The British and Foreign Bible Society

IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND AUXILIARY

"The life of Tindale, with all its splendid talents and equally splendid self-sacrifice was a pebble thrown into the pool of life. His translation of the Scriptures into the English tongue of his day started waves of spiritual influence which changed the life of our people. Similarly the founders of the British and Foreign Bible Society started a world-wide power wave when in 1804 they determined that what the Bible was to the English-speaking people, it could be to all the peoples of the world. With consummate skill they founded the Society and fashioned its policy and working rules. The results are so well known that we need not restate them here."

Remember the P. E. I. Auxiliary or Branch and the great work it is engaged in.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Samuel Clow, died March 18th, 1944.

In a graveyard softly sleeping
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we love so dearly
In his silent lonely grave.

Tho his smile is gone forever
And his hands we cannot touch
We shall never lose sweet memories
Of the one we loved so much.

Friends may think he is forgotten
When they sometimes see me smile,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within my heart concealed.

Sadly Missed by His Wife, and His Son Ivan Clow.

The press committee reported that the final letter of the series on "Education in P.E.I." will appear on Saturday. This will stress the need of a composite High School for Charlottetown and give some idea of the work that would be carried on in such a school. Slogans on the same subject will follow at once. The president read a letter from Mr. J.O. Hyndman who spoke very kindly of efforts to arouse public interest in educational matters. Extracts from articles dealing with transportation problems were listened to with interest and the articles handed to the members for further study. The possibility of the League presenting a brief on educational matters to the Reconstruction Committee was discussed and the executive was directed to see that this was done. The guest speaker for the evening, Miss Hilda Gillis, gave an interesting talk on the use of moving pictures as an aid to education. The talk was illustrated by a splendid film that was followed with interest by the members. Regret was expressed that the Charlottetown schools have not the equipment at their disposal so that the children could have the benefit of this educational aid. At the close of the meeting Miss Gillis was given a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of those present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Campbell on April 4th.

In Memoriam

MR. A. D. MALCOLM

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

A wide circle of friends will be saddened by the death of A. Douglas Malcolm, which occurred at his residence Saturday evening following an illness of some months.

Born in this city, Mr. Malcolm had throughout his lifetime made many friends, not only in business but as a well-known citizen. He was the son of the late Andrew and Phyllis B. Malcolm.

Besides his wife he leaves to mourn one son, Andrew Malcolm, of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. James H. Gerry, Charlottetown. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. S. J. McGowan, of this city, and five brothers, Dr. D. C. Malcolm, John S. Malcolm, both of this city, Rev. Dr. W. W. Malcolm, Norfolk, Va., Dr. R. Bruce Malcolm, Chicago, Ill., and Charles G. Malcolm, Ottawa.

Mr. Malcolm was well-known in business circles in this city, particularly in the wholesale grocery business, being a partner with his brother, John S. Malcolm, in the firm of Andrew Malcolm, on South Wharf. He was also active in the sport of curling, and for 24 years was a member of the Thistle Curling Club and for the last 20 of St. Andrew's Curling Club. He was also a member of St. David's Church. He made his summer home at The Cedars.

PTE. WALTER E. MacDONALD

On January 8th, Pte. Walter E. MacDonald made the supreme sacrifice in action at the Senio River in Italy.

The deceased was 28 years of age and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. MacDonald, Little Pond. In civilian life he was an enterprising young man, industrious, exact, and painstaking in all his duties. All who knew him will ever cherish the memory of his pleasant, true and sturdy character which made him a worthy son, brother and friend.

He went overseas in September 1943 with the West Nova Scotia Infantry Regiment. During the following summer he saw action in Sicily, then in Italy where he was wounded in January 1944. Four months later he rejoined his regiment and was in active service until his death. His military authorities state that he was "admired by his fellow soldiers for his good moral character, courage and perseverance in duty," and that during his long career in action he "countless times proved his worth as a comrade and soldier." On January 25th a funeral Mass for the repose of his soul was celebrated by Rev. Leonard MacDonald, P.P., at St. Francis de Sales Church. Another brother, PO. James I. MacDonald, R.C.A.F., was killed in action in May 1944.

May their souls rest in peace.

This War—Four Years Ago

By The Canadian Press

MARCH 17, 1941—British naval units destroyed three German subs in one day. The Queen visited No. 15 Canadian General Hospital somewhere in England. Eight Canadian airmen named in the R.A.F's 62nd casualty list. Yukoslav resistance to Axis pressure stiffened.

MARCH 18, 1941—Churchill said German submarines and battle cruisers were operating on the American side of the Atlantic. British House of Commons told that bomber and fighter production during February, 1941, created a record for the war.

BELFAST — (CP) — Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooke told the Northern Ireland Production Council he believes they can have confidence in their ability to readjust their industrial machine to peace processes without creating such unemployment as occurred after the First Great War.
