

IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

TUESDAY.

Enquiry by telephone yesterday elicited the information that Hon. William Laird, New Glasgow, was not improving any. He has been laid up for the past three weeks with diseased blood vessels and a couple of days ago this was aggravated by an attack of acute indigestion. Mr. Laird passed a very restless night Monday. It is earnestly to be hoped that Mr. Laird will soon recover, but from present appearances it is hardly likely that he will be in a position to attend an early session of the Local House.

The Fifteenth Annual meeting of the League of the Cross Society and Literary Institute took place Sunday in their hall on Dorchester St. From reports submitted it was shown that the business of the society amounted to almost four thousand dollars for the past year. The society being in a flourishing condition financially, has flourished to procure a number of splendid features providing recreation, pleasure and profit for the members. These include up-to-date bowling and hand-ball alleys and a pool room, which are all well patronized. Much credit is indeed due the League of the Cross for the splendid work it is doing among the young men of Charlottetown and it is to be hoped that the coming year will be marked with as great a measure as has the past one. The following officers were elected for 1911—Spiritual Director—P. McDonald, President—W. J. Bradburn, Secretary—W. F. Trainor; Treasurer—Stanislaus W. Wade; Chief Marshall—Andrew Butler; Hall Committee—P. Doyle, A. Joy, Geo. McQuaid; Auditing Committee—J. Francis, B. Desmond, W. Dockett.

DEATH OF MARY A. McPHERSON.

The friends of Miss Mary A. McPherson of Dartmouth, P. E. I., who are gathered together today, writes her pastor from Rutland, Mass., to show their love for her memory in the performance of these last rites, will be pleased to know that her life among the people with whom she lived for a number of years preceding her death, was a life for which no one need apologize. She made a host of friends in Massachusetts, who are mourning what seems to them her untimely death. It was remarkable, the interest they showed in her when they discovered the dangerous character of the illness that finally resulted in her death. They visited her, sent her flowers and delicacies, and she was out of the reach of personal visitation, wrote her letters of confidence and cheer and affection.

She was a Christian girl, and died in the full assurance of the Faith which had sustained her for years during which she revealed great interest in the church and its work. She was a devoted attendant at the church services, and the Christian people with whom she had fellowship recognized her as one worthy of their fullest trust.

When she learned the nature of the disease that had laid hold upon her she made an heroic fight to escape its deadly power. She was extremely brave; she wanted to live, for life contained much for her she believed. But when at last she knew the struggle was useless she became reconciled to the issue and passed away feeling that she could trust in the wisdom of a Higher Power. Her gentleness and patience did not forsake her during her trial of illness; it was a delight to her friends to minister to her because every act was appreciated so fully.

As her pastor, I called on her almost every day during the time of her illness just preceding her departure for the Sanatorium. She was greatly comforted with the reading of the Scriptures and the offering of prayer. It was a real joy to minister to such a devoted Christian, and to speak to her about the things relating to the eternal peace of the soul. I am sure that her message to you of comfort; she would not have you in this hour of sorrow would be one sorrow for her as one regarding whom there is no hope in the life to come. I believe her wish might be expressed in the beautiful lines of Mrs. Browning when she says:

"Of all the thoughts of God that are born inward unto souls a far, Along the psalmists' music deep, Now tell me if that any is For gift or grace surpassing this, 'He giveth His beloved sleep.'"

"And friends, dear friends, when it shall be, That this low breath has gone from me, And round my bier ye come to weep, Let one most loving of you all Say: 'Not a tear must o'er her fall; 'He giveth his beloved sleep.'"

Dangers of Blood-Poisoning

The best and simplest way of insuring against blood-poisoning is to apply Zam-Buk to a cut, burn, cold-sore or any open wound or diseased part as soon as sustained.

Of all the myriad forms of germs which set up blood-poisoning not one has been found that can live in Zam-Buk. A thin layer of Zam-Buk over a wound or sore acts in two ways. It prevents all harm coming into the wound or sore from the outside. On the underside it stimulates the cells to renewed activity, providing first the healing, tissue-building material needed by causing the blood to deposit this more rapidly, and thus brings about rapid healing, and plus it to that cold-sore, those chapped hands, that frost bite or that eczema. Sold at 50c. a box, all stores or druggists, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

The many friends of W. B. Hayter, Ellerslie, will be pleased to hear that he is recovering from the effects of the burn which he received a few days ago while canning quail-laug.

