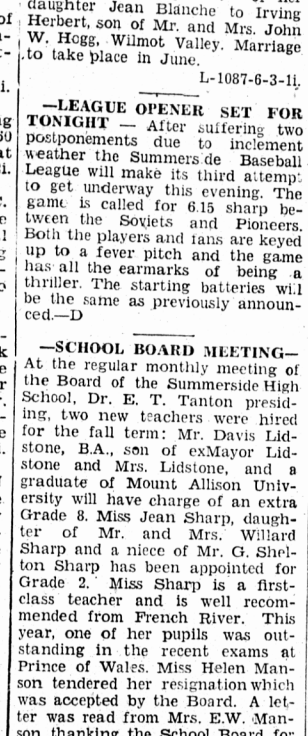
For George VI— a New Premier



For a new king, a new premier—stern, wintry, intensely practical Neville Chamberlain, whose tariff barriers and war budget are the most important things in Britain's economic life just now. Shown below are Mrs. Chamberlain, left, and their daughter Dorothy.

"I Tell you how it is," said the sad-looking young man. "I met a young widow, with a grown-up daughter, and I married that widow.

"Then my father met our step-daughter and married her. That made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law, and made my step-daughter my stepmother; and my father became my step-son. See?

"Then my stepmother, the stepdaughter of my wife, had a son. That boy was of course my brother, because he was my father's son, but he was also the son of my wife's stepdaughter, and, therefore her grandson. That made me grandfather to my stepbrother. Then my wife had a son.

"My mother-in-law, the sister of my son, was also his grandmother, because he is her stepmother's child. My father is the brother-in-law of my child, because his step-sister is his wife. I am the brother of my own son who is also the child of my stepmother. I am my mother's brother-in-law, my wife is her own child's aunt, my son is my father's nephew and I am my own grandfather, and I can't stand it."

Gehrig Begins 13th Season

NEW YORK, June 2—Lou Gehrig, durable first sacker of the world's champion New York Yankees, began the 13th year of his consecutive game streak as the Yanks began their second western trip in Cleveland today.

Gehrig has participated in 1,843 consecutive American League games since he began his string on June 1, 1925.

FASHIONABLE LEATHERS

Pigskin is still fashionable this season particularly in the dark toast color for bags and belts; and more pinseal and grained morroccos of the finer sort are being seen than last year. All of this is telling on the long and important supremacy of boxcalf, although it still continues to be seen in the Schiaparelli type of bag, and for belts and buttons hand-stitched in contrasting color. Antelope is still the favorite of smart women for afternoon bags and gloves. One Paris house has had a lot of success this season with thick suede-finished leather said to be a sort of chamois and used in Austria for men's breeches and waistcoats.

EMPLOYMENT FOR PRISONERS RECOMMENDED

Grand Jurors Present Report—Urge Speed Laws Be Amended.

The Supreme Court resumed its sittings yesterday morning at Summerside when His Lordship Chief Justice Mathieson addressed the Grand Jury briefly.

Referring to the report of the Sheriff, F. J. E. Wright, His Lordship deplored the large number of prisoners that had been confined to the jail in the last six months, 95 in all. It was rather shocking, he said, and asked the jurymen if they could suggest any remedy as a deterrent to crime. He also asked them to consider the ever present question of accidents on the highways, and for them to make any suggestions they deemed advisable and concluded by complimenting them on the efficient manner they had carried out their duties at the court.

Sheriff's Report

In the Sheriff's report the following number of persons were committed to jail since the last sitting of the court. For breach of the Prohibition Act, 37; breach of Excise Act, 4; petty larceny, 13; drunk and disorderly, 25; vagrancy 2; breach of Highway Traffic Act, 6; offense against the Unmarried Parents Act, 1; asault, 4; breach of Fisheries Act, 2; contempt of court, 1. At present confined to jail: breach of Prohibition Act, 6; petty larceny, 4; breach of Highway Traffic Act, 1; assault, 1; drunk, 1.

After inspecting the jail premises the Grand Jury returned the following report:

"Supreme Court, Prince County, June term, 1937;

"The Honorable John A. Mathieson, Chief Justice, presiding Judge. May it please Your Lordship: We your Grand Jurors wish to submit the following report:

"We have gone over the court house and jail and found it in a sanitary condition. There are certain repairs that are badly in need of prompt attention. We herewith submit a list, namely:

"1st—Basement windows facing north west and south are in need of heavy screen wire or continuation of present iron fence to prevent articles being passed from the outside to prisoners within.

