

We guarantee every pound of "SALADA" Tea we sell—that it is fresh, delicious and full weight of pure, fine quality tea. If you are not satisfied, full purchase price will be refunded. Sold by all grocers. 75c to $1.05 per pound.

"SALADA" TEA

Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Eastern King's Exhibition Association, will be held in McQuaid Building, Souris, on March 17th, at 2:30 p. m. All interested, invited to attend.

P. A. MACISAAC, Pres.
D. F. MACAULAY, Secy.

3000-3-9-71

AUCTION SALE

Having sold my farm I will sell by Auction on Thursday, March 18th, at 12 noon, all my Stock consisting of: One mare, 5 yrs. old, 1300 lbs.; one general purpose horse, 9 yrs. old, about 1200 lbs.; 6 milk cows, will freshen in April and May, (graded Shorthorn and Holstein), 1 dry cow, 2 fat steers, one 2 yr. old steer, 1 heifer coming three, fresh in Spring, 5 calves, 35 hens, (Plymouth Rocks).

MACHINERY: Binder (Internationally) mower (Internationally) Sectional Seeder (Massey Harris); disc-harrows (MacCormick); Manure Spreader (Cockshutt); Gang Plow, Walking Plow, Spike Harrows, Roller, 2 Box Carts and Wheels, double Truck Wagon, Truck Scales, Wheel-Barrow, a quantity of hardwood plank and spruce boards, Potato Scuffer, Turnip Drill, 2 wood Sleighs, one Jaunting Sleigh, 1 Separator (Malott); 1 Separator (Sharpley); Barrel Churn, Hay Fork and rags, Forks and Shovels, Potato Scoop, 1 driving set of Harness, work Harness, 2 milk cans, 1 cream can, 2 pair of pump tongs, 2 Cross-cut Saws.

150 bus. of oats (white); a quantity of seed wheat, 100 bus. of MacIntyre seed, a quantity of hay, straw and turnips, and a quantity of other articles which are found on a well-equipped farm. 11 tapestry square, tables, 1 wardrobe, 1 wash-stand, iron bedstead, spring, 1 parlor suite.

TERMS: 5% discount for cash or 9 months credit on approved joint notes. The fat steers bought for cash. TERMS: All sums of $10.00 cash over that amount 9 mos. credit on app. notes. If day is unfit sale on next day.

MALCOLM MCGOUGAN,
HUGH F. MORRISON, Auctioneer.

3-3-9

AUCTION SALE

At Searletown
WEDNESDAY, MARCH, 14TH
Commencing at Twelve O'Clock Sharp

All my Stock, Crop & Farming Implements—
STOCK—Horse 7 years old, 1500 lbs.; Mare, 6 years old, 1450 lbs.; Mare 11 years old, 1400 lbs.; Good Driving Horse, (Fleetfoot); Horse 3 years old, (Laocopia); 3 Choice Grade Holstein Cows, to freshen in May; Grade Shorthorn Cow, fresh in April; Shorthorn Cow, 5 years old, newly freshened; Fat Cow, 2 Heifers 1 year old, 2 Bulls, 1 year old, (Shorthorn); Heifer 2 years old, Cow 4 years old, fresh in April; Cow 7 years old, Holstein, (Registered); 2 Brood Sows, (Pure Bred Yorkshire); Boar 1 1/2 years old, Yorkshire; 90 Hens, Plymouth Rock.

IMPLEMENTS—Binder, F. & W.; Rake Bar, Hay Loader, new F. & W.; Hay Mower, F. & W.; Disc Drill and Fertilizer Attachment, new F. & W.; Sectional Harrow, 17 Teeth, new F. & W.; Cultivator, F. & W.; Manure Spreader, F. & W.; Gang Plow, F. & W.; Hay Rake, Power Sprayer, new, Eureka; Potato Planter, with Fertilizer Attachment, new, H.C. Potato Digger, new, Hoover; Set Spring Tooth Harrows, Spike Harrows, 12 Bars; Bishop Plow, Turnip Seeder, Fortire Sower, F. & W.; Turnip Pulper, Grain Crusher, (Monarch); Set Scales, 500 lbs.; Cream Separator, new, 900 lbs.; Cream Separator, 450 lbs.; Disc Horse Hoe on Wheels, Stumping Machine, 2 Power Horse Clippers, Thresher and Cleaner, new, (Monaghan); L. H. C. Gasoline Engine, 3 H. P.; Mogul Engine, 1 H. P.; Farmers' Boiler Steam Feed Cooker, Double Truck Wagon, Pole and Shafts, Sloven (Bain) new; Cart, Iron Axles, 2 Driving Single Bob Sleds, Pump Jack, Wire Stretcher, Wheelbarrow, Blocks and Tackle, 2 Pumps, Casks, Large Water Tank, 30 Cedar Posts, 12 Anchor Posts, 9 feet; Post Hole Diggers, 2 Cross Cut Saws, Circular Saw, half interest in Circular Saw, 200 lbs. Bluestone, Jackscrew, Set Double Harness, 4 Collars, 2 Steel Collars, 3 Sets Leather Traces, Work Bridles and Hames, Pad and Breeching, new; Pad and Breeching, Cart Saddle, Set Double Reins, new, Driving Harness, Forks, Shovels, Potato Fork and Scoop, 2 Ladders, Hoes, Crowbar, 2 Scythes and Smah.

