MAKE MONEY EARN ITS WAY

No attention is paid by many people to the investment of small sums of money. It is allowed to remain idle. To get the most out of life, people must work—So with money. It should be made to more than earn its own way.

To some this may not have occurred to be worth while. To others, it is not known that excellent bonds, affording absolutely safe and profitable investment, are issued in denominations of $100 and $500. Any number can be purchased from us, yielding splendid interest return. Full particulars upon request.

We give the same price and attention to large and small orders.

We are glad to receive inquiries about investments. Write today.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES WEEKLY LETTER.

Nov. 2nd, 1911.

From J. C. Mackintosh & Company, members Montreal Stock Exchange. Offices: Montreal, Halifax, St. John, New Glasgow, Fredericton.

Market Review.—The continued easiness of money has made for an active trading market. Perhaps the outstanding feature about the Montreal Market during the past week has been the manner in which it has shown that it is now able to ignore the Wall Street Market absolutely. Even when the latter market was subjected to almost panicky conditions, owing to the action of the United States Government in taking suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation, the Montreal Market not only held its own but a number of the standard issues made steady gains. It has been apparent for some time past that the market conditions were so different in the two countries that traders were devoting their undivided attention to Canadian securities with the result that when the severe setback came in New York they were practically unaffected by it. It is doubtful if there has ever been such a severe decline in Wall Street which has had such slight effect on the Canadian Market as has that of the past week. For some days past money has again been offered very freely on the local "Street," and this has favored operators in creating a better market for their securities.

C. P. R. and Erie Rumours. From a sentimental standpoint the sharp upward movement in C. P. R. attracted most attention, more especially as this stock is out of line altogether with most American railway stocks. Again, in the present movement there has been persistent reports of some kind of closer relationship as between the C. P.R. and the Erie Railway, and the advance in C. P.R. was reflected to a considerable extent by the gains in all classes of Erie securities.

South Americans Attracting Attention. The Canadian propositions in Mexico and South America have again attracted considerable attention, mainly on buying which was reported to be for London account. Back some months ago all these securities attracted considerable attention, but had been neglected for some little time. In the interval, however, the companies have shown big increases in earnings, and higher dividends are looked for in all three cases. This refers to Mexican Light and Power, Rio de Janeiro, and Sao Paulo.

In connection with Rio there was a report from London that there might likely be the payment of a bonus at the end of the present fiscal year and that after that time an increased dividend would be paid. Mexican Light and Power, which has only been receiving 4 per cent, is now said to be on the right road for a 5 per cent or 6 per cent. dividend. Canadians have no longer a very great interest in this stock, but from time to time London comes in and picks up a lot of it on the Canadian Exchanges. Sao Paulo has been persistently bulled for higher prices by Toronto interests. It has been paying 10 per cent, but the Toronto interests are now looking for 12 per cent. within the next twelve months.

Richelieu Acting Strangely. Notwithstanding continual reports as to the probability of a 8 per cent dividend for Richelieu and Ontario, this stock has not acted particularly well. There seems to be some difference of opinion amongst the members of the Board of Directors as to the advisability of paying an 8 per cent dividend on December 1st, even though the company may have shown very large earnings for the past season. What seems to have affected the Market most of all, as far as Richelieu is concerned, is the uncertainty as to just what very large proportion of the stock is held speculatively and which will likely be marketed if very much higher prices are reached.

Making a Market for New Stocks. The upward movement in both Canada Cement and Steel Company of Canada have continued. A good deal of the recent activity in these securities can undoubtedly be laid down to the fact that the principal interests behind them are making a better market for the stocks. It may be that the earnings of the companies warrant better prices, but at the same time there cannot be any doubt but that the same interests are taking advantage of the conditions to secure better distribution for the securities.

Cotton Crop Outlook. The certainty of an unusually large cotton crop is referred to as being of advantage to Canadian cotton concerns. For some time past our Canadian companies have been confronted with very high prices for the raw material and should therefore do very much better. Up to the present time though there is some uncertainty as to quality.

AVIATION IN LITERATURE.

