

MEDICAL LAWS IN DOMINION

Details Of Organization Of The Dominion Medical Council

(Canadian Press.) OTTAWA, Aug. 2—All the provinces of Canada having accepted by concurrent legislation the terms of the Canada Medical Act, medical reciprocity in Canada will now go into effect.

Henceforth any physician holding the certificate of the Dominion Medical Council may practice in any province.

Owing to the system of separate councils in the past an Ontario physician for instance, would not practice in Quebec unless he passed the Quebec council.

Under the new act there will be three members of the council residing in the different provinces and each university or medical school connected with the university will have one member.

The term of office will be four years. Representatives of the various provincial councils will shortly meet Hon. Dr. Roche to give effect to the legislation.

HON. MR. BURRELL LEAVING MONDAY

(Canadian Press.) OTTAWA, Aug. 2—Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, will leave Monday for the Maritime Provinces.

He will visit Fredericton and St. John first, and then the Annapolis Valley.

He will attend the dedication of the Memorial Tower at Halifax on August fourteenth and fifteenth.

POLITICAL ADVISER IS APPOINTED. PEKING, Aug. 1—General Morrison has been appointed political adviser of the president of the Chinese republic for five years.

Dr. Morrison is the correspondent in Peking of the London Times.

Taft Accepts. WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—President Taft's formal speech of acceptance of the nomination of the Chicago Republican Convention was delivered here today to the official committee of nomination, headed by Senator Root and a few invited guests.

Although Mr. Taft defied in detail the issues of the campaign as he saw them, he reserved the right to amplify his statement as the campaign develops.

The supreme issue that confronts the voters the President declared, was that of the maintenance of the nation's institutions, and the preservation of the constitution.

Threatened he said on the one hand by the Democratic party, and on the other by those Republicans who left this party to try their fortunes in a new one.

Next in importance Mr. Taft placed the tariff. The President said that it was untrue that to its door could be traced the high cost of living, and pointed out that conditions of living were alike over the world.

A political promise could not remedy such a condition he said. As an issue, only less important than the tariff, the President placed the regulation of trusts.

Mr. Taft did not mention either Col. Roosevelt or Governor Wilson by name, but referred to each. While he did not accuse either of embracing the doctrines of socialism, many of the proposals they had made, the President said, savored of it strongly.

PUBLIC HEALTH BUREAU TO BE APPOINTED. OTTAWA, Aug. 1—The gravity of the typhoid epidemic now raging in Ottawa has given rise to an agitation at the capital for the appointment of a public health bureau under the charge of a deputy.

Much indignation is felt in government circles as to the apparent inefficiency of the civic authorities to cope with the situation. It is proposed that a competent staff of medical experts be procured, and that the new department be placed under a deputy and become part of the secretary of state, Hon. Dr. Roche, who is himself a competent medical man.

The question is brought more prominently to the attention of the government from the fact that there are upwards of 5,000 employees in the various government departments at the capital in whose health the government is naturally much interested.

The apparent inefficiency of the civic authorities to cope with the difficulty of the situation has also revived the agitation to have Ottawa created a federal district under government jurisdiction.

FORTY FIREMEN OVERCOME BY SMOKE

(Canadian Press.) MONTREAL, Aug. 1—Forty firemen including numerous officers of the force, were overcome by ammonia fumes and by the clouds of smoke from the burning lard and meat during a fire which raged all afternoon in the premises of the Montreal Abattoirs, Limited, on the bank of the canal in Point St. Charles.

Several recovered and resumed the fight but many had to be transported to the city hospitals and tonight eleven men are still in various institutions.

All are declared out of danger but it will be several days before most of them can return to duty, while a few are seriously injured.

The fire was not extinguished until nearly 6 o'clock this evening. It started shortly after noon as the men were leaving for lunch and is thought to have originated from an overturned pan of boiling grease.

The entire brigade was called out to fight the flames and the fire was finally confined to the buildings in which it started, the packing plant, a four-story brick building, which was completely destroyed.

The plant contained the cold storage department and it was from this that the ammonia fumes came. The slaughter house was saved. Tonight it was said that no accurate estimate of the damage could be given but that it would probably approach $200,000.

There was a very large amount of meat stored in the building with great quantities of lard. The loss is covered by insurance.

Three alarms were turned in, in quick succession so threatening was the outlook, as the plant is situated in the heart of the factory district.

REFUSED LEAVE. OTTAWA, Aug. 1—The government has heard nothing of the alleged refusal of the Grand Trunk Pacific Company to lease a stretch of the Transcontinental from Transcona to Superior Junction. The only communication received by it from the Grand Trunk Pacific is the formal acknowledgment of the communication containing the order-in-council.

The position of the government simply is that the portion of the road in question has been completed, and that it has gone to the G. T. P. for that company to lease, as follows:

The order-in-council was not mandatory. It simply offered the section to the G. T. P. It further provided that if the G. T. P. did not avail itself of the offer, the Transcontinental commission could take such further steps as seemed advisable.

The Transcontinental commission has the power under the contract to operate the line itself.

TRINIDAD AGREES TO RECIPROcity. PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Aug. 1—The first reciprocity agreement with Canada was carried today in the legislative council by 13 votes against 5 and in the chamber by a majority of one vote.

The opponents of the agreement argued that it would be of no benefit to the colony outside of the sugar industry and would probably be harmful to the cocoa and coconut industry. The supporters of the agreement urged that its acceptance would show the Imperial sentiment of Trinidad and that it would be the first step toward general trade within the British Empire.

