know me there, there was something to do now and then."

"But, Millie, think of the theatres and concerts, and the opera and the Museum and the parks!"

"Oh you make me tired," Millie cut in rudely. "Who wants to walk around a museum all day looking at bones, or else silly pictures, and we can't afford operas and such. New York's all right when you're rich, but not when you're poor."

"I want to go home," she said. "I'm sorry, but I wish I was back," she announced. "People know me there, there was something to do now and then."

"But, Millie, think of the theatres and concerts, and the opera and the Museum and the parks!"

"Oh you make me tired," Millie cut in rudely. "Who wants to walk around a museum all day looking at bones, or else silly pictures, and we can't afford operas and such. New York's all right when you're rich, but not when you're poor."

"I want to go home," she said. "I'm sorry, but I wish I was back," she announced. "People know me there, there was something to do now and then."

"But, Millie, think of the theatres and concerts, and the opera and the Museum and the parks!"

"Oh you make me tired," Millie cut in rudely. "Who wants to walk around a museum all day looking at bones, or else silly pictures, and we can't afford operas and such. New York's all right when you're rich, but not when you're poor."

"I want to go home," she said. "I'm sorry, but I wish I was back," she announced. "People know me there, there was something to do now and then."

"But, Millie, think of the theatres and concerts, and the opera and the Museum and the parks!"

"Oh you make me tired," Millie cut in rudely. "Who wants to walk around a museum all day looking at bones, or else silly pictures, and we can't afford operas and such. New York's all right when you're rich, but not when you're poor."

"I want to go home," she said. "I'm sorry, but I wish I was back," she announced. "People know me there, there was something to do now and then."

"But, Millie, think of the theatres and concerts, and the opera and the Museum and the parks!"

"Oh you make me tired," Millie cut in rudely. "Who wants to walk around a museum all day looking at bones, or else silly pictures, and we can't afford operas and such. New York's all right when you're rich, but not when you're poor."

"I want to go home," she said. "I'm sorry, but I wish I was back," she announced. "People know me there, there was something to do now and then."

"But, Millie, think of the theatres and concerts, and the opera and the Museum and the parks!"

"Oh you make me tired," Millie cut in rudely. "Who wants to walk around a museum all day looking at bones, or else silly pictures, and we can't afford operas and such. New York's all right when you're rich, but not when you're poor."

"I want to go home," she said. "I'm sorry, but I wish I was back," she announced. "People know me there, there was something to do now and then."

"But, Millie, think of the theatres and concerts, and the opera and the Museum and the parks!"

TORONTO JUDGE THREATENED

TORONTO, Feb. 4.—Justice Riddell who recently sentenced two bank robbers to imprisonment for life, announced today he had received very strong and threatening letters from New York as a result of these sentences.

The Carnegie Institute at Washington sent word that a message had been received at Ottawa through Canadian customs officials under date of November 18 last, from the manager of a Hudson Bay post near MacMillan, 80 miles north of Cape Dorset, and 200 miles south of Fury and Hecla Strait. This place is only a short distance beyond the point reached by the explorer, on Ahloped in ten days to pass the strait, which has never been navigated.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

M'Millan Party To Return Home

WISCASSET, Maine, Feb. 4.—That Donald B. MacMillan and his Arctic expedition on the schooner Bowdoin failed to reach Fury and Hecla Strait, passage of which would be necessary to circumnavigate Baffin Land as planned was indicated by indirect advices received here today. The advices contained word indicating also that MacMillan might return next summer.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

The trading post manager also stated that the explorer at that time intended to get a supply of gasoline from the company for next summer, when he intended to return home if possible.

Its Rich Delicacy and genuine all-round goodness makes Salada the choice of millions and its sales are ever increasing.

Public Meeting

A public meeting of the citizens of Charlottetown for the discussion of general civic business will be held in the Market Hall on Monday evening next February the sixth at eight o'clock

The Members of the City Government are requested to attend and all candidates for Civic honors are invited.

DANIEL J. RILEY, Mayor of Charlottetown

To the Electors of the City of Charlottetown

Ladies and Gentlemen:— I beg to announce that I will be a candidate for the Mayoralty at the coming election, February 8th, and take this means of soliciting your support.

Four years ago, the citizens of Ward five honored me by electing me as councillor; at that time I promised that if elected, my efforts would be directed towards the improvement of our streets; the members of the City Council honored me still further by selecting me as Chairman of the Street Committee, and during my term of four years in this capacity, we have put down three and one-third miles, or 60,000 square yards of paved streets which are the equal of any in America, and it is a pleasure here to note that the cost per square yard has been lower than that of any City in Canada.

Whether I have carried out my pre-election promises or not is for you to say.

I believe good streets are one of the best assets any City can have, and I believe that the introduction of this system of paving is the most progressive movement that has taken place in our City since the installation of Water Works and Sewerage, and I think I can safely claim the credit of having introduced the system here.

With the present serious unemployment conditions prevailing I believe it is our duty as a City to provide work, where possible, for our laboring men, and if you honor me by election, I will use my best efforts to have the work of paving continued.

Our City never was, nor never will be a large manufacturing centre, and while I am in favor of offering every inducement possible to manufacturers to locate here, I believe we should cater more to the tourist trade, and the making of our City attractive by the building of good streets, is one of the best inducements we can offer them.

What we need in Charlottetown is more civic pride from both the individual and civic standpoint. Nature has done her part for us with a lavish hand, our shores are laved by the waters of three beautiful rivers emptying into a spacious land locked harbor while within our civic jurisdiction we have one of the most magnificent parks in the world. Our forefathers with a vision that was prophetic laid out our limits with wide streets and open squares which today evoke the admiration of the visitor, it is therefore now for us to do our part, and if elected to the office of Chief Magistrate it shall be my object and aim to make this Capital City a larger, better and more beautiful Charlottetown.

In addition to my position as Chairman of the Street Committee I have also been a member of the Light Committee, and when the new contract was being arranged with the Electric Light Company, which was instrumental in having a clause inserted, which when put into effect will, I believe very much improve our street lighting.

I am strongly in favor of Meat and Milk inspection, and while I do not claim the credit for having introduced this measure, I do claim that it had my unqualified support, and if elected I will endeavor to have it extended and enlarged so as to more fully safeguard the public health. It is not my intention to make a house to house canvass, I believe every man and woman in our City is intelligent enough to be judged for themselves as to whom they desire to see elected. My record for the past four years is before you, and if you decide that it is such as to entitle me to be elected Mayor, I will appreciate the honor most highly.

Thanking you in anticipation of your support, and assuring you that if elected I will use my best efforts for the welfare of our City.

Yours Respectfully, J. J. MCKINNON.

Thanking you in anticipation of your support, and assuring you that if elected I will use my best efforts for the welfare of our City.

Yours Respectfully, J. J. MCKINNON.

Thanking you in anticipation of your support, and assuring you that if elected I will use my best efforts for the welfare of our City.

Yours Respectfully, J. J. MCKINNON.

Thanking you in anticipation of your support, and assuring you that if elected I will use my best efforts for the welfare of our City.

Yours Respectfully, J. J. MCKINNON.

Thanking you in anticipation of your support, and assuring you that if elected I will use my best efforts for the welfare of our City.

Yours Respectfully, J. J. MCKINNON.

JENKINS has Supported every Progressive Movement Storm S. wers Medical Inspection f Schools. Auto-bus Service (Bill defeated) Milk and Meat Inspection, etc. and he still Stands for PRUDENT PROGRESS