Aviation as a theme for literature has already made a strong appeal to some of the foremost writers of the day. Curiously enough, one of the story writers who has made this new science the basis for a tale is Professor Charles G. D. Roberts, the well-known Canadian author. And yet it should not appear peculiar that the writer of such excellent stories about animals and birds as Professor Roberts has given us, should deal, in a story, with the huge, strange bird constructed by man. The airship is a nearer approach to a living creature than anything else of a man's make. It has several points of resemblance to the larger birds, its flight is in many ways like theirs, and no doubt as aviation becomes more common the "habits" of airships will be found to have something in common with the ways of birds.

At any rate, Professor Roberts has written an excellent airship story, "The Runners of the Air," which has the literary style, the dignity of diction and the dramatic power that characterized his animal and bird stories. The scenes are laid in Paris, Vienna, Belgrade and the mountains of Servia. The background is the anxiety of Servia to get back Bosnia and Herzgovina from Austria. A Servian Count, a British officer and a United States manufacturer are the leading characters, with a beautiful and accomplished French woman playing the part of heroine in a decidedly unusual way.

The exclusive Canadian serial rights of this story have been obtained by the Canadian Courier, and the first instalment will appear in the issue of November 11th.

ITALIAN TURKISH WAR

misrepresentations as have appeared in the Italian press in the official statements issued by the Italian government," telegraphs the correspondent of Reuter's telegram company, at Tripoli, who arrived at Malta today. From Malta he was able to send an encensored message which contains a pessimistic description of the condition of the Italian army around what he terms the besieged city of Tripoli. He says:—

"To sum up the results of the campaign, the Italians hold, with nearly twice as many men, half the ground that they held three weeks ago. They have lost killed and wounded, not counting the sick, well over 1,000 men. Many Arabs have been killed and vast numbers were shot in cold blood. Now 25,000 soldiers find themselves with their backs to the sea, cramped and confined, with an active army within a few yards of them and with colera raging among them, for despite official efforts to conceal the truth there have been many cases among the troops and the civil population is suffering so much that whole streets in Tripoli have been closed by armed sentries.

"There has been no disgrace. On the contrary the Italian troops fought with great courage and their officers set a noble example."

The correspondent says of the engagement of October 26: "Far from being a decisive victory the fight bearly ended in disaster and would have if the enemy had had a few thousand men at any point instead of a few hundred. The Italian line was broken in two places by less than 200 Arabs who had reached the cover of the residential oasis, thus placing themselves between the town and the line of defense. The situation was saved only by a gallant charge of 100 dismounted cavalry, who lost heavily but managed to kill off a majority of the storming party. Thirty Arabs held out for three days in the oasis and could not be disturbed until the building was blown up by mines. If they had been several thousand strong instead of 200 the Arabs would have had Tripoli at their mercy.

"General Caneva, the commander of the Italian forces, became so alarmed that he abandoned all the outer works southeast of the city, including the strong Turkish fort Mesti. The whole army worked feverishly, strengthening a new position with barbed wire entanglements, and were kept under arms during the nights. Reinforcements from Italy were dispatched so hurriedly that the 15th Italian regiment arrived in ordinary uniform, without their helmets. The Arabs have advanced their artillery and are shelling the Italians. One shell dropped into General Canava's headquarters. The foreign military attaches have been kept aboard a boat and not permitted to land, the explantion given being that it would be too dangerous for them to go ashore."

The Turks and Arabs, the correspondent says, hold the oasis, which is fifteen miles long and from tow to five miles deep, and where they can subsist on dates and olives until April, meantime harrassing the Italians by nightly raids. Every yard of the oasis forms a natural defense which must be fought for. There is no sign of any preparations on the part of the Italians to advance, and in conclusion the correspondent describes the spirits of the invading army as demoralizing. The men expected a short and sharp campaign. Instead they are lying in the trenches with sand storms blowing over or rains soaking through them, with continual night alarms. They are disgusted with the war and hate the country. They long to return home.

In the words of the Reuter correspondent: "The officers sigh for the pleasures of Rome, Milan and Turin; the millhand of San Francisco prays for a speedy return to the land of sunshine and high wages; and the lamp lighter from New York dreams of Tammany hall and his three dollars per day."

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."—Mrs. FRANK EMSLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

A VIOLATION OF THE ANTI-COMBINES ACT

OTTAWA, Nov. 6—Hon Mr. Crothers, Minister of Labor, has notified the Royal Commission to go ahead with the investigation of the charge of a violation of the Anti-Combine Act, made against the United Shoe Machinery Co., Quebec.

