What Can Be Done With Oranges And Lemons To Brighten Hot Summer Days

Citrus Fruits Are Cooling—Summer Fruit Cup Is Delicious

Luscious oranges, ripened in sunny graves, are plentiful with an abundance of medium and larger sized fruit. For salads and desserts, as well as delicious orange juice, these oranges are juicy and sweet, bringing health and refreshment to every woman's table.

ORANGEADE (Serves 4) Two cups orange juice, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1-2 cup sugar or 1 cup sugar syrup, 1 cup water. Combine ingredients and stir well. Pour over cracked ice in tall glasses. Garnish with orange slices, mint sprigs and berries.

SUMMER FRUIT CUP (Serves 6) Combine 2 1-2 cups orange sections, 1 cup watermelon balls, 1 cup orange juice and 1-4 cup lemon juice.

GOLDEN SNOWCAP Two cups Fruit Cup with Orange Sherbet (Serves 8). Two tablespoons cold water, 1 tablespoon gelatin, 1-2 cups sugar, 1 egg whites, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup orange juice, 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

YOUR INDIVIDUAL HOROSCOPE

(By FRANCES DRAKE) (Copyright, 1940, King Features) Look in the section your birthday comes in, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Saturday, June 29th. MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Militant and aggressive tactics seem dominant most of today and the afternoon warns especially against mental strain and emotional stress. Patient effort will be most productive, and conducive to happiness.

APRIL 21 to MAY 20 (Taurus) — Follow through plans; avoid haphazard changes. Don't anticipate trouble or worry about the future. Do your best today and that will be good indeed.

MAY 21 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — We expect you to be philosophical concerning your own problems and activities and to spur others on to cheerful endeavor, too. Your smile and initiative are infectious, use them!

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Care is advised in shopping, trading and real estate interests. Don't be hasty, impatient or arrogant. Listen to all sides before making important decisions. Don't promise lightly or more than you can fulfill. Enjoy, too, your favorite hobby or sport.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Some setbacks may occur today but you can find a solution for them with your fine mental equipment and sense of humor. Just be patient. Indulge a holiday diversion.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Week-end activities favored but you may be disappointed at your progress if work is your schedule. Try to inject as much originality as possible. And like what you have to do, it expedites matters greatly.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Today doesn't promise to be an elusive money-making day but headway can and should be made in all essential matters. Mild entertainment and not too strenuous sports rate.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio) — You born after November 23rd. Extra caution in financial deals and investments, please! All Scorpions: Clammy guest of honor receiving many lovely gifts.

First public appearance of Princess Juliana of the Netherlands since her arrival at Government House last Wednesday in the form of a casual shopping tour. Smartly attired in a grey two-piece suit with white accessories and accompanied by her lady-in-waiting, the Princess strolled into a downtown store in Ottawa, where a white seersucker evening gown with flame-colored accessories caught her eye. Her attendant chose a dubonnet and white cotton frock, and the two shoppers strolled out again, leaving an excited and surprised group of clerks, who had not at first recognized royalty.

Conjurer: Now, sir, you hear your watch ticking inside his handkerchief. Are you satisfied? Spectator: I'm more than satisfied. I'm amazed; that watch I bought you hasn't gone for six months.

Three managers of chicken farms in Germany were being questioned by a Gestapo man. "What do you feed your chickens?" the first was asked. "You're under arrest! We use corn to feed people!" The second overheard this conversation and tried to play safe. "What do you feed your chickens?" came the question. "Corn husks." "You're under arrest! We use husks to make cloth. And you?" he asked, turning to the third man. "I give my chickens the money and tell them to go and buy their own food."

Ready to use rifles in defence of Canada, the women and girls of Brandon and district lost no time in joining classes sponsored by the Local Council of Women. The "Musketiers" are training on the Brandon collegiate range under instruction of Lieut.-Col. W. G. Oxtoby. The collegiate range class has been named the "Major-Gien, McNaughton class," and other classes to train on other ranges will adopt names in a similar manner. EXCHANGING PLACES MIGHT PUT NEW VIEWPOINT ON LIFE

Quarreling Husbands and Wives Should Learn All That Each Has To Put Up With in Daily Existence

