This telegraphic code comprises English, French, Spanish, Russian, Japanese, Italian, Portuguese, Dutch, and German and is claimed to be so complete that foreign business correspondence can be conducted even by letter without any knowledge of foreign languages, thus obviating the necessity of an expensive office staff and finally nullifying the disastrous effects of the tower of Babel.

ROUMANIANS STILL ROBBING HUNGARY

Warned by Allies That This Must be Discontinued and Goods Already Taken Must be Paid For.

(Special to The Guardian.)
PARIS, Aug. 24.—The Reparation Committee of the Peace Conference has drafted a note which the Supreme Council will probably send to Roumania immediately warning the Bucharest Government that reparations under the German and Austrian treaty will be entirely cut off if the Roumanians continue to make requisitions and that all requisitions already made by the Roumanians in Hungary will be deducted from that nation's share in the indemnity to be paid by Austria. Roumanian soldiers still continue seizing foodstuffs, farming machinery and other materials in Hungary and are sending them to Roumania but the fact that an important railroad bridge near the Hungarian frontier has been wrecked makes it impossible for the goods to enter Roumania, a large number of cars are stalled at that point and officers are investigating supplies which they contain.

TO DEFEAT BOLSHEVISM BEFORE WINTER SETS IN

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Aug. 24.—A concerted effort to defeat the Bolsheviki before winter now seems on the cards. The anti-Bolshevists have in mind three definite objectives; first, the capture of Petrograd by the north-western army under Yudenich; second further exploitation of Denikin's success in Southern Russia. The establishment of their blockade of the Soviet territory continues. Unless more than one of the objects can be attained the downfall of the Bolsheviki appears remote, because, according to the best information

Shocking Tragedy In New Brunswick

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 23.—A shocking tragedy occurred at the home of Robert Hutchinson, Molus River, Kent County, this afternoon, when Mrs. William Fearson, of Fairbairn, Quebec, and eldest daughter of Mr. Hutchinson, was instantly killed by being run over by a team attached to a reaper. Mrs. Fearson was standing at the head of the horses, holding them, and they became unmanageable, running away, knocking Mrs. Fearson down, and the heavy reaper passing over her body. Mrs. Fearson, whose home is at Fairbairn, Quebec, was paying a visit to her parents. Her husband had accompanied her to Molus River, but recently returned home. The unfortunate woman was about thirty-five years of age, and leaves, besides her husband, a baby about six months old.

Hoover Urges Supreme Council to Act

PARIS, Aug. 22.—Herbert Hoover, head of the International Relief Organization, who has just returned from a two weeks trip through Central Europe, told correspondents today that it is imperative that decisive steps be taken immediately to displace Archduke Joseph as head of the Hungarian government, and to give Hungary a chance to establish a popular government. The new countries of Central Europe, Mr. Hoover said, are terrorized by the tolerance shown toward the setting up of the Hapsburg Government.

The Dardanelles Commission Report

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The Times forecasts that the Dardanelles Commission's final report will find that insufficient consideration was given to ensure proper safety at time of the original landing in 1914. The difficulties at the time were greatly underestimated and the Commission strongly criticizes the attacks made at Anzac and Suvla. The failure is largely attributed to faulty leadership, and several commanders particularly at Suvla are censured. The report unhesitatingly agrees with the decision to evacuate, but states that the decision was unduly delayed and expresses the opinion that Munroe's view estimated and the Commission ought to have been decisive. The Commission adversely criticizes the breakdown of the water supply and the arrangements for the evacuation of the wounded.

PRINCE OF WALES AT ANCIENT CAPITAL

H.R.H. Given Magnificent Ovation When He Placed Wreaths Upon and Saluted the Monuments of Wolfe and Montcalm.

(Special to The Guardian.)
QUEBEC, Aug. 23.—Edward Prince of Wales showed today that British Royalty knows how to honor the memory of a worthy foe. Surrounded by a vast throng of descendants of the opposing armies which battled over a century and a half ago upon the heights of Abraham, His Royal Highness reverently laid a beautiful wreath on the monument of the heroic Montcalm who fell mortally wounded in defence of the Lily Flag of France and in dying expressed his satisfaction that he did not see the surrender of Quebec.

Having placed the floral tribute in position the young soldier Prince retreated a pace or two and saluted the memorial to the vanquished general. It was a picturesque incident which won the hearts of all and the tremendous ovation given to the gallant son of King George testified to the strength of the union that has sprung up in Canada and to the admiration of the people of Quebec who pride themselves upon their unswerving loyalty to the British Crown. After a Salute amid the cheers of the throng in "La Grande Allee" His Royal Highness hastened on to the scene of the memorable battle which decided the fate of the French regime in Canada and deposited another magnificent wreath of flowers and laurel upon the monument of General Wolfe which marks the spot where the British Commander succumbed to the third wound in the oment of victory. Here again another great crowd had gathered in which the citizens of French origin predominated. The Prince once more saluted and his tribute to the victorious Wolfe evoked cheers which could be heard far across the plain. The outstanding event of the day occurred a few minutes later when His Royal Highness traversed the sacred ground to assist in the unfurling of a silken Union Jack which now flies for the first time over the battlefields not far from the spot where 160 years ago Wolfe ordered his men to wither their fire until the enemy was within a distance of forty yards. A great flag staff had been erected by the National Battlefields Commission and thousands had gathered to witness the impressive pageant. He was then presented with an address by Sir George Garneau, chairman of the Battlefields Commission. His Royal Highness in his reply said: "I feel it not only a great pleasure, but also a great privilege to inaugurate the Quebec Battlefields Park. 'I have just laid a wreath upon the memorial to Wolfe and Montcalm and before I leave that park, I hope to lay another upon the monument Aux Braves. 'The great war from which we have just victoriously emerged enables us to look back to our forefathers of that time with pride of men who feel that they have justified their ancestry and maintained its great traditions. I thank you for your loyal reference to my father the King, and I wish a rapid completion to the plans of this fine park.'
