In Distress With Eczema

Mrs. R. Stoddard, Delhi, Norfolk County Ont., writes as follows:—"I was troubled with Eczema or Salt Rheum for over twelve years, and during that time doctored with four different physicians, but found that they could only give temporary relief. I saw Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, decided to try it and before I had used half a box found great relief and change. Altogether I have used three boxes and am now completely cured. I have recommended it to my neighbors, and can say it is the best I ever used, and in my estimation worth its weight in gold."

The keen misery which many endure from the tortures of skin disease is most appalling, and so much the worse because it is unnecessary. Dr. Chase's Ointment stands alone as the one unfailing remedy for salt rheum, eczema, scald head and every form of itching skin disease. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A PAINFUL INCIDENT.

A painful incident which has caused much discussion in St. John is recorded at length in the Telegraph and Sun of that City of Friday last. The incident occurred at the Maternity Hospital in connection with the Salvation Army Home on the occasion of the visit of a Catholic priest to administer the last rites of that Church to a patient believed to be dying. The officers of the Home, who claim to have acted according to the wish of and in the interest of the patient, refused the admission.

The patient in this case was a young woman who had been betrayed and deserted. While in a deplorable condition she was taken to the Salvation Army Home where she has since remained. Consumption ensued and she failed rapidly. On 1st March the Matron of the Home made application to have the patient removed to the Home for Incurables, in which application it was stated that she was a Catholic, but before the arrangement could be carried out the patient was too weak to be removed.

Hon. R. J. Ritchie, one of the Governors of the Home for Incurables, and a prominent member of the R. C. Church notified Rev. Mr. Gaynor, a priest, asking him to visit the Salvation Army Hospital and administer the last rites to the patient there who was in a dying condition. Father Gaynor called at once but was refused permission to see the patient. He insisted on his right to see her but was still refused. Then Mr. Ritchie called again and argued the matter, and later Father Gaynor and Mr. Ritchie went together to the Hospital. Notwithstanding the matron's refusal they went up stairs to the door of the patient's room. A nurse held the door, and subsequently the matron locked it, effectually shutting out the visitors.

The Army officers insist that the patient had said she had no desire to see the priest. Father Gaynor in conversation with a Sun reporter wished him to emphasize the fact that although the ladies of the Home were firm in their determination to refuse admission they were quiet and self-possessed throughout and acted in nothing but a lady-like manner. In the course of the discussion the charge was made that the Salvation Army insisted that all the patients in the Hospital, when able to do so should attend the services at the Army Barracks, and should not attend the church services elsewhere although a number of the patients were of Catholic faith.

If the young woman had been removed to the Home for Incurables, which is a non-denominational institution, as she had applied to be, it is quite clear that the priest who was refused admission at the Hospital would have been admitted to see her there.

St. John city with a population under 42,000, has a total debt of $3,681,091. Last year the tax levy was $349,449. The annual interest charge is $174,634.

The London Chronicle tells that General Botha was content with most of the conditions proposed by Lord Kitchener but he dissented strongly from a proposal to give the full privilege of citizenship to property domiciled and registered blacks. He was also greatly concerned about the position Jewish capitalists would occupy in the country and was told that Jews and Christians would enjoy equal rights, no distinction being made in the matter of concessions.

PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN AND WART EXTRACTOR.

Is the only remedy that positively cures corns and warts without pain in twenty-four hours. Ask your druggists if out it he has sold it for a long time. (Club any druggist who offers you a substitute for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. He knows it is the best; you will too if you try it.)

The Halifax Presbyterian Witness tells that along a seashore road in that Province there are fourteen churches within as many miles. Of these churches two are Presbyterian, two Baptist, two Methodist one Episcopalian, and there are New Light churches and other churches. In view of the fact that there is not a town or a considerable village in this fourteen mile district the wise editor concludes: It is a pity that some arrangement, fraternal and workable, could not be devised that would abate the scandal of fourteen churches along a line of road of fourteen miles.

The report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for New Brunswick says:—The crop returns show that 504,301 bushels of wheat were grown last year on 26,867 acres of land, an average crop of 18 8/10 bushels to the acre. This is 12,000 bushels more than were grown in the preceding year, and the average is 7-0 of a bushel greater than in 1890.

People Who Have Used It

Say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine affords wonderfully prompt relief for coughs and colds. Everybody has confidence in Dr. Chase, in his great recipe book and famous family remedies. They have learned by experience that it pays to insist on having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine instead of accepting the various unscientific "mix-ups" which some druggists offer as "just as good." Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine contains many of the most valuable and most effective remedial agents for throat and lung troubles that science has discovered. It acts so directly and promptly as to be of incalculable worth in all cases of croup, bronchitis and whooping cough. Continued from first page.

A VERY attractive home wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. Hector McLean of Long Creek, Wednesday evening March 20th, the contracting parties being Mr. John Robertson of Long Creek, and Hattie I. McLean, Mr. McLean's third daughter. Mr. H. E. Crosby of Bomshaw filled the office of best man and Miss Ella J. Robertson of Long Creek acted as bride's maid. The wedding march was played by Mr. Walter Stretch of Long Creek. The bride looked beautiful in an appropriate gown of white material and the bride's maid was also becomingly attired. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Addison F. Browne in the presence of about 40 guests. A bountiful wedding supper followed. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are very popular with a large circle of acquaintances who unite in wishing them happiness.

HIGH BANK NOTE.—The farmers in this vicinity have availed themselves of the good roads and favorable weather, in hauling a good supply of fire-wood. A large quantity of logs have been hauled to the neighbouring saw-mills at Murray River for boards and other uses.—The fishermen are preparing their gear for the coming lobster season. The ice in the strait has been much broken and scattered recently by the heavy winds.—The Young People's Debating Society had an interesting and profitable discussion on Thursday night last having for a debate, "From which do we derive the more knowledge, from reading or travelling." The debate was opened by the mover, John W. McLean taking the side of travelling, making firm defense of his choice. He was opposed vigorously by the seconder, Duncan Livingston on the side of reading. A good debate followed. The side of travelling was reinforced by Messrs Angus A. Stewart, Daniel Munroe R. McLeod, Arthur Senebaugh, William McLeod, while reading was defended by Messrs Elliot Senebaugh, James Derby Jr.; Murdoch McDonald, Daniel Livingston and Joseph Hayter. The vote being taken it proved a victory for reading by a majority of two.

PREPARATIONS have begun. Some north pork properties which will receive attention. A big deal, too, is pending or probably completed by this time, by which the Scottish-Canadian Mining Company will be provided with ample funds to continue, on a large scale, work on the Bob Roy Group. This will be anxiously looked forward to by old time Lardianites, who have unlimited faith in the well known Horne Lead, but so far no one has had enough money to make the necessary test. The Bob Roy possesses the key to the whole Lead, and if the new company succeeded in finding the Ore body certainly existent somewhere in there, a great many claim holders for miles along this prominent Lead will be benighted inasmuch as it proves their property to have equal chances with the Rob Roy. The surface showings are good, but to locate the permanent ore chute has heretofore been the difficulty. In the work anticipated the Eagle bespeaks success to A. E. Weloh, the enterprising managing director.—The Lardian Eagle, Ferguson, British Columbia, March 8, 1901.