Everybody has always known what was the matter with marriage, but, like the weather, no one has ever done anything about it except to complain of it. This hasn't seemed to help much, so it is heartening to learn that the Judges in two Domestic Relations Courts are attempting to solve the problem of the unhappily wed by meeting out sentences to the aggressors in which the punishment is made to fit the crime. In one of these cases in which the wife asked for an order restraining her husband from grumbling over his food and casting his mother's bread and cakes and pies in her teeth, the Judge ordered the obliged husband to go into the kitchen and to the family cooking for a month. In another case the Judge condemned a man to kiss his wife every day, when the aggrieved party said that she was starting to love him and that her husband just took her for granted instead of treating her like a Lady Love. The handling of these two cases is epoch-making, because they are the two major causes of domestic friction and have been fast aid to more divorces than anything else. Dish water coffee, soggy toast and overdone eggs cause more heartache and nervousness after using language that let their wives weeping into their plates.

Heretofore the ladies have had no way to stop them, but with kitchen sentence hanging over their heads if they say what they think about their wives' cooking, even the husbands who are gourmets will eat what is set before them and ask no questions.

Similarly it would turn many an unromantic husband into a great lover if he knew that he had to be an understudy to Clark Gable, or else his wife could drag him before a Judge and get a court order for kisses and soft talk.

It is a grand idea, and perhaps this simple home remedy of making the matrimony offenders take their own medicine will do more to cure domestic ills than all the high fangled nostrums prescribed by the moralists and psychiatrists.

Suppose, for instance, the man who is always telling his poor little, work-worn, nerve-racked wife that he doesn't see what she has to complain of, and why she is always sipping the tired, that he wishes she would do anything to do but stay at home and run the house and take care of the children, had to put in even a week cooking and washing and scrubbing and baby-tending.

Would he ever again speak lightly of woman's work? Wouldn't he forever afterwards regard her strength with awe, and wonder why she didn't challenge Joe Louis and become the white hope?

Then there is the man who has a peevish look on his pocketbook who goes out penniless to his wife and thinks she ought to be on her knees in gratitude to him for giving her wages and for having to go to work in board and clothes.

Wouldn't it be a fine thing if his income could be turned over to a little white woman and he could find out how he liked being a domestic slave who worked without wages and who had to go to a beggar to some one for the money he had earned a dozen times over, and then to be made to give an account of every cent he spent?

And the philanderers. Wouldn't it cramp their style if their wives could take out a license also to be flirtatious? And the husbands who step out into the bright lights every night leaving their wives at home alone, with nothing more exciting to do than to watch the baby breathe. Wouldn't it slow them down and make them play fair if they had to stay at home by themselves on their wives' nights out, turn and turn about?

What's the sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose. Surely it would cure many a wife of nagging if there was a court order to make her keep her tongue behind her teeth while her husband ordered her around as if she were an imbecile child, and criticized everything she did and told her how much better he could do it.

Wouldn't the whining, complaining wives who are always reproaching their husbands for not making more money look upon them as heroes instead of poor dubs if they could be made to go out into the world and try to find a job and earn enough money to support a family?

Wouldn't the lazy, good-for-nothing women who are too trifling to keep their houses clean, or cook

Maybe what we always have needed to settle the domestic problem was just for husbands and wives to put themselves in the other fellow's place. DOROTHY DIX.

THE COOK'S CORNER

UPSIDE DOWN HAM LOAF

One pound ground smoked ham, 1-2 lb. each of veal and lean pork, also ground, 2 eggs, 4 cups corn flakes, 1 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 1-2 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon whole cloves. Crust corn flakes into coarse crumbs. Combine meats with eggs, milk, salt and green pepper; mix well. Add crushed corn flakes and mix thoroughly. Put brown sugar in bottom of loaf pan. Sprinkle with cloves. Add meat mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) about 1 hour. Yield: 8 servings.

BARBECUED PORK CHOPS

1 tablespoon butter 1 onion finely chopped 2 tablespoons vinegar 2 tablespoons brown sugar 4 tablespoons lemon juice 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce 1 cup catsup 1-2 cup water 6 thick pork chops Method: Brown the onion in the melted butter. Then add the vinegar, brown sugar, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, catsup, and water. Brown the pork chops in melted fat and then pour the barbecue sauce over them. Cover the chops and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for about 1 hour. Serve with sauce poured over them.

