KELLY AND BIGGAR WIN BOXING BOUTS

Kinsman Loses Decision While Leslie Is Shorn Of Island Heavy Title

Staging a courageous comeback in the last two rounds, "Irish" Leo Kelly last night won a judges' decision over Earl Kinsman of Berwick, Nova Scotia, after ten rounds of rugged battling in the main event of the boxing card staged at the Forum. Kelly's thrilling decision victory came after Stan Biggar had shorn George Leslie of Souris of his Island heavyweight title after two minutes and ten seconds of battling in the first round of the semi-final affair.

Kinsman, giving Kelly a ten-pound pull in the weights forced the highly-thought-of local boy to the limit before losing the judges' nod. In the first eight rounds of the scrap Kinsman, one of the best counter punchers ever to display his wares in an Island ring, battled Kelly on even terms. There were no knockdowns but despite this fact both boys gave the fans plenty to enthuse over. Able to take Kelly's best punches Kinsman made his best stand in the fourth canto when he forced the Island boy to cover up repeatedly as he scored with punches to the head and body. Forcing the fight in the fifth and sixth Kelly earned a margin in points only to have the Annapolis Valley Apple Belt mittslinger stage another comeback during the seventh and eighth to square matters once more. In the last two sessions, however, it was Kelly all the way. Continually landing telling blows Leo rushed his opponent all over the ring during the ninth and tenth but Kinsman's experience stood him in good stead from a knockout defeat when the tide suddenly turned against him.

After suffering two previous knockout defeats at the hands of the Island heavyweight champion George Leslie, Stan Biggar last night cheered the hearts of his followers no end when he won a 1-round technical knockout victory over the Souris boy after two minutes and ten seconds of fighting. Forcing the fight as he came out of his corner Leslie had it much his own way in the first minute and a half of the scrap. Fans were envisioning another Leslie victory but suddenly, like a bolt out of the blue, Biggar's right hand landed flush on Leslie's jaw and the champion went down for a nine-count. Rising gamely to his feet Leslie ran into a left hook and as he struggled to his feet at the count of eight his seconds threw in the towel, marking the end of the Souris boy's second reign of Island heavyweights.

"Tiger" Williams, possessing too much punching power for his opponent came through with his third straight victory over Paddy Stewart at the end of two rounds of fighting. Stewart, recipient of a hard right hand punch to the stomach, was saved by the bell at the end of the second but was in no condition to come out for the third and what was to have been the final round.

Laddie McCormick took a three round decision from Rollie Constable in another preliminary encounter while in the opening fight of the card Harrison Ryan, a second edition of Bennie Binns punched his way to a three-round decision over Ivan Docherty after being held to a draw in the first round of the encounter.

Sport Forum

The Sports Editor,
Charlottetown Guardian,
Charlottetown, P. E. I.,

Dear Sir,—Kindly allow me space in your valuable sports page to make the amateur situation existing throughout the Maritimes a little more understandable, club officials, athletes and the general public have been so confused of late that nobody seems to know what it is all about or why. As the main difficulty has been with hockey we will explain that matter first, although some of the same troubles pertain to other sports as well.

Some years ago the M. P. B. A. A. U. of C. gave the hockey clubs permission to form an association to control foster and encourage the playing of good clean amateur hockey amongst the youth of the Maritimes with the understanding that same would be conducted according to the amateur code of the A. A. U. of C. All went fine for a number of years and we in these provinces enjoyed well controlled hockey played by Maritime youths; for instance the Halifax City League and others of like calibre in other parts of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Then came the affiliation of the Maritime hockey body with the C. A. H. A. and trouble; for instance the Truro Bearcat wrangle, the Moncton Hawks squabble and the Wolverine fiasco just to mention a few of our trials. Now the situation has broadened out and is verging on the chaotic, not only for hockey, but other sports as well.