THE MARRIAGE DECISION WAS ADOPTED

(Canadian Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—After a three hours debate the senate today adopted the Lodge resolution defining the attitude of the United States in disapproval of acquisition by force of any territory on the western hemisphere which might be used as a military basis or menace the approaches of the United States.

That the policy will take the form of a contribution to the navy admits of little doubt.

The Canadian Navy idea being abandoned, it seemingly can take no other form.

The conditions under which this would be made and the extent of the contribution are points to be determined.

These matters will be taken up at Cabinet councils in the autumn and with the assistance, it was intimated, of Hon. Winston Churchill.

The importance of the subject and the volume of other things to be gotten ready do not tend towards an early session of parliament.

(Canadian Press.) LONDON, Aug. 2—Hon. Mr. Borden has made his position very clear on the subject of the naval assistance that Canada is to offer the Mother Country.

Mr. Borden and his colleagues told the British Cabinet that Canada is prepared to assist Great Britain to maintain Naval Supremacy, but, when she does so, she will want to be consulted as to the way money is spent.

TURKISH MINISTER TAKES LONG TRIP.

(Special to The Guardian.) CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 2—Since the days of Reshid Pasha no Turkish Minister has undertaken a journey such as that from which Hadji Adil Bey has just returned. He was absent from the capital for 102 days, 40 of which were spent in travelling, often in wild and uncivilized regions. The escort of his mission was twice attacked in the Diakova region, and the main body fell into a most dangerous ambush at Ura Vizirid (Vizir's bridge), between Prizrend and the Miridite borders. Neither danger nor fatigue diminished the energy of the Minister and his Ottoman and European companions, whose record of achievement during the three and a half months of their tour of inspection is an eminently creditable one.

The circumstances in which the Minister of the Interior left Constantinople, invested with extraordinary powers and accompanied by high officials of different State departments, who would afterwards be responsible for the execution of such reforms as he might order, are well known. He had only to carry out a program of material reforms, for which ample credits were forthcoming, but to examine the political and moral grievances of a large part of the population of Albania and Macedonia, and endeavor to find a remedy for the increasingly unsatisfactory condition of those regions.

Hadji Adil Bey had ample opportunities of studying not only the Albanian question as a whole but also the important and difficult problems presented respectively by North and South Albania. For the Gheg (Northern) and the Tosk (Southern) Albanians have different grievances and differ much in their expression of them. The Northerner is less accessible, at present, to the quasi-national sentiment that animates the Tosks and the people of Central Albania.

Gheg hostility to the new regime may be described as the resentment felt by a primitive people towards a Government which has deprived it of its traditional rights.

MONUMENT UNVEILED.

CAPE TOWN, Cape Colony, Aug. 1—Of all the names associated with South Africa none, it is safe to say, occupies a higher place than that of Cecil Rhodes, one of the greatest among the many great empire builders that the British empire has produced; and the Rhodes memorial, recently unveiled and the circumstances connected with its unveiling were worthy both of the young country rising steadily to power and of the man who, more than all other men, may be regarded as having launched it on the road to a great and prosperous future.

The memorial itself stands on the slopes of Table Mountain at a spot of which Rhodes was particularly fond, and to which he constructed a road built of granite hewn from the mountain on which it stands, it consists of a columned portico resembling that of a Greek Doric temple, approached by a long flight of steps flanked by a double row of lions four on either side in front of the building and at the foot of the steps stands Watts' statue. Physical Energy of South Africa was presented by a tribute to Cecil Rhodes, of whom Watts was a great admirer.

The lions, the work of Mr. Swann, R. A., are modelled on the lines of the sphinxes of Egyptian temples, and in his speech at the unveiling of the memorial Earl Grey happily described the statue as symbolic of the irresistible power of advance, and the lions as representing the reserve of power and invincible backing of majestic strength.

From an early hour on the day of the unveiling people threaded their way up the slopes among the pines and by the time the ceremony commenced every vantage point in the vicinity of the memorial was fully occupied. Under the shadow of the statue a dais had been erected and here were assembled a large throng of notable South Africans, as well as the principal naval and military authorities and a number of pioneers from Rhodesia, the country above all others associated with the man they had come to honor.

The unveiling ceremony was performed by Earl Grey, late governor general of Canada, and formerly, administrator of Rhodesia, who had come as a guest.

HOSPITAL HAS MANY INNOVATIONS.

(Special to The Guardian.) PARIS, Aug. 2—At the last meeting of the Academy of Medicine the members discussed an innovation about to be introduced in the new hospital at Lyons, which is to be the most perfect in the world, and, among other improvements, is to have separate rooms for patients who are in a hopeless condition. The eminent Professor Vidal, in reply to the celebrated accoucheur, M. Pinard, who deplored that not a single hospital in France possessed any accommodation of this description, protested that his own clinic in the Hospital Cochin provided patients with the last consolation of passing away in separate chambers; but he strongly objected to such rooms being called "rooms for the dying," since those who were transferred thither from the wards were immediately conscious that they would never leave them. The real need the such special rooms was rather in the interests of the other patients than of desperate cases, who were generally past caring about their surroundings.

M. Le Resourer, chief of the State Hospitals, and M. Vaillant agreed with Professor Vidal, and finally M. Pinard himself was forced to admit the usefulness of setting apart isolated rooms by any name referring to death.