"2nd—Several large patches or squares of plaster are off the ceiling in the basement corridor, furnace room, also in the ground floor hall, which if attended to would add greatly to the general appearance of the jail.

"3rd—The lading going into the basement has dropped away from the wall and is down some six inches on north side and recommend the levelling of same.

"4th—The jailor recommended the erection of a door and partition at the foot of stairs leading to his living quarters upstairs and after viewing same recommend this addition.

"5th—On the northwest corner of Court House some bricks are missing and if repairs are not attended to will endanger the corner of the main building.

"6th—In the Prothonotary's office (Mr. J. F. Arsenault) this ceiling is water stained and in need of a coat of muresco or kalsomine.

"7th—The Jailor (Mr. Baker) requested 9 new cell locks as the present ones are obsolete and worn out and can be picked open and has been recommended the purchase of same.

"8th—Considering the large number confined to our prison we feel that this subject is too great to confine in this report. We would, however, recommend that some kind of employment be found for them. We understand that this has been attempted and recommend that vigorous action be taken along those lines. We believe that this would decrease the number of inmates.

"9th—Re the constables and fence viewers for Prince County your jurors have given it a careful check up and have adjusted it to comply with recommendation and to the best of our ability.

"10th—We note Your Lordship made special mention of motor traffic on our highways. In view of the increasing number of killings which have taken place on the highways we are of the opinion that 90% of those were caused by excessive speed, and therefore recommend that the laws governing speed be so amended that anyone convicted for this offence, besides being fined, that his driving license be suspended for a term of from two to six months".

Signed, Foreman, for self and fellows.

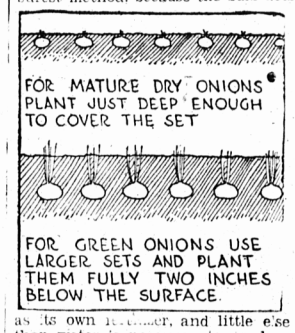
HOME GROWN ONIONS

Are Easily and Quickly Produced From Bulbs

We grow onions from seed or from sets, but when we are in a hurry for a crop, we choose the latter. It is a convenience which saves us time and space ,and is also the surest method, because the bulb acts as its own fertilizer, and little else than water is necessary to produce young onions or the mature large "dry" types to store.



It is not generally known that only small onion sets should be used in the garden when the obective is mature dry onions. In general, early planting, other things being equal, gives better results than later plantings. When mature dry onions are the end in view, the onion sets should not be planted very deep, just deep enough so that the onion set is covered.

For the production of green onions for bunching or table use larger sets are better than the very small ones. Onion sets from ¾ inch to 1 inch in diameter or slightly larger, grow faster, because there has been stored up in the bulb plant food which is quickly made available for the growing plant, and green onions grown from larger sets are likelyto be more crisp and tender than when the same size of green onion is produced from smaller sets. For green onions it is advisable to plant onion sets about 2 inches below the surface. So that there will be a succession, many home gardeners plant onion sets at intervals of a week to ten days. White onion sets are the most popular for the production of green onions, but yellows are frequently used, and if one does not object to the color, red onion sets may be also used for this purpose.

In planting onion sets one does not have to wait until all the frost is out of the ground, or until all danger from frosts is past.

From 15 to 30 pounds of large onions can be produced from 1 quart of onion sets which do not run more than ¾ inch in diameter. At prevailing retail values of both onions and onion sets, from a dollar's worth of onion sets from twelve to twenty-five dollars' worth of onions can be produced.

FOR BRIDAL KITCHENS

The bride of this June won't be content with her equipment unless it includes many of the electrical appliances that have lately come on the market, many others that are improvements on old friends of the kitchen. For the bride's friends and relatives these marvelous modern appliances make unique and welcome gifts. For instance, there's a many-service electric stove. It features a grill inside the lid, a porcelain inset pan, adjustable food rack and fitted pan set. Then there is the mixer that prepares everything from soup to souffle, the clock watcher that rings a bell when a roast or cake is ready. Irons are being made more and more efficient, so that the bride of today isn't as likely to scorch her precious linens. An automatically controlled waffle iron will give you perfect waffles with the least amount of trouble and as a companion piece, a modern toaster that rings a bell and turns the toast out done exactly to your fancy. The new coffee-makers are gifts that any bride would thrill over. Tempered glass and a tested drip system gives you coffee that is hard to beat. Then there are any number of electric hot plates, beaters, squeezers, roasters, and cookers of all kinds, that make cooking a game to the modern bride who is lucky enough to be given such- gifts- asd- practical enough to buy them for her trousseau.