CHOP—A Quantity of Choice Seed Oats, (white); Barley, Mixed Feed, Wheat, Marquis), Timothy Seed, Hay, Straw, Turnips.

HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS—Hall

Also my FARM consisting of 261-2 acres of Good Potato Land, situated on Middleton Road, known as Thomas Best Farm.

TERMS made known at SALE. If not fine on Wednesday, will be held first fine day following.

HUGH MORRISON, Auctioneer
PERCY F. ALLEN, 2923-3-6-61

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

By JANICE RANDALL.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound. You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

MISS BROWN OF X. Y. O.

By E. Philipps Oppenheim (Copyright 1927 by E. Philipps Oppenheim)

Reason shrugged his shoulders. "Don't think I'm a snob," he began, "intellectually or in any other way, if I point out that Mr. Frankland has had no opportunity of understanding in the least what women of Miss Austin's stamp are like or how they should be treated. He was down in the mines at 12 years old, his father was a drunkard, and his mother worse. He has picked up an immense store of general knowledge by sheer force of will and industry. He has developed the knack of seeing certain vital matters clearly enough from one point of view—his own—and speaking of them fluently, but as regards the more gracious side of life, he has never seen it, and if he had he would not be able to appreciate it. A woman means a great deal to him. The greatest height to which he rises is that he has fancied. Sometimes he fancies one woman more than another. That's just as far as he reaches."

"Then don't you consider," Miss Brown demanded, "that it is unparadonable to make the suggestions he does to a girl like Miss Austin?" "It isn't exactly impertinence," he argued. "It's sheer lack of comprehension, as I told you before. All women are the same to Frankland, except that he fancies one more than another. He thinks that he is only offering your friend what any man has a right to offer any woman. And as his experience has been gained in a different circle of life he doesn't, I suppose, understand failure."

"I think," Miss Brown pronounced, "that he is a most abominable person. I believe that Frances has made up her mind not to encourage him any more. I am thankful for it."

Eric Greatson took off his spectacles and wiped them, with a little smile.

"I thought they weren't getting on very well tonight," he remarked. "Your friend had that rather superior, rather humorous smile all the time she was dancing, and Frankland was so furious he was bumping into every one. They are sitting down in the lounge now and Frankland is looking like he does when he's been successfully heckled at a political meeting. And before they come back may I remind you, Miss Brown, that as yet we have scarcely said a word about yourself. Your friend is a very charming young lady, and social politics are one of the most interesting things in life, but I should like, if I might, to talk a little about Miss Brown."

She smiled at him, pleasantly enough, but always with that air of aloofness which seemed part of her natural reserve. "I will become very personal indeed," she said, dropping her voice a little and glancing around cautiously. "Eric Greatson, it is a very terrible thought for me that you could have had the slightest knowledge of what was likely to happen in South Audley street this morning, but so long as you did know, I do appreciate your coming to see me. You must have taken a very considerable risk by doing so, and I suppose your enterprise, although I hated you for it at the time, saved my life."

Greatson was obviously ill at ease. "I don't feel that I deserve any thanks, Miss Brown," he assured her. "The whole move was utterly against my principles, although I admit the logic of the arguments on the other side. I am not on the Action Committee of my party, and the matter never came before my chief. I got to know about it entirely by accident, and I don't mind admitting that I never went to bed at all last night, trying to make up my mind what to do."

"You did a very kindly thing," she acknowledged, "and believe me I am grateful."

"I am not going to ask you any more personal questions, Miss Brown," he promised. "I realize that you and I in opposite camps occupy very difficult positions, but I want you to let me, if you will, have the opportunity of seeing a little more of you occasionally."

She shook her head. "I don't think Mr. Greatson," she said, "that it would be wise."