James Montgomery, son of D. Montgomery, leaves New York this month on return to Kobe, Japan. Mr. Montgomery and his bride visited the former's parents last fall.

who was given away by her father, was prettily gowned in cream cashmere with lace and ribbon trimmings and was attended by her sister Florence, while the groom was ably supported by the witness, Charles Payater of Long River. After the ceremony and congratulations the company sat down to a sumptuous repast, after which the evening was spent in music and dancing. The presents were numerous and handsome, testifying to the popularity in which the young couple are held by their many friends, who all unite in wishing them a long and happy journey through life.

It is considered probable that yesterday's trip of the Minto will be the last to this port, she is likely to go to Georgetown from Pictou on Thursday morning. The public are in favor of both boats making regular trips to this city, but while the reins of control remain in Ottawa the best of satisfaction will not be had.

Small pox has broken out at Samuel Livingstone's, Murray Harbor South. There are eight quarantined persons with the infected person, Joseph Livingstone, who has recently contracted at New Glasgow, N. S., where the young man has recently been taken to prevent the spread of the disease and vaccination is again the order of the day. It is understood that the disease is of a mild type, and that the patient is not very ill.

The congregation of Chipman, N. B., has extended a very hearty and unanimous call to the Rev. Edwin Smith, the travelling representative and staff correspondent of the Presbyterian Witness, to preach at the 18th and four weeks annual holiday. Norton congregation is also putting forth every effort to secure Mr. Smith as their pastor, offering a salary of $1,200, and a rented house, with a vacation of a month. Mr. Smith has made good proof of his ministry in other congregations and for the last year or more he has done splendid service for the Witness. Another of the congregations calling him may consider itself fortunate in securing a man of the ability and energy of Mr. Smith—Presbyterian pastor at Cardigan.

The Providence, R. I., Visitor says the statement generally made that the Hattie LeBlanc is a French Canadian is a mistake, that she is a French Acadian and remarks: "The verdict rendered by the jury was received with unfeigned joy in the old land of the Acadian farmers. From Halifax to Camps, from Margaree to Cheticamp up in Inverness County, the northernmost part of Cape Breton, men and women alike followed the proceedings with undivided attention—and anxiety. For if Hattie LeBlanc had been convicted she would have been the first person of that heroic race ever found guilty of murder. 'Thou shalt not kill,' is one of the Ten Commandments in Acadia and the Acadians observe the Commandments with religious obedience. It is one of the very few places in the world where there are no daily—and no liquor saloons. The Acadian and no liquor saloons. The Acadian farmers and fishermen are a rugged, honest, upright class of people and crime has never entered their small domains. Judges and sheriffs are unknown. The parish priest combines all these offices with that of a policeman, peace-maker, postmaster and pastor. Only three newspapers are read by the Acadians, L'Evangeline, printed in Yarmouth, N. S., Le Monitor Acadien, in New Brunswick, L'Impartial, in Prince Edward Island. They are all weeklies."

The home of William and Mrs. Adams, Sea View, was the scene of a happy event on Wednesday evening.

Anna Belle, was united in marriage to Merritt Davison of Burlington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Watson in the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives of the bride and groom. There are three criminal cases on the docket this term, viz: The King vs. John Bell Burglary. The King vs. George Edward Lower, James Lower and Chas. Doherty, burglary. The King vs. Victor Hudson, manslaughter. The Chief Justice in his charge to the Jury dealt first with criminal cases which would come before them, reviewing the evidence in each. In the John Bell case he charged with burglary on the premises of Theophilus Moore, and the two Loders, and Charles Doherty charged with breaking into the store of Morris and Fyfe on the above firm was on the Grand Jury. He was ordered not to absent himself from the jury room while that case was being considered. In the case of manslaughter against Victor Hudson was next reviewed by meaning of the terms, manslaughter, homicide, and other crimes. He then dealt with the salient features of the evidence. He pointed out that this was a serious matter. It should receive their careful consideration. The question for them to consider is: Did the action of Victor Hudson on the window of his aunt's house that day hasten her death? There was no doubt that it went there and making a stick

The first hockey match of the season took place at the Arena last night when the team of Lennox Island defeated the Braves from Nova Scotia by a score of four goals to two.

