*"LAST ROUND-UP," AUTRY'S NEW FILM, TOP-NOTCH THRILLER

If you're looking for top-notch entertainment that packs a real punch, start burning "The Last Round-Up" for the Capitol Theatre, where Gene Autry and his famous horse, Champion, are starring in Columbia's "The Last Round-Up."

The picture, which was filmed by Gene's own production company, jammers through with blazing action, sparkling music, hilarious slapstick and tender, heart-warming drama. Everything about it is magnificently done on a lavish scale, making the film one of the most thoroughly enjoyable super-Westerns of the year.

The screenplay, which was prepared by Jack Townley and Eadie Snell, is a thrilling story of hardy and intrepid men, and the fury of yesterday's West. Essentially, the plot is concerned with a land problem where neighboring ranchers and Indians are being forced off their property to make room for a new aqueduct.

Gene, who portrays a rancher, gives of invaluable assistance to the town authorities and arranges a deal whereby everything is settled satisfactorily. However, a disgruntled land manipulator goads the Indians into a senseless attack upon the ranchers.

Reverting to type, the red-skins don their warpaint and armament to battle. Of course, Gene subdues the uprising and straightens matters out in the end, but before he does, the screen rounds to the fury of violent gunfights, thundering stampedes and a ferocious fist fight that tops anything ever seen on celluloid.

In addition to Autry, who never waxes better, the cast also includes Jean Heather, Ralph Morgan, Carol Thurston, Mark Daniels and the Texas Rangers.

When a picture of him and his girl, beautiful Rose Flambeau, entertainer at the Klondike Saloon, gets into newsworld. There's good reason for Clark to feel recognition, for in Washington, D. C. Major Geoffrey Barrett of the Alaska Division of Army Intelligence recognizes him as a former Army buddy, Captain Clark Thompson, supposedly killed in action on Attu during a reconnaissance mission. If he is still alive, what of the deaths of the other members of the mission?

Makes a Discovery
Jeff is assigned to bring him in for court martial. When Jeff discovers in Clark's cabin some samples of pitch blends ore and several translated Jap assay reports, many things become clear to him.

Jeff's hunt takes him on a long, dangerous chase by dog sled but he finally is able to bring Clark to justice.

William Wright portrays the scheming Tom Clark and Jonathan Hale and Gene Gary are seen in major supporting roles. The compelling drama was directed for associate-producer Stephen Auer by George Blair.

Messrs. William and Reginald Daly, St. Mary's Road, were visitors to Montague on Tuesday.

Mrs. Lorne Dunn, Gaspereaux, was a visitor to Montague on Friday, guest of Mary J. Steele.

Mr. J. McDonald, representative of Swift's market service, was a business visitor to Montague on Wednesday.

Mr. George Creed, lighthouse keeper at Falmure Island, was a visitor to Charlottetown during the past week.

*Her friends will be glad to hear that Mrs. John A. Webster, Cardigan, who underwent an operation in the King's County Hospital on Tuesday, is convalescing satisfactorily.

The many friends of Mrs. Jack Foxton are pleased to hear that she is much improved, and able to leave the hospital. At present she is convalescing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ham McLennan, Montague.

*AKETA C.G.I.T.—The Aketa C.G.I.T. of the Montague United Church held their meeting this week at the home of Mrs. Ben Weatherbe on Thursday evening. The group was taken to Mrs. Weatherbe's by horse and sleigh, the drive being greatly enjoyed by all. The meeting opened with the C.G.I.T. purpose and prayer, followed by the devotional period led by Hittie Mae Weatherbe, with scripture reading from Matthew 5, verses 3-11, by Lorraine MacLaren.

