SOVIETS SEEK BRITISH SAFETY MATCH MARKET

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, Oct. 9—Soviet trading organizations in this country have been making persistent efforts during the past few months to establish a market for safety matches of Russian manufacture. The methods adopted to ensure sales are generally characterized by British match manufactures as unfair trading carried on for the purpose of obtaining British currency for the Soviet Government. "The sale of the matches is subsidized," declared one manufacturer, "and there is a direct loss on every transaction."

Other inquiries elicited the statement that the cost of production in Russia was 40 cents per gross boxes and that buyers obtained them in this country at 28 cents per gross. They are chiefly handled by small traders in the East End of London. The first sales to the public are stated to have been made in Scotland about the beginning of the year, but since then boxes bearing various labels, in some cases with the country of origin indistinctly marked, have been on sale chiefly in the poorer districts throughout Great Britain. The matches are sold to the retailer at prices ranging from 1.44 to 1.56 a gross, and sold to the customers at 14 to 15 cents a dozen boxes and frequently at 2 cents a box. In the mentioned case there is a profit of 100 per cent.

The marked decline in the sale of the Soviet match is ascribed to the British public becoming more alert and discriminating as to the country of origin of their purchases as well as to the quality of the goods. Numerous cases have occurred in which customers have returned boxes of matches supplied after discovering the country of origin.

"There are thousands of cases of Russian matches in bond in spite of the low prices and unfair trading methods," another British manufacturer remarked, "and the Soviet organizations are endeavoring to dispose of them to other countries.

GOLF CHAMPION IS NOW ANTIQUE DEALER

LONDON, Oct. 9—Miss Cecil Leitch, the celebrated golf champion, has become a director of a famous firm of dealers to the antiques in Bond Street. Miss Leitch admittedly makes no claim to the possession of a special knowledge of pictures or old furniture.

Discussing this lady's latest enterprise the Yorkshire Post remarks: "We have long become accustomed to tennis champions and film favorites wielding the pen that belongs by right to the journalist, and to heroines of causes celebres treading the boards of musical comedy or smilling pathetically from the screen. If business decides to make a businesslike use of these methods, it is not for the man in the street to campiain; the firm 'personality' may even help him to decide in which direction to pay his money, and to take his choice. He will only, if his pocket is likely to be involved, display perhaps some slight anxiety to discover exactly what position the new celebrity holds. Is he or she to be director, manager, secretary, salesman, or merely a dignified equivalent of the office-boy?"