CHINESE REVOLUTION

the Manchu troops in the various southern towns. Huang Sing, the revolutionary leader in the Yang Tse Delta, arrived in the native city of Shankhai yesterday by motor car. Today he was engaged with other chiefs in a conference. Late last night the rebels succeeded in satisfying the officials of the Naking Shanghai railway that they were capable of preserving order and the foreign guard which had been placed at the railway station by order of the British consul was withdrawn, the revolytionaries taking possession.

The whole surroundings of Shanghai, including Wu Suang, are now in rebel hands. The serving out of arms continued today, but applicants were so numerous that the leaders were forced to make careful discrimination. They are also endeavoring to recover 5,000$ rifles which were seized by the crowds yesterday when the arsenal was captured. Three loyalist gunboats and one transport, part of Admiral Sah's fleet, put into Shanghai today for provisions and ammunition, ignorant of the fact that the arsenal had changed hands. They are now in the river, loyal for the time being, but the officers of the warships are nervous. Subscriptions are pouring in for the revolutionary cause, the Chinese chamber of commerce donoting several thousand dollars. A chinese lady, in contributing $500, wrote'

"This is the only way I can help the cause on which my heart is set. revolutionists maintain that no concession on the part of the throne will avail while the Manchus remain in power."

A meeting of the Kiang Su, Chinese Kiang and Fukier Gantry today stigmatized the national assembly as not representing the country. Revolutionary proclamations abolish the lakin and land tax and maritime customs only being retained.

Hung Chew, capital of the province of Che Kiang, was captured today, the governor being made prisoner, but the Tartar city held out against the rebels for a long time. The fighting was furious but did not last long.

Soo Ohod, in the province of Kiang Su, on the Grand Canal, has gone over to the rebels, the governor and all the officials, together with the soldiers, having acquiesced peacefully in the rising, while Kashing and Ning Pu also have fallen. The remainder of Admiral Sah's fleet has arrided at Wu Sung without ammunition and without provisions. Reports are numerous of the defection or the capture of various other Chinese cities, these including Wu Hu and Foo Chow. The imperial telegraph operators have gone on strike. They demand three months' pay in advance. It is reported that Yuan Shi Kai is at Hankow negotiating with General Lick, leader of the rebels, who is in a position to dictate terms. It is believed that the south will demand the retirement of the Manchu royalty with a pension, and will not be satisfied with less. The revolutionary leaders at Shanghai today express no fear that the imperialists would attempt to recapture the city. They said that the new government was fully competent to control the situation and protect foreign interests.

BEAVER FLOUR

"BEAVER FLOUR" is the unfailing friend of the housewife. It saves her the trouble of keeping two kinds of flour—one for bread and another for pastry. Being a perfect blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat, it gives to bread the rich, nutritious properties of the former and the lighter qualities of the latter, making a large white loaf of delicate texture and exquisite flavor.

Pastry, biscuits and cakes, made with BEAVER FLOUR cannot be excelled.

RUTH ST. DENIS AT B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE, BOSTON.

Ruth St. Denis, the world's greatest exponent of the torpsichorean art of the Hindus, comes to B. F. Keith's Theatre next week in a magnificent production of The Mystic Dance of The Five Senses. This is the most popular of the cycle of East Indian dances created by Miss St. Denis, in which she became the rage of London, Paris, Berlin, and New York. India and the Hindus have always possessed a strange fascination for Occidentals, but it remained for Miss St. Denis to draw aside the veil of mystery that has hitherto shrouded the religion and customs of this strange country, and bring the dreamy breezes and atmosphere of the Orient to the doors of everyday America. The East Indian dances as interpreted by Miss St. Denis do not represent the physical abandon so characteristic of the so-called "Oriental dances" common to variety stage, but depends considerably upon pantomime. Miss St. Denis served a long apprenticeship as a dancing girl under the management of David Belasco, and during this period she gained an intimate knowledge of light effects and stage management that has made her East Indian dances a delight to the eye, while the music, arranged by Walter Merwrowitz, and the burning of incense in the temple scene, take still other senses into captivity. At B. F. Keith's Theatre Miss St. Denis will be supported by a company of twenty five Cingalese, while the scenic equipment showing the innermost sanctuary of a Hindu temple, requires two big baggage cars for its transportation. The bill surrounding this splendid attraction is not yet complete but Harry Jolson, the blackface comedian and the Temple Four will be included.