A very interesting story called "Meaner Things" was read. Hymns sung were "Take My Life And Let It Be" and "Day Is Dying in the West." The president then took over, and the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. Eight members answered the roll call. The business period followed with discussion regarding a social night when each girl will ask her mother. Parcels which the girls have received from friends will be sold at this social. Several other "Meaner" items were discussed. Following the adjournment of the business meeting, the leader read articles on Health Essentials under the headings of "Our Enjoyment of Life," "Health A Foundation of Happiness," "Practicing

John R. MacLean M.L.A. Criticizes Government

Mr. John R. MacLean, Souris, in speaking on the Budget Address Wednesday night said that as there was no discussion on the draft address this year, he congratulated Mr. Cullen on again occupying and filling so capably the office of Speaker, and joined in the regrets at the loss of prominent public men.

It seemed to be the custom of Governments to declare a surplus on ordinary account. As everyone knows this did not mean very much as all the people are concerned about is whether the Government is getting out of debt or going behind.

One can't get away from the fact that the Liberal Government has increased the liabilities of this Province to nearly 13 million dollars, and no matter how members of the Government twist the figures they cannot get away from the fact that the Liberals since 1935 have increased the liabilities from $5,221,746 to nearly $13 million, or two and a half times in that period.

He had heard ministers in this House say that they had so much revenue from a certain source. That it had enough money to pay for the cost of borrowing so much more money. But he felt the Government can't go on this way much longer. At present, people were taxed almost out of existence and there must come a lowering of taxes.

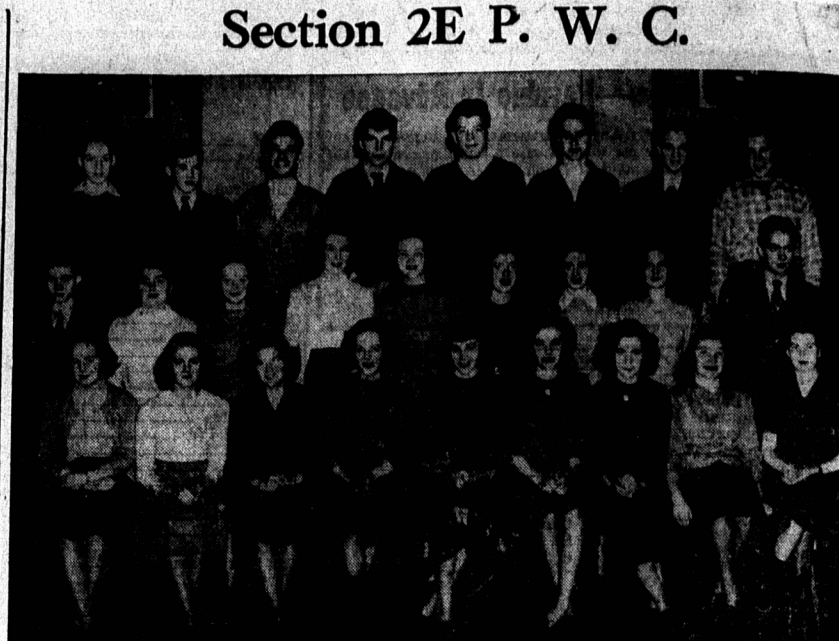

There must be a coming to a period when taxes will not be coming in as they are now. "We should have been paying off our debt during the last 10 years when other governments were doing this," Mr. MacLean said, "instead we have been going behind."

It must be remembered that this Province hasn't the natural resources that other provinces have, and expecting to pay off a huge debt is a different proposition with us.

Mr. MacLean noted that there was a change in the personnel of the Government and also additions in the number of deputies, new appointments being made all along the line. It had never been his fortune to be on the Government side of the House but he had a great interest in this sort of thing and could understand that it is difficult to make appointments which will please everybody. But one rule he noticed was followed as closely as possible, and it followed in business, that the natural resource division was made from a religious standpoint. It is perfectly obvious that this unwritten law had not been followed by this Government in making appointments.

This is not a happy situation, Mr. MacLean said, as there cannot be harmony and prosperity unless equal opportunity is given to all. Perhaps the department of most interest to the people of the rural districts is the Department of Public Works, said Mr. MacLean. The people are demanding more and better roads and he thought our whole economy depended a great deal on having them. He knew that the Minister had had many requests from people of his district and hoped he would do what he could for them.