Boost Your Popularity With Gracious Phrases

Know the Apt Thing to Say The girl who's showered with flowers, gifts, invitations! Her charming phrases make it a pleasure to do things for her, to take her places. "How did you guess that roses were my favorite flower?" she asks, when her escort gives her the corsage. At the dance she tells her hostess, "I'm having the most wonderful time!" When accepting an invitation, she says enthusiastically, "Certainly, I'll come." You can easily learn such phrases, keep them on the tip of your tongue for every situation. When forced to disagree with someone, avoid a blunt, "You're wrong." Say smoothly, "Perhaps we aren't discussing the same thing." Start a business interview with "I understand you have an opening for a stenographer." On leaving say, "Thank you for your time." And in conversation hold your listeners with bright descriptive phrases—"natural as daylight," "busy as a ticking clock." Her descriptive phrases, new word combinations to enliven your speech. WELCOME TO THE BIRDS

Welcome back to lawn and park, Robin, blackbird, meadowlark. Let my garden be your goal, Warbler, sparrow, oriole. Seek your trills nest again, Titmouse, pipit, chat and wren. Sing your song at break of day, Yellowhammer, bunting, jay. Swing where cherry blossoms drift. Caged, grobeak, flicker, swift. Send your song across the dale. Linnet, woodthrush, nightingale.

Welcome back the sun is bright, Skylark, skimmer, swallow. You were not by miles deterred, Sora, skua, hummingbird. At no visitor I balk. Caged, wren, wheatear, hawk. Now the time for song is ripe. Stonechat, woodpecker and snipe. Come to houses I have built, Flycatcher and finch and tit.

Beige gowns in heavy sheers are new for evening. Bow Bretons in black felt are suggested for wear with suits. Printed pique is being shown for summer evening dresses.

Pastel flannel jackets will be worn with crepe dresses. A brief hipbone length fitted black wool jacket over a slim straw skirt covered with multi-color flowers.

Jackets buttoned froes - high with small Peter Pan collar, register among tweed suit fashions. One notable sponsor wore one in stone mixture tweed over a plain brown skirt, covered with multi-color flowers.

Worsted suits are prominent. Dark grays with cooperative motifs are popular, with black and white and also navy and white. Pink stripes and herringbones in the lead. There are a couple of smart-looking black and white pin-headed worsteds. Many women are wearing small flowery hats with suits of this type, some adding flutes and bouffants.

The Andree Expedition took off for the North Pole in a balloon in 1897 and the only survivors of the bodies of the men were found on White Island in 1930. Funeral services for them were held in Norway 33 years after their death.

DRY WOOD NEEDED FOR OUTDOOR PAINTING If you do any outside painting, be sure you wait for a dry spell. Paint put on damp wood will not hold. Dry wood is a matter of good material to paint on such a surface.

Not only will a good deal of the paint peel, but it repaint and make a good job of it the paint that has not peeled should be burned off, otherwise the edges of the peeled pieces will show.

LAST SUMMER'S DRESS If you have to look closely to see whether a dress is clean enough for one more wearing you may be sure that it isn't. The perfectly groomed woman knows that a slightly soiled dress, gloves or a blouse with one small spot on the front of it are as devastating to her appearance, and therefore her self-confidence, as downright soiled garments.

This is the time when each of us ought to remind herself that there is a right way and an ever so wrong way to go about making odds and ends of last summer's wardrobe infinitely useful this summer.

Be a mistake, of course to wear last summer's dress until it has been inspected closely for missing snaps or hooks or a sagging hemline and before it has been cleaned or washed. Learn to wash sweaters yourself. Use Minards for aches.

VENETIAN BLINDS MAY BE USED OUTSIDE AS WELL AS INSIDE HOUSE Venetian blinds are an old story to the interior decorator, but few home owners are aware that a fine Venetian sun screen is available for outside as well as inside the house.

Helping to reduce room temperatures and moderate incoming light, outside Venetian blinds serve as both blinds and awnings, and they're also decorative, whether viewed from without or within.

Designed and finished to withstand severe exposure, these blinds come in three styles. One type is made with a collapsible frame and extra side wings for protection against wind. This style is most practical where windows are set deeply into the house walls.

Another type attaches to the face of the wall as well as within the reveal, while a third is designed for use on porches, either open or glassed-in.

The blinds are constructed with transverse rollers, making it possible to operate them from inside the house without the necessity of opening windows or screens. They are suitable for any type of window except the out-swinging casement.

Needlecraft—For The Home

If you're just learning how to sew, this is the dress to begin on. It's so simple to make that even a beginner can run it up in a few hours of her spare time.