"I should never refer to your work," he went on eagerly, "whatever it may be. I am not a spy. I just want you to give me, if you will, a little of your friendship. I should like to see more of you if I might, in a different sort of environment. I don't care much about this sort of thing. I don't think you do really. You come here for your friend's sake. We might go down into the country some day, and I should like you to meet some of my friends with whom I think you would get on well—not the Frankland type at all."

"All this is very difficult, Mr. Greatson," Miss Brown regretted—just now, at any rate. A week or two ago it might have all been different. Now—well, there is no reason why we shouldn't talk plainly is there? Grace placed in my keeping the results of the labors of the man who hated your party and who worked against it to the death. Those secrets are still, I take it, to be preserved."

"I see your point, Miss Brown," Greatson interrupted eagerly, but— He stopped short. Frankland was standing by the table, flushed and truculent. Frances was calmly gathering up the trifles she had left in her place.

"Miss Austin and I are going on to the 'Night Hawk,'" he announced. "You needn't worry, Miss Brown. I'll bring the young lady home even if we are a bit late."

When your Child has Croup

RUBBED ON throat and chest, the effect of Vicks in relieving spasmodic croup is two fold:

- (1) Its medicated vapors, released by body heat, reach air passages direct;
- (2) At the same time it stimulates the skin, thus helping the inhaled vapors ease the difficult breathing.

acts 2 ways at once
VICKS VAPORUB
OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

Frances had picked up her possessions. There was a sweet but dangerous smile upon her lips. "Miss Austin is doing nothing of the sort," she said, with a glance of reassurance at Miss Brown. "You said you'd think about it," Frankland declared angrily. "I have thought about it, and I have decided not to go. Come along, Edith."

Frankland made an effort to smother his anger. He turned to Miss Brown.

"I say won't you persuade her, Miss Brown?" he begged. "You and Greatson can come along too."

"I'm sorry," the latter intervened, "but I don't think either Miss Brown or Miss Austin would like the 'Night Hawk' at all. It isn't a place I'd take my sister to, for instance, and she's not too strict. Better call that off. If you want to go to anywhere else—"

"Thank you so much, Mr. Greatson," Frances interrupted. "Come along, Edith."

"What the devil do you mean by interfering?" Frankland demanded. Greatson faced him across the table.

"I interferred," he said, "simply because you know as well as I do that the 'Night Hawk' is the most disreputable place in London, and if you'll allow me to say so, Frankland, you ought to have known better than to have suggested taking either of these young women there."

Frankland looked around. Frances and Miss Brown had already disappeared. For a moment he stared. Greatson, who was standing very calm and self-possessed, preparing to leave, had just said that he had dumped himself down in his chair. "Oh, dash it all!" he exclaimed. "We'll stop here and have another drink."

(To Be Continued.)

Use Minard's Liniment for corns.

HUNTER RIVER AND VICINITY

Miss Lillias Wonnacott, Charlottetown, spent the week-end at her home here.

Mr. Willard Lank of Messrs. P. J. Nov & Co., spent the week-end at his home in Charlottetown.

Mr. Murdoch Gatliffe left Monday morning for Montreal, accompanying his brother, Mr. Joseph Gatliffe, Cape Traverse, who will enter the Royal Victoria Hospital for treatment.

Excitement runs high in anticipation of the Fancy Dress Carnival to be held on the Rink Saturday evening. No doubt many original and artistic costumes will be in evidence as the prizes are quite worth while.

Sunday, March 4th, was quarterly missionary Sunday in the United Sunday School. The service throughout was conducted by the boys of the Intermediate Class, and was listened to and enjoyed by a large number of members and visitors. The offering, which was a very substantial one, goes to Missions. The following was the program:

Call to Worship, Psalm 100 led by Russel Smith.
Hymn, Father bless our school today.
Sc. Reading, Psalm 72, led by Sutherland MacLeod.

Prayer led by Allan Wedlock Lawson, and Sutherland MacLeod.
Hymn, Jesus bids us shine.
Study Period, ten minute talk by Mr. D. M. McDonald, Subject "Pray."
Hymn, What a Friend we have in Jesus.
Ten minute talk by Mr. Clifford Carew, subject "Study."
Hymn, Teach us to do Thy will.
Ten minute talk by Mrs. D. M. MacLeod, subject "Give."
Hymn, I bring no palm branch.

Offering.
Pictures of Trinidad presented by Allan Wedlock.
Reading, Pioneer days in Trinidad, by Howard Houston.