The game was fairly good, both teams trying their utmost, showing some good hitting and shooting. In combining and team work the P. E. Island men had the best of it, their forwards doing nice passing and playing well together. Their defence was also good, making good stops and showing some fine bursts of speed. While in the latter part of the first part of the game, the Nova Scotians put up a much better game in the second half; their forwards made some good runs and on this kind of play succeeded in twice scoring goals. The game was a close one, 3-3 and the Nova Scotia men had the best of things for a time. This, however, did not last long for soon the Lennox Island men forced the rubber out of danger and by a good run L. Knockwood succeeded in scoring the goal which was soon followed by another by Jacob Sark and again before the half ended by D. Knockwood. In the second half the game was closer. John Sark scored after three minutes for the Lennox Islanders. Then Squire and Francis Joseph scored each scoring for their team in the latter part of the half. Toby McMillan refereed. During the evening the 4th Regiment Band rendered appropriately a number of choice Indian selections. Both teams leave this morning for Summerside where they will play tonight. The teams lined up as follows: Lennox Island—Bernard, Lewis, Sark, Knockwood, Sark, Thomas, Knockwood, Nova Scotia—Francis, Thomas, Squire, Gould, Francis, Wilmont, Squire.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.

To the children of the late W. J. Caldwell:

We, the members of Caldwell L. O. L. No. 1207, Kensington, herein express and convey our deepest sympathy and rely on His precious promises through which you, in the Providence of God, are called upon to pass in the removal by death of your dear father and our good, loyal brother, who was cut down in the prime of life, and now again after the space of two short weeks you have been called to sorrow for the loss of your dear grand-mother. We deeply sympathize with you in this your sad bereavement, but that they are taken from you was at the call of an all-wise God. His ways are hidden to us, but this we do know and feel, that He doth all things well. We should always remember that the Almighty afflicted not willingly, as those afflictions are sent for our good to try our faith. Dear friends to those who put their trust in Him and rely on His precious promises death hath no terrors, that we are comforted by the dying testimony they left behind them of faith in their Redeemer in that they were not afraid to die. Though God has taken from you your dear grand-mother, yet from you He has not called you to your Heavenly home where we can meet them and where all are invited to come. We humbly and fervently pray that God will sustain and comfort you.

AN OPEN LETTER

From a Baptist Clergyman Telling of Cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., Gentlemen—It has been my intention to write to you for some time, but being busy I have neglected to do so until now. I am a Baptist minister, was ordained June 14th, 1887, in Canadian Baptist Church, Northumberland Co., Ont. I want to tell you in a few words as possible what I know about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was pastor of the Baptist Church in 1891 and again in 1894-5. While pastor in 1891, the Rev. John King, a former pastor, aged 74, was stricken with paralysis so that he could not help himself. He had to be carried, take a table-spoonful of this medicine every day, and in a few days he was able to walk again. I thought of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He began taking them, and it was not long before he could walk again and his bowels were regular. The paralysis never returned, his bowels remained active. He died a few years ago peacefully from old age.

I went from Dalesville, Que., to Groton, Vermont, as pastor of the Baptist Church in that place. There lived a man about two and one-half miles from Groton by the name of Neil McCrea, a Canadian. I heard he was ill, and being a Canadian, I went to see him. I found him lying in bed. He said he had no pain, but was too weak to sit up. His lips were bloodless, in fact he was as white as chalk. I recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and gave him some. He began taking them and in a short time could see blood in the veins of his hands and in the course of a few weeks he was out watching men building a new barn for him, and shortly after he returned to Groton to his church. Now, I ought to tell you that the doctor of Groton had given him up. The Ryegate doctor (a doctor in an adjoining village) could not help him and said so. The best doctor in the hospital of Burlington, Vt., came and saw Mr. McCrea, but said he could not help him. He did not get any help till Dr. Williams' Pink Pills put him on his feet again.

Later I returned to Dalesville, Que., as pastor. A young lady who lived about six miles west of Dalesville at a place called Edina, sent for me to come to see her, as she had been a member of my congregation in my former pastorate. I went to see her and found a similar case to that of Mr. McCrea, of Groton, Vt. This girl was so weak she could not get up. She appeared to be bloodless. I said to her: "It will cost you $6.00 to get a doctor to come out from Lacabets to see you, whereas you can get six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for $2.00. She followed my advice, took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and when some time later she was well, she said she was as well as ever, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did it all.

I have given you the facts of these three cases which came to my personal notice and I think only just to other sufferers that these cures should be given the widest publicity. If you wish me to go before a magistrat and take oath to the truthfulness of the things mentioned above, I am prepared to do so. I am at present engaged in evangelistic work, and am therefore not at the present time a permanent address. I can, however, refer you to the editor of the Canadian Baptist, (signed), T. C. Sowler.