He named a few roads which needed immediate attention. One was from Fortune Bridge to Little River with an additional branch road of a mile or so called the Pond Road. The trees were cut on the road this winter and he trusted it would be widened, surfaced and gravelled as early as possible. "Another road which needed immediate attention was the North Side Road, from the Elmira road to where work was stopped last year. That road had been in very bad con-

Health" and "Meaning of Health." The meeting next week will be held at the home of the leader, Mrs. Malcolm Patterson. Devotion will be led by Allene Beaton. The meeting was then adjourned. The hostess served a very delicious lunch, and a social half-hour was enjoyed by all.

Members of both the Montague and Souris detachments of the R.C.M. Police were in the County's capital, Tuesday on business.

Master Bobby Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hobbs of Charlottetown, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Stewart.

The many friends of Mr. Russell White will learn with regret of his serious illness and all are hoping his condition will improve sufficiently to enable his being taken to hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burke and young son of Charlottetown who were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gotell, left on Monday for Montreal, where they plan on taking up residence.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held in the Council Chambers on Monday the 14th. Mayor P. L. Boudreau presided and a full slate of councillors were present. The Council dealt with a great deal of routine and general business, which had accumulated during the month.

Mr. Harry MacConnell, who has been on the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Montague for the past year, has completed his annual vacation at his home here. On the completion of his holidays Mr. MacConnell took up his duties in the Charlottetown Branch of the Bank his transfer having come through while he was on vacation.

Baptized on Tuesday, March 15th at St. James Church by Rev. Father O. Kiggins were the twin baby boys of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Boudreau, Joseph Brian and Gerald Francis. The sponsors were, Mrs. Forden Gotell, Miss Hatlie Ratou, Mr. Joseph Gotell Jr., and Mr. Philip Boudreau.

On Tuesday volunteers travelled on foot and by horse and sleigh over the harbour ice to Lower Montague, there to engage in cutting lumber to be used in the erection of a new rink in Georgetown. The wood cutters, all members of the Community Welfare League, plan on continuing the operations until a considerable amount of lumber is taken out. It is then planned to have a portable sawing outfit enter the scene of operations to mill the lumber. If present plans, now under consideration, between the Town Council and the League, materialize, a new and modern rink will be erected this summer. A full scale co-operative effort, by all those genuinely interested in the general welfare of the town will assure the successful completion of this much needed building. It is so easy to criticize or to adopt a wait-and-see attitude; instead, let all back up the idea and prove that what other places have done can also be accomplished by Georgetown.

ment costs so much at present, and it was small comfort for him to learn that the Fishermen's Loan Board was in such bad shape. He noticed that the external auditors did not certify to the account. The Premier had stated that there was an amount outstanding of $200,000.00, a large part of which could not be collected. This was public money collected from the taxpayer and any blame attached to the mishandling of these funds must be placed on the Government who are responsible to the people. This board should have been of great benefit to fishermen and it was nothing short of disgraceful the way it has been mishandled.

He was in favor of the Workmen's Compensation Act as he believed it would be a good thing for the workman and also the employer, provided that sufficient revenue would be obtained and at not too high a rate. He was afraid, however, that the cost of administration would be high, and hoped it would not develop into a political affair.

Mothers' Allowances should also be a good thing in many cases for widows who are having a hard time getting along.

There was also a bill to incorporate Crown Companies of which he was rather leary, said Mr. MacLean. He noticed the directors were to be mostly Deputy Ministers. He thought this would be like jumping from the frying pan into the fire. While these men may be excellent Government employees are not necessarily good business men.

He did not approve of the Government being in business. It was not fair to private business and private enterprise was needed, as it was the real taxpayer.

The Government was now in the cold storage business; also in the liquor business and doing very well. He didn't know of any other business they were in now but would suggest they had enough to do in looking after what they already owned.