Since accepting office a few years ago I have given the Maritime sport control matter a lot of study and after taking things over with our executive and others directly interested in the welfare of athletes came to the conclusion that Maritime sport is over governed with too many associations, all apparently doing the same thing and none doing much of anything. In other words it has developed into different bodies selfishly thinking of only one branch of sport and forgetting the others. As the M. P. B. A. A. U. of C. is the senior governing body of all amateur sport and it being the duty of its officers to see that every branch of athletics is properly, efficiently and economically conducted and being firmly convinced that one body with competent committees can do just that, I suggested to the M. A. H. A. at their last annual meeting that they vote themselves out of existence, instead of them doing so, and while the meeting was a very slim one and not by any means representative of Maritime hockey clubs, the meeting adopted changes to the amateur rules and thereby left only one course open to the Maritime Amateur Athletic Association, viz, the taking over direct control of amateur hockey. At our annual meeting held the 6th inst., a resolution was passed that the M. P. B. A. A. U. of C. appoint committees to take the places of associations now in existence, for the management of sport in different branches. Therefore from that date it is not necessary for amateur clubs to affiliate or pay fees to any organization other than the parent body, viz., the M. P. B. A. A. U. of C. We must have unity in sport as in other matters and it can be readily seen that if the various branches of sport are permitted to adopt different amateur rules then it will not be long before all the good work that Maritime sportsmen have done for years in building up this organization will have been for naught, and an athlete would not know whether he was an amateur, professional, outlaw or what have you. To avoid just such a situation this open letter is official notification to amateur hockey clubs that if they do not affiliate with this branch and abide by the rules we will have no alternative but to bar them from further participation in amateur sports. This after all is only common sense if we desire proper sport control, and as I honestly believe amateur officials, athletes and the general public realize that necessity, I do not expect we well have to take the above mentioned action. The situation from a club standpoint now is, that to take part in organized amateur sport, all the fees a senior club has to pay is five dollars per year and twenty-five cents for each amateur card, doing away with all the affiliation fees to other organizations, the same registration card taken out for hockey can be used for baseball, basketball, track, boxing and any other sport coming under the control of this branch. Suitable trophies emblematic of amateur hockey championships in senior, intermediate and junior will be provided.

The operating cost of the M. A. H. A. last season roughly speaking was a little in excess of twenty-two hundred dollars and the cost of baseball in the three provinces over one thousand dollars, the figures for other sports I have not at present. What I would like to know and I am sure officials of amateur clubs likewise have thought of is what benefits do they derive from these different associations other than the permission to play in amateur competition? They have already received that sanction once they have affiliated with this branch and have been issued amateur cards.

I would here remind all Maritime clubs and those interested in sport that there is only one set of amateur rules and surely that must be the code as laid down by the A. A. U. of C. There cannot be different rules for hockey than for baseball, basketball, track, boxing, football, etc. There has to be uniformity if we are to have a healthy sport condition, some people will say the rules are antiquated, well if such is the case and they are not suited to us in the Maritimes, all amateur clubs should send delegates to the annual meeting and have suggested changes discussed fearlessly and if the majority should be in favor of amendments then have them put into operation. We are not going to accept changes as introduced by the C. A. H. A. just because that body says so, we are intelligent enough to manage our own sports in these eastern provinces and will do so. As a matter of fact we would have been a lot better off and we never heard of either the C. A. H. A. or the Allen Cups, as our association with the former and our quest for the latter has brought nothing but grief.

In conclusion I hope this letter has made the existing situation a little clearer and would ask all interested in our Maritime athletic youth to assist the officers of this association in making this body a strong healthy one. With the elimination of so many burdensome fees that clubs have had to struggle under, the smaller and junior clubs will I feel be in better financial condition and with the paying sports helping those that do not draw such good gate receipts, we will again be able to build up one powerful body that, besides being a credit to the Maritimes will be another lesson to the other parts of Canada what we down easterners can do.

