EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is announced that the Dominion government will establish an experimental tobacco station in Western Ontario for the benefit of those engaged in cultivating "the weed" there.

Germany has resolved to discriminate against Canada because of our preferential tariff in favor of the United Kingdom. That may be all right, and we have never sold much of our products in Germany any way—only about a million dollars worth yearly. The United States sells more than one hundred times as much in Germany as Canada does and no doubt Canadian trade in that quarter might have been increased had our people set about it energetically. At the same time Germany could not hurt us much if she refused altogether to trade with us.

There is another side to the story of the fraudulent ballots in the Brockville election. As will be remembered, a Mr. Wendling, proprietor of the Clifton House at Brockville, was one of the persons charged with issuing the fraudulent ballot papers. He has now caused the arrest of one Mrs. Webster, who, he alleges, made a demand upon him for $500 hush money on behalf of her brother-in-law. The latter, she said, would denounce Wendling for the issue of the false ballots and for other improprieties. Mrs. Webster, on telling her story was arrested for attempting to levy black mail.

THE EDITOR'S MAIL.

Reply to Hon. Mr. Campbell.

SIR.—In the absence of an official report, I will accept Mr. Campbell's version of his remarks, especially as he cannot now repudiate what he puts over his own signature. Mr. C. devoted considerable of his speech to innuendoes against the introducers of the Liquor Regulation Act and temperance men in general, and a Grand Worthy Patriarch in particular. As a Son of Temperance (and a "Son of Truth" too), I wished to get Mr. Campbell down to something specific. He has nibbled the hook, but only with the slippery grip characteristic of politicians. I agree with Mr. C. that we cannot have "two G. W. Patriarchs at the same time." This fact makes his charge that, "The G. W. Patriarch, whilst publicly proclaiming temperance, was supporting liquor candidates," a very specific one. It will now be in order for Mr. C. to name the "liquor candidates" supported by "The G. W. Patriarch," and, until the proof is forthcoming, the Rev. Mr. Kirby, who holds that honorable position, will continue to enjoy the fullest confidence of the temperance community, of every "Son of Truth" and of every

The Late Edwin Robins.

A recent issue of the Cornell Alumni News contains a tribute to the late Edwin Proctor Robins of Bedeque:—

The first death at the Infirmary, which has this year proved such an inestimable boon to Cornell students, was that of Edwin Proctor Robins, who died on Wednesday, April 19th, from appendicitis. Mr. Robins was born twenty-five years ago at Central Bedeque, Prince Edward Island. In 1895, he received the degree of A. B. from Dalhousie College, Halifax, N. S. and, after a year's graduate work, the degree of A. M. In the fall of 1896, he came to Cornell and entered the graduate department as a student of philosophy.

This year he held a fellowship, and expected to graduate with the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in June. Mr. Robins made many warm friends here both among the members of the Faculty and among the students. There was a childlike straightforwardness about his nature and a gentle kindness which won for him the respect and affection of his fellows in an unusual degree. He was modest, genial and companionable, and was interested in everything which could promote the welfare of the University. By his death the Philosophical and the Canadian Clubs are left without a president, and the Graduate Club loses one of its most prominent members.

By his profession Mr. Robins was regarded as an unusually strong student and a man of quite exceptional promise. He published last fall an important article in the Philosophical Review which excited much interest among philosophical scholars. He had also taken part in a number of important investigations in the psychological laboratory. It is hoped that arrangements can be made for the publication of his thesis, which he had practically completed, as a memorial of his life and work.

As Professor Tyler said in the beautiful memorial service which was held in the Chapel Sunday afternoon; "Such a man does not live in vain; his memory remains with us, and his influence remains through time and eternity; he has made the University better by being a member of it."