THURSDAY.

At the Supreme Court in this city yesterday morning the four prisoners against whom the Grand Jury had found true bills were arraigned and their trials set down for hearing as follows—King vs. John Bell, breaking and entering, Tuesday. King vs. George E. Loder, James Loder and Charles Dobson, breaking and entering, Monday. The case of Wallace Whentley vs. V. S. McWilliams, an action for $80 for the sale of a milk route, was heard and judgment rendered. McLean, K. C., and McKinnon, K. C., were the plaintiffs and the defendant. All the other non-jury cases reported to be tried in yesterday's issue were confessed, with the exception of the case of William A. Coughlan vs. Duncan Robertson, an action for malicious prosecution and debt, which is now before the court. C. G. Duffy for defendant, and Mathieson, K. C., and MacDonald for defendant.

The results of the Xmas examinations in the Medical Faculty of McGill College were posted on Jan. 9th. The P. E. Island students did very well. They stand as follows in the year: (Five year course) Bacteriology—W. E. Williams, Mt. Pleasant, Summerside, and 9th place; R. Gillis, 11th year; (Four year course) Bacteriology—J. S. Jenkins, Charlottetown.

Yesterday afternoon the Grand Jury visited the Jail, the Infirmary and the Poorhouse. They returned to court at five and retired to their room. At nine-thirty last night they came in and reported having found true bills against John Bell for burglary, the two Loders and Charles Dobson, breaking and entering and no bill in the case against Victor Hudson, Stanhope, charged with manslaughter. The Grand Jury in their report stated they had visited the Infirmary and the Queen's County Jail. In the Hospital for the Insane they reported they had found every thing in first-class condition and they heartily congratulated Dr. Goodwill, superintendent of the institution, on the splendid order of things. Of the Infirmary they said everything was in a similar condition and the inmates were comfortable and contented. They found the Jail in as good condition as could be expected. They were pleased to know that the Government had let the contract for a new jail and offered to let to be used as a reformatory for juvenile offenders. They concurred with the suggestion of His Lordship, the Chief Justice, that suitable employment be found for the inmates.

THE WINTER BOATS.

See—You quote an article from The Pioneer re the winter boats. The editor is mildly sarcastic where adorning sarcasm would have been applicable, but there is something to be said in mitigation of the running away of the Minto. It will be remembered that just about this time last year under similar conditions, the Grey did precisely the same thing and if the captain had not, on the indignant remonstrance of the people, been ordered back to Georgetown all winter, though this port was open and easily made all spring.

It would not have been necessary to recall this incident had not the Board of Trade dealt with some inexplicable worm, or some morose "mooing" his destination of our port, got up and presented a fulsome entree on the captain's conduct. Now the captain of the Minto doubts as to the wisdom of a precedent and said to himself, "If the Grey is laid off for slipping off to Georgetown without cause, if I do the same why should I not get a recognition of merit?" But The Pioneer do not take that view of it. It seems as though the people were at last waking up to the fact that the captains and been humbly accepting their fate did not to where and when they should run the boats. You Mr. Editor, hit it exactly when you said in a recent article that it is probable and convenience of the captains, and alone to be considered and not the needs of the public. It is beyond dispute that there is much more common sense in going to Georgetown than in Charlottetown. But I do not hope that in future that will not be the first consideration.

Special to The Guardian.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11—Once more the corridors of the House of Commons show signs of activity, and the members are gathered in force. Arthur McGee's resolution calling for a substantial reduction in import duties on agricultural implements occupies the premier place on the order paper, but is not likely to be taken up for a day or two as Mr. Hays has not until after an announcement has been made as to the result of the tariff negotiations at Washington. There is little expectation on the part of members that the session will close before May, when a prorogation will be necessary to allow Sir W. Laurier and his colleagues to attend the Imperial Conference, the Opposition has indicated its intention of matters to inquire into the Public Accounts committee and bring up in House and by then will see the House going for four months, even if the business of a purely governmental character could be disposed of in less time.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9—Judge John A. Barry, of Stratford, J. W. Gilmour, of Brockville and J. G. Donoghue, of Toronto, have been constituted a board of conciliation under the Lemieux act in the dispute between the I. C. R. and Prince Edward Island railway and their train dispatchers telegraphers and station agents.
