SKIN FAULTS MAY BE OFFSET
Buck up, you teen-agers who think all is lost because your complexion mar your skin, writes a beauty expert.
Some flare-ups are superficial, and for these temporary measures there are eight-hour creams which, put on before you go to bed, can ease a headache overnight.
If the trouble is chronic, follow your doctor's advice in treating it and faithfully use the healing lotions and powder he recommends. Promise to do that, and I'll show you how you can still match look with any of your crowd.
First, get set with the brightest lipstick you can find. Use it as a red banner to flag attention away from the troubled skin.
With the same idea in mind, make eyebrows models of good grooming by tweezing 'em clean. Darken them, if need be, with an eyebrow pencil to enforce colour. To make 'em underneath look pretty special, use eyelash pomade to gloss up your fringes.
Avoid Fancy Hats
You want also to pull-audience eyes to your hair by these decorative outlined and the cleanest hair-parting you can draw.
Repeat the well-defined, uncluttered look of your hair in a hat. Sharply outlined and frange-free berets, visor caps, sailors and other types of "haberdasher" hats are better for your purposes of strategy than fancy millinery.
What goes below your face? Just as a slick little tailored topper on your head makes an eye-compelling frame above your face, so will the starched white collar you can snap on whoop up appeal below. Pose this neckwear for sharper effects against dark dresses, and change to a fresh collar every day so that both you and your clothes have an out-of-the-handbox look.

DONAHOE-MacDONALD WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at All Saints' Church, Cardigan, on August 26th, when Lorena Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Donahoe and Mrs. Donahoe of Rosemeath, was united in marriage with Allan Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid MacDonald, of St. Andrews.

The nuptial mass was sung by the bride's cousin, the Rev. Gavan Monaghan, D.D., of Oklahoma, who also performed the marriage ceremony.

The charming young bride, neatly attired in a floor-length gown of net over white tulle with finger-tip veil, entered the tastefully decorated church on the arm of her maternal grandfather, Mr. Edward Walsh, Somerville, who gave her in marriage. She carried an arm bouquet of cut flowers tied with a hand embroidered satin streamer, a highly appreciated gift of the Sisters of the Precious Blood, of which order the bride's sister is a devoted member. As appropriate hymns were sung during the mass by the children's choir.

The bride was tendered by her sister Ann, who wore an aqua blue brocade floor-length gown with matching accessories and carried an arm bouquet of pink cut flowers. Mr. W. J. MacDonald, brother of the groom acted as best man.

After the wedding ceremony a family breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Among the guests seated at the bride's table were the Rev. Gavan Monaghan, D.D., the Rev. Alfred Monaghan, S.J., of Toronto.

After the usual toasts were proposed and responded to, a musical hour was enjoyed by all. The happy young couple left for a short honeymoon through the provinces. On their return they were welcomed to the home of the groom's parents where a bounteous supper was served to a number of well-wishers, and an evening of music and dancing enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will take up their abode in Charlottetown where the groom is a valued employee of the C.N.R.

The many useful and valuable gifts received testify to the popularity. Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower by her girlfriends. Their many friends wish them bon voyage through life.

"WELCOME HOME" CEREMONY for The 2nd Medium Battery

Information For Next-of-Kin PARTICIPATING TROOPS AND SPECTATORS

EXPECTED TIME

Sunday, September 30th, at 2 P. M.

DETRAINMENT

The 2nd Medium Battery returning from overseas will detrain as a unit at Grafton Street Crossing. J. F. Leightner, M.M., will be in charge at detraining point.

NEXT-OF-KIN

Next-of-kin of the returning men are requested NOT to congregate at the detraining point but to assemble at the south side of the Market Square, where a special place is reserved for them where they will be seated close to the returning troops and have a clear view of the ceremony. Battery Sergeant-Major V. J. Lacey has charge of all arrangements for next-of-kin and he will have a capable staff assisting him. He will have his headquarters at or near the City Weigh Scales and next-of-kin should contact him there at any time after 12.30 p. m. on Sunday.

We hope that the next-of-kin will have a place close to the ceremony under this arrangement, as we felt the square would be crowded by the time they reached there if they went to the detraining point. We also wish them near as they are cordially invited to have refreshments with the returning men after the ceremony. B. S. M. Lacey will provide all next-of-kin with tickets if applied for. J. E. Trainor of the Canadian Legion will be in charge of all dispositions on Market Square.

TRANSPORTATION

We would like to have every member from the Province taken to his home as soon after the ceremony as they desire. Attention is called to the advertisement asking all persons coming to Charlottetown to provide room for men returning from their districts.

ROUTE

Along Grafton to Queen, down Queen to Market Square. Break off at Market Square after refreshments.

BATTERY MEMBERS

ALREADY HOME

A committee of returned Battery members have been arranging for a turn-out of the former members of the Battery and their plans have been announced. It is hoped that as many as possible will parade at the detraining point and join their comrades. Major W. I. Andrew, a former officer of the Battery, will be in charge of the full parade to the Market Square.

KITS AND BAGGAGE

Kits and baggage will be taken from the train and brought to the north side of the Market Square near the Library, and will be kept there until the boys are ready to go home. All next-of-kin and those driving returning Battery members to their homes after the ceremony will know where to get the kits and baggage. Capt. J. A. H. MacQuarrie will have charge of the arrangements.

REFRESHMENTS

Mrs. Ira Brown, of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion, and James H. McKenna, M.M., have arrangements made for refreshments for Battery members and other returning soldiers and their next-of-kin. The committee hopes to give the boys from Nova Scotia a real treat by providing some choice Malpeque oysters for all returning men.

SPECTATORS

Spectators, other than next-of-kin of returning men will have a good view of the parade along Grafton Street. There will also be space on Market Street, Victoria Row and Queen Street. Residents of Grafton Street are particularly requested to get their flags out.