In this regard I would welcome any suggestions or constructive criticism from club officials, athletes and others, including last but not least sports writers, in order that this branch can once more be put back on a common sense business-like operation basis.

Yours very truly.

THOS. L. MACDONALD,
President M.P.B.A.A.U. of C.

Binns To Meet Kelly Oct. 29th

As a result of a challenge issued at the ringside last night Bennie Binns is to meet Leo Kelly here on October 29th for the Island middleweight boxing title.

Ever since Kelly has made his presence felt in Island boxing circles this fight has been looked forward to eagerly and fans are envisioning one of the most sensational scraps ever put before an Island audience.

Belmont Futurit y Record Breaker

Bill Cook Builds Team For Cleveland

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19—Bill Cook of New York Ranger hockey fame has begun his first year as a manager seeking to carve an International-American League squad, Cleveland Barons, from 23 players assembled at Winnipeg training quarters.

Last year the outfit, known as Cleveland Falcons, was the doormat of the Canadian division of the league and finished in the cellar.

Bill has five amateurs working out with 18 professional players. He particularly likes the play of Walter Holditch and Bev North, forward and defenceman from Calgary, and Stuart Smith, centreman from Kenora, Ont.

"I expect to have at least two of these players with my team this winter," he said after a practice session yesterday.

Cook said Peggy O'Neill, Saskatoon; Lorne Duguid, Bill Cook, Kingston, Ont.; Earl Roche, Montreal; Moe Roberts, Cambridge, Mass.; Arthur Berlett, Buffalo; Walter Hergesheimer, Winnipeg, are almost certain of spots with Barons.

Jean Pusie, colorful French-Canadian player once with New York Rangers, is sure to make a place if he recovers from a back injury suffered in an automobile accident last summer.

Sports Dope

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—Flash—Pittsburgh Pirates will be broken up if they can get what they want. Except for pitchers Bauers, Tobin, and Bowman, catcher Todd and infielders Brubaker and Handley, they's ready to shoot the works—Waners and all. Arky Vaughn is definitely on the block.

Solly Krieger, the middleweight, is running for councilman in one of the Brooklyn districts and may make it.

Mike Jacobs and Joe Gould spotted walking up Sixth Avenue in their new camel's hair topcoats—oh, oh—somebody had better look out. Ancil Hoffman is due tomorrow from California to line up some winter biz for the Messrs. Baer.

More baseball deals due to pop any day now. They call Pie Traynor the "Caspar Milquetoast" of the pilots but he slapped more fines on his players this season than any other manager. I don't go around advertising it," says Pie, "as it hurts the players' sale or trade value."

Alex Connell Announces Retirement

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 —(CP—Alex Connell, netminder for Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League, announced tonight he was definitely retired as a player.

Connell, who came out of retirement and helped Maroons win the Stanley Cup in 1934-35 season, said he made the decision during the summer after playing only part of last winter with the Montreal club. Maroon officials have been negotiating with him lately as to his future activities.

Old Country Curlers Will Tour Canada

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

TORONTO, Oct. 19—The itinerary of a team of 30 Scottish curlers who will tour much of Canada this winter was announced here today by E. P. Atkinson, Honorary Secretary of the Dominion Curling Association. The team will arrive in Halifax Dec 31 and sail for home Feb. 25.

After games in Halifax, the Scots will play in New Brunswick against representatives of that province and of Prince Edward Island. Then the team will travel to Quebec City, Montreal and Ottawa before coming to Toronto.

After leaving here, the visitors will journey to Fort William, then on to Regina, Calgary and Edmonton, Mr. Atkinson announced. On the trip back, the team will play in Saskatoon and Winnipeg, taking part in the 50th annual Manitoba Bonspiel.

Games in Sudbury, Timmins and Kirkland Lake in Northern Ontario will follow before the teams return to Toronto, thence travel to Utica, N. Y., and Boston.