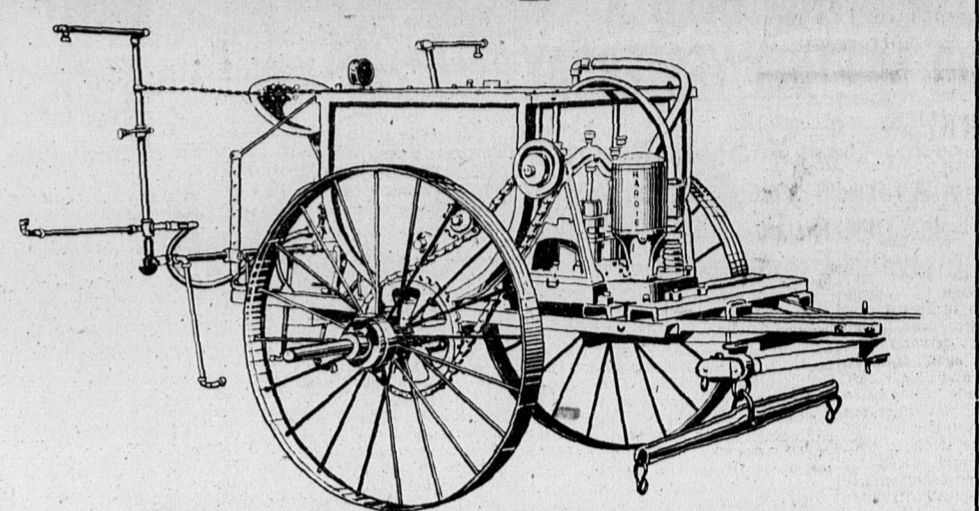

Reading, Present conditions in Trinidad, with list and photos of present staff by Allan Wedlock.
"Facts and Figures" of Trinidad, Blackboard outline by Howard Houston.

Reading, Rev. K. J. Frant's Greetings to Trinidad on the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of that Mission, in February of this year, by Lawson MacLeod.
Secretary's Report, Russel Smith.
Hymn, Not on this land alone.
Prayer, Supt. Mr. Clifford Carew.

Guaranteed Remedy
PAZO OINTMENT

PAZO OINTMENT

HARDIE POTATO SPRAYERS

THE HARDIE PERFECTION TRACTION ROW SPRAYER

A three cylinder—large capacity—high pressure traction machine for spraying potatoes.

THIS new machine meets the requirements of growers who demand large capacity, high pressure, light draft and the unusual ground clearness of 23 inches.

The pump on this machine is the HARDIE AUTOMATIC Traction Triplex.

The tank is 80 imperial gallon capacity made of best grade Oregon Fir, 1 1/2 inches in thickness. It is supplied with a high speed paddle agitator, chain driven from the main axle with more than sufficient agitation to keep the heaviest chemicals in suspension at all times.

Frame is of steel channels securely riveted and bolted and is rigidly trussed and cross braced to prevent distortion. The frame rests squarely on top of the main axle, carried by three large bearings.

Wheels are 48 inches in diameter, 4 inch tires with staggered spokes in heavy iron hub.

Boom is the FOUR row famous Nixon type, and is equipped with FOUR brass nozzles to the row. Nozzles are fitted with deep strainers to prevent clogging.

Boom folds up at the ends to permit driving through gates.

This new machine comes to you f.o.b. your station, complete with pole neck yokes, double trees and swings.

PEORIA ENDGATE FERTILIZER SPREADER

HERE we have a machine that is properly designed for the spreading of all kinds of fertilizer quickly and evenly in 18 foot widths

It is easily attached to any ordinary farm wagon, without having to remove the tail board. No holes to bore—no cleats to attach. Every working part is visible and accessible. IT HAS ONLY ONE-HALF THE GEARS, FANS, AND CHAINS, necessary on other machines.

Every bearing is protected by a grease cup. No lumps can get into the internal part of the machine. No worm gears to wear or bind. It has a force feed.

Spreads close to the ground, eliminating wind waste. Handles either wet or dry material equally well. The lightest draft and simplest machine made for sowing fertilizer.

This new Peoria Endgate Fertilizer Spreader is known as being the last word in principle and design, and it is one of the finest pieces of labor saving machinery we have ever seen.

Come in and look it over!

PRICE $55.00 DELIVERED

Ohio Horse Hoes

TO ALL POTATO GROWERS AND TO EVERYONE INTERESTED IN THE ABOVE TYPES OF MACHINERY WE EXTEND OUR INVITATION TO COME AND SEE US, WHEN IN CHARLOTTETOWN.

The Hardie Mfg. Co

J. H. GILL

Next to A. E. Toombs' Music Store,

Charlottetown

Queen St.