At the City Court Saturday morning the case of E. T. Carbonell vs Daniel Jenkins and Von Clure Gay for hunting birds in the close season came up for hearing and were dismissed. The defendants were represented by George W. McPhee. The evidence submitted went to show that both Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Gay had not violated the game law in particular. On the contrary as the Magistrate well said these men, although they had an opportunity of violating the law, as law-abiding citizens carefully abstain from doing so. The Guardian had a pleasant call from W. H. Riley, Dundas, who is just home from a trip to the Toronto Exhibition. From Toronto he took a trip to the Niagara Falls and of this he speaks very highly. He left Toronto Monday the 7th by boat to Niagara on the Lake, from there to Lewiston, U. S. A., thence by Gorge Route to the falls, thence across the steel arch bridge to Canada to Table Rock, where a magnificent view of the falls can be obtained. He is delighted with his trip and speaks very highly of the wonders of the Niagara.