Maranville Again Signed To Pilot Royals

MONTREAL, Oct. 19 —(CP)—Walter (Rabbit) Maranville will pilot Montreal Royals through another International Baseball League grind. "The Rabbit," Hector Racine, club president, announced tonight, signed a one-year contract as team manager at a "satisfactory" increase over last year.

The deal was concluded in short time. Maranville arrived here today from Rochester and immediately went into conference with Racine. He left tonight to return to Rochester.

Harry Currie Signed With Detroit Club

(By The Canadian Press)

DETROIT, Oct. 19—Following his announced plan of signing at least half a dozen amateurs this season, Manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings, National Hockey League champions and Stanley Cup holders the last two season, announced tonight the acquisition of Harry Currie, 21-year-old forward.

Currie, who performed with the Hershey, Pa., amateur club last season, will make his professional debut as a centre with Pittsburgh Hornets of the International-American League, Detroit's farm team.

Early injuries and illnesses have given Adams little chance to play his Red Wings as a whole in practice sessions. Centre Gordon Pettinger and wingman Pete Kelly are recovering from an attack of influenza while Scotty Bowman, veteran rearguard, has a badly strained side muscle.

None of the trio will get in the city championship series which starts Sunday but they are expected to be fit for the regular season opening at Toronto Nov. 4.

Marty Barry, Larry Aurie and Herbie Lewis, ace first-string forward line, worked together for the first time this season at the ice session today.

SEEKS DEFENCEMAN

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Oct. 19—(CP)—Filling the gap left in Montreal Maroons' defence by the retirement of Lionel Conacher, is the main worry of Coach King Clancy as he hurries his National Hockey League team through daily workouts at this mountain resort.

The problem isn't an easy one Clancy admits but the former Toronto Maple Leafs' star, taking his first turn as a big-time coach, has his eye on a youngster he thinks will bring the solution. He is Maurice Croghan, hard-hitting defenceman last season with Quebec Aces, Quebec senior champions.

Bob Gracie and Gus Marker, forward stars of last season's club are the only absentees from training camp at present. They are reported as holdouts but Clancy expects the players will soon come to terms and report for conditioning.

Among the rookies trying out with the big red team are Des Smith of Ottawa who played last season with Wembley Lions in London; Fat Perras, goalie; Bud O'Connor, centre, and Johnny Mahaffey, wing, of Montreal Royals; Mel Carey, goal, and Doug Boston, defence, of Toronto Dominions and Frank Sullivan, winger from Regina.

NO TROUBLE

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19—New York Rangers hockey organization chalked up another record today.

Manager Lester Patrick announced he had signed all 31 professional players within a space of two hours last night.

There were 16 Ranger National Hockey League contracts and 15 Philadelphia Rambler contracts signed. Ramblers, Rangers farm hands, were finalists in the International-American League last spring.

Forward Pass Cited Greatest Contribution

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

STOCKTON, Calif., Oct. 19—Amos Alonzo Stagg, the United States gridiron's grand old man, searched the memories of 48 years of coaching today and gave credit to the forward pass as "the outstanding single contribution" to football.

The 75-year-old dean of coaches remembers well that fall of 1906 when pitching the ball became part of the sport. He was at the University of Chicago where he coached 41 years before coming to college of the Pacific five years ago.

"It changed football from a bruising, mass encounter into an interesting game," he said.

"I will never forget the year. There had been something like 32 deaths in 1905. Criticism reached an acute state.

"The rules committee saw the handwriting on the wall. It was then we eliminated the 'push and pull' phase of the game, and the forward pass came into being."

NEUSEL WINS BOUT

LONDON, Oct. 19—Walter Neusel, German heavyweight, outpointed Maurice Strickland of New Zealand in a 12 round bout tonight. Neusel weighed 203 1-2 pounds and Strickland 187 1-2.

Visitors Outsteady Young Local Team To Capture Second Encounter 11-4

Displaying the same fielding class they exhibited in the first game, Stellarton Monarchs yesterday combined tricky bunting with a free-swinging game to defeat Charlottetown Rovers 11-4 and capture the Nova Scotia-Prince Edward Island softball title in straight games.

Helped along considerably by damaging Rover errors, Monarchs went into a 3-0 lead in the second inning, doubled their total with three earned runs in the next frame, their only earned counters of the game, ran the count to nine in the fifth as a result of another error with two down and then wound up their scoring with single markers in the sixth and seventh.

Far below their usual fielding class throughout the game Rovers nevertheless threatened seriously to get into the thick of the fight in the fifth after their opponents had piled up their big lead. Up to this time the only semblance of a run the Rovers had was Ab McKinnon's walloping homer to centre field in the second. In the fifth, however, after the first man had been retired Stull got a life at first through an error at centre field. Jay drove him home with a double to right centre and completed the circuit himself when the Monarch centrefielder threw wild attempting to cut the run off at the plate. A hit by Stewart and a pass to McNeill put runners on first and second but a sparkling catch by Chet Fleming in left field off Whitlock's hard smash drew Potts out of serious difficulties and stopped the threatening Rover rally as the Stellarton hurler accounted for the third out of the inning by the strikeout method. The losers failed to threaten after this as the batters either popped up or grounded out weakly, their other run coming in the eighth as Monarchs had three errors in succession.

Yesterday was a repetition of the game at Stellarton. Had Rovers been nearly up to the form they displayed throughout their league games a different story might have been told. Yesterday each team had but three earned runs to their credit. Rovers had eight errors chalked up against them and while the visitors had a large five in the error column, nevertheless they never failed to tighten up with Rover runners on the sacks.

Robbie Potts in pitching his second straight victory against the Island champions granted but seven hits throughout the game and was never in trouble except in the fifth inning. On the other hand Monarchs again found Ray Stull for fifteen safe blows, including a home run by Lowe in the third with a mate aboard, the only extra base wallop Stellarton garnered. Stull had four strikeouts to his credit.

Leading the Stellarton hitters was Chet Fleming with three hits out of five times at the plate, while Jay and Stewart led the local attack with a brace of hits each.

All Serene In Fistic Circles Except Mike

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—Michael Strauss Jacobs is in a fine pickle—worse off than the sport who's all dressed up with no place to go.

All his life, Mike wanted to be a czar but now that he's reached his goal as the great monopolist of boxing he's an unhappy, restless man. Except for a few barks here and there nobody battles him and old Michael can only sit around with no manoeuvring or phenagling to do. It's slow, quiet murder, that's what Czar Mike calls it.

"All's still on the western front," he groaned as he spread his hands on a desk clear of cablegrams, telegrams, letters, contracts and messages for the first time in years. "Everybody's signed, sealed and ready for delivery and nothing to do."

Someone mentioned Jimmy Johnston, ex-Madison Square Garden firebrand, was always ready for a fight and that he might give the Czar a harder run than he figured as soon as he lines up his promotional venture.

"That's what I figured," said Mike, "but what does he do? He blames the State Athletic Commission for all his troubles—for getting him fired out of the Garden. I'm the guy who did that. I'm the cause of all his troubles. I manoeuvred him out of the Garden. I'm the rascal. I hope he makes a living and I'll help all I can if we can get some excitement."

Michael arises at 7 a. m. daily, gulps down a half gallon of orange juice and gets a good rubdown. Every day except Sunday, he's at his desk no later than 9 a. m. But he's so restless with nothing else to do that he's driving his staff into nervous breakdowns.

"I hope all hell breaks loose in this boxing business very soon," moaned Walter St. Denis, his chief press agent. "Mike is so restless he won't let us do a thing without he has a hand in it."

Remember When

Bluenose, with Capt. Angus Walters at the helm, retained her title as queen of the North Atlantic fishing fleet at Halifax six years ago today. The Lunenburg schooner won its best-of-three series over the United States challenger, Gertrude L. Thebaud to keep its 10-year international racing record perfect.